VIGIL FOR REMEMBRANCE DAY

Saturday November 10

10.00 am - 4.00 pm

Lister Gate

ARMISTICE DAY

...THE WAR TO END WARS...TEN MILLION
KILLED...TWENTY-ONE MILLION WOUNDED..
SEVEN MILLION MISSING...

On Armistice Day the world looks back and remembers them. It looks back and remembers the sixty million who died in the second world war. But does it look forward to mourn the millions who will die in the next war?

For who will remember the dead from a nuclear war? Who will play the hymns? Who will march in time?
Who will lay the wreaths? Who will sell the poppies on the corner?

NO-ONE WILL REMEMBER.....

NO-ONE WILL BE LEFT TO REMEMBER!!
AFTER..THE WAR TO END ALL WARS!!!

We shall wear black - or other dark clothes - and stand in

SILENT VIGIL

outside St. Peter's Church to remind the Saturday crowds of the millions who would die in a nuclear war.

So... put on your best black and join the SILENT VIGIL for  $\frac{1}{2}$  an hour or more.

Neighbourhood groups have agreed to be present at the following times:

10 - 11	Mapperley; Beeston; Wollaton; Stapleford.
11 am	Christian CND Act of Penitence.
11 - 12	Aspley; Carlton; Eastwood; Arnold/Woodthorpe.
12 - 1	City Centre; Bestwood & District; Basford.
1 - 2	Trent Poly; Forest Fields; Clifton.
2 - 3	West Bridgford; Sherwood; Radcliffe.
3 - 4	Sneinton; Lenton; St Anns; Bulwell.

Everyone is, of course, welcome to join in at any time. PLEASE COME.

A specimen wreath will be on display at the office for anyone wanting guidance in making one. Please let us have your wreath as early in the day as possible - or leave it at the office in advance - so that we can have the maximum display all day.

At 11.00 am there will be an ACT OF
PENITENCE arranged by CHRISTIAN CND

Neighbourhood groups are bringing wreaths of white poppies to hang on the wall as the centre piece to our demonstration. After the vigil, some groups will take their wreaths to their local war memorials; the remainder will go to the Victoria
Embankment memorial.

More Bunker Madness

One of the many preparations made for nuclear war is the Royal Observer Core Network of monitoring bunkers.

In October several members of NCND spent an interesting day 'bunker hunting.' Armed with map references we found three of the six bunkers which lie within easy reach of Nottingham.

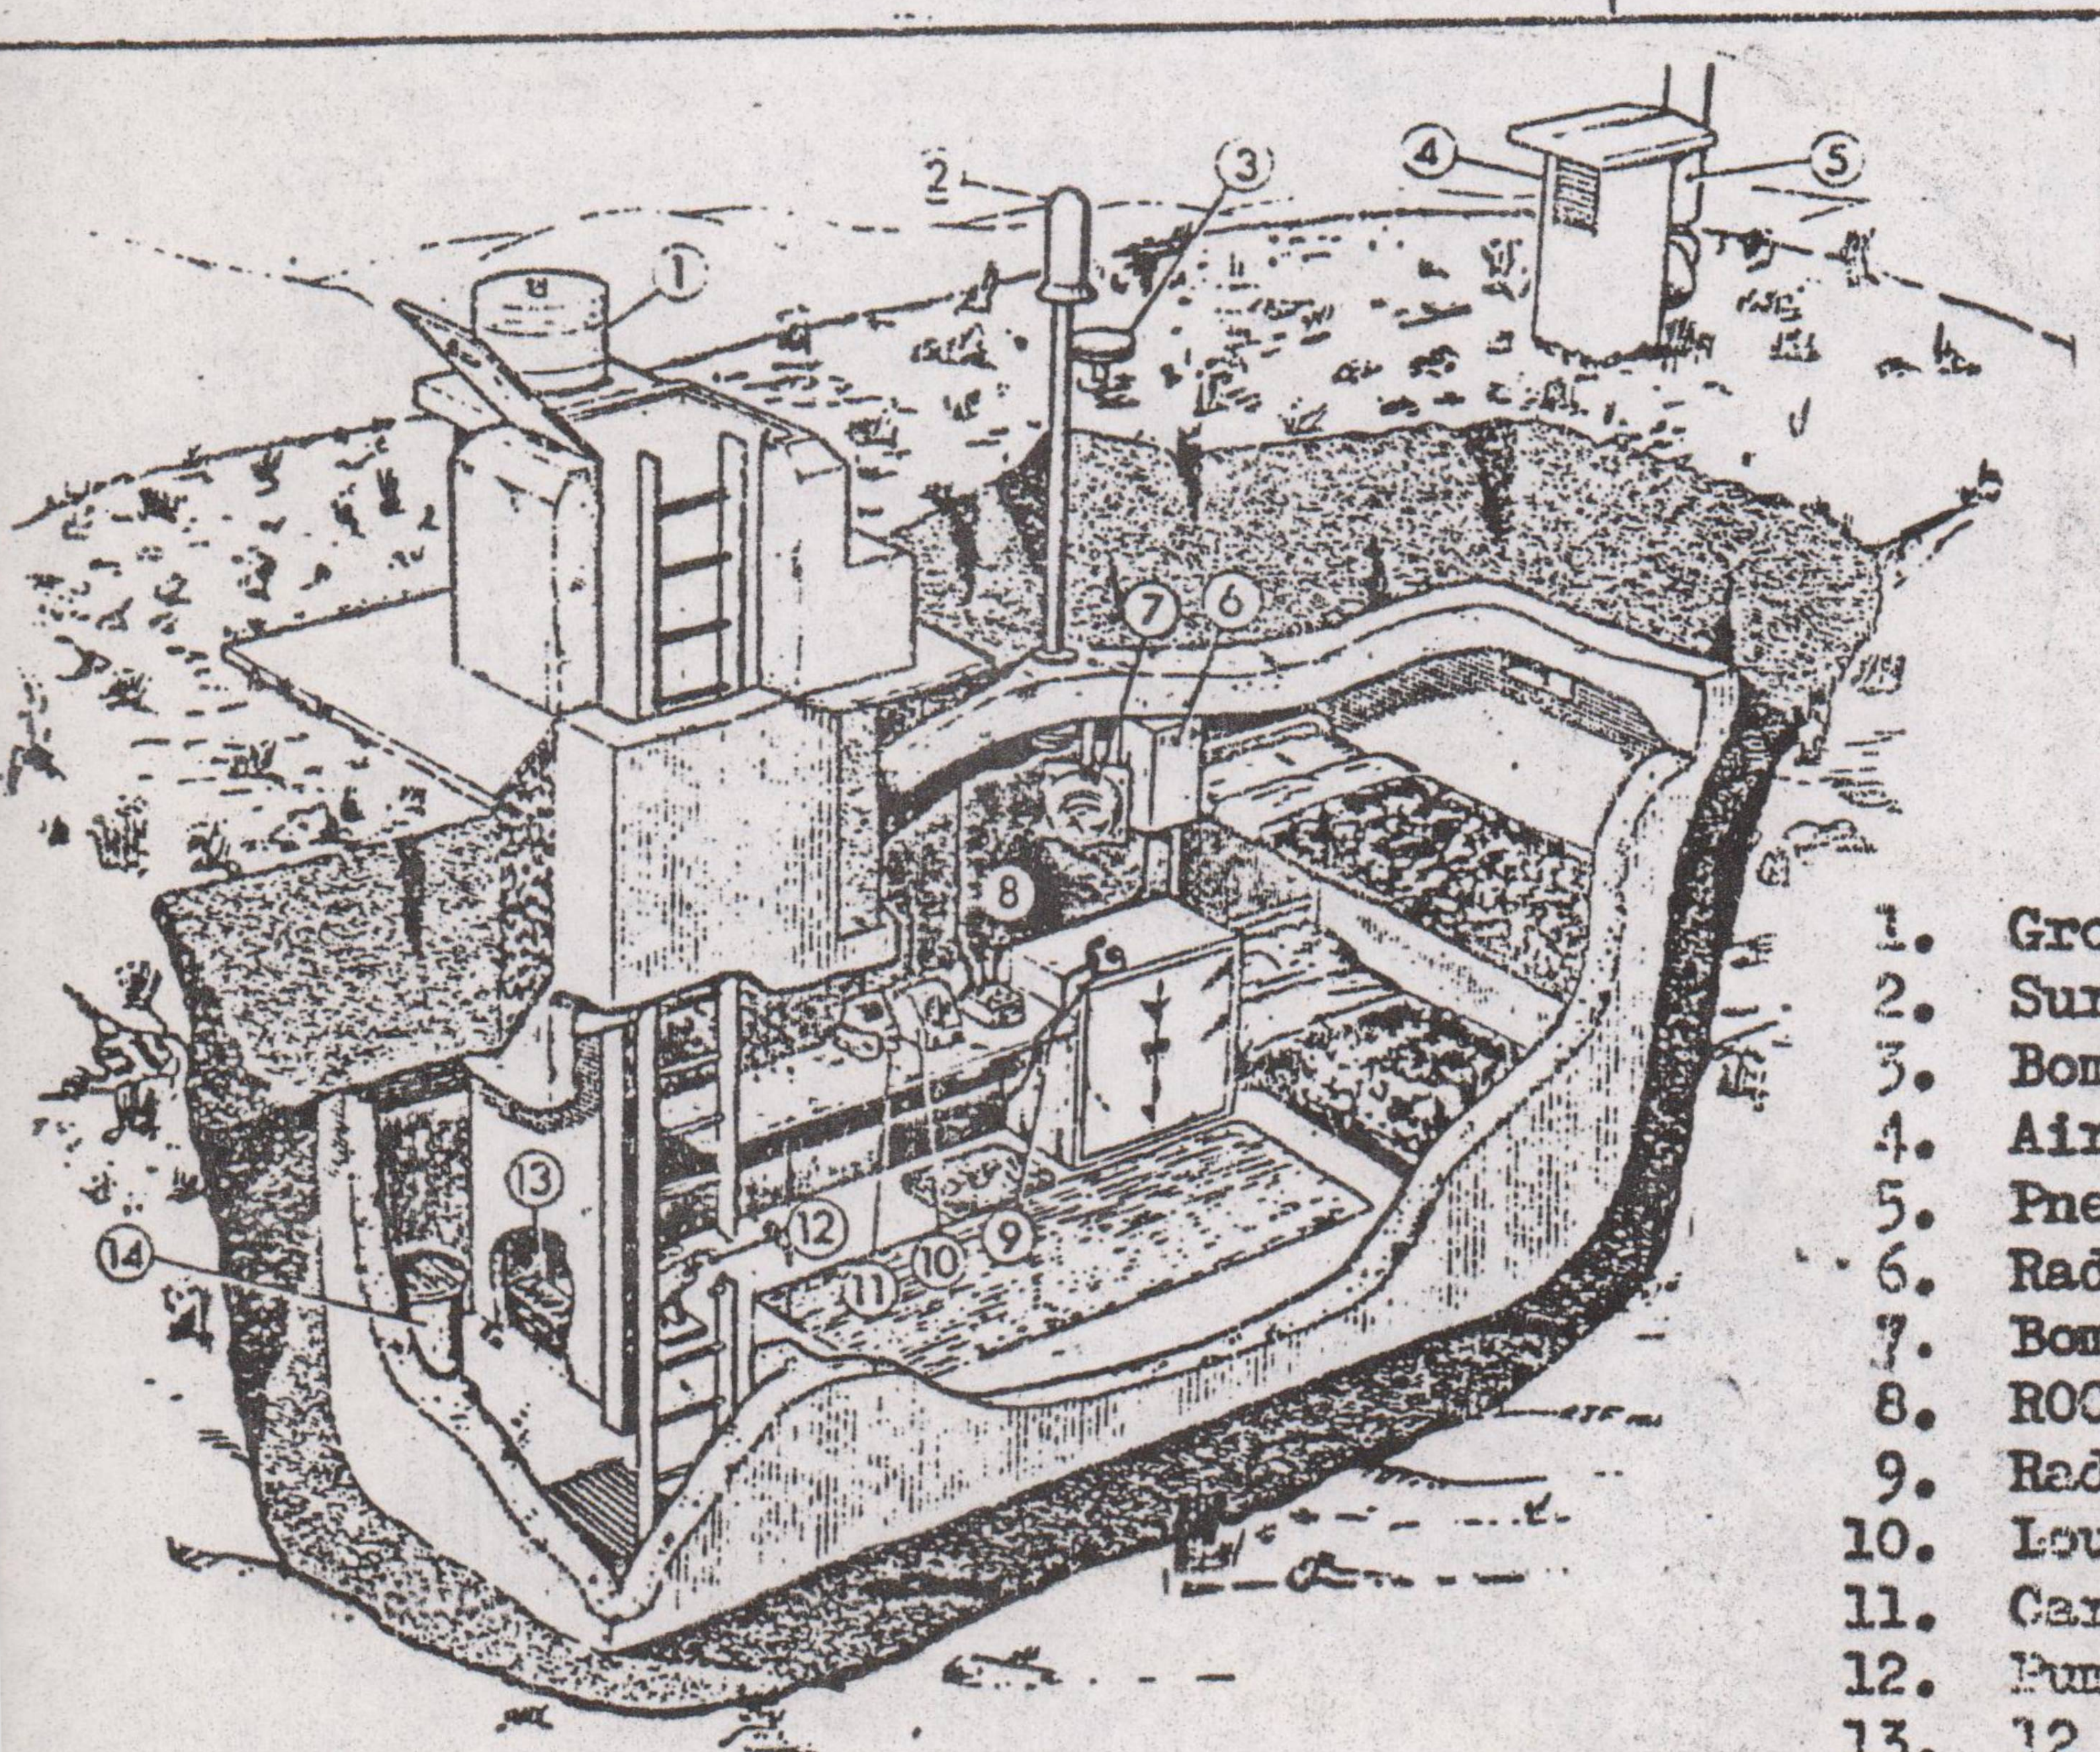

It was strange to stand on the small mounds of earth, discretely tucked behind neat hedges complete with neat wooden gates, knowing that underneath was a room where up to four men would be expected to spend a week monitoring the effects of a nuclear war - horrifying to think that during that claustrophobic week millions of those unfortunate enough not to have a tidy bunker would have died.

There are 870 R.O.C. bunkers forming a network over the country. Using sensory devices, they feed information about nuclear bomb bursts and radiation fall-out to group controls (Nottingham bunkers report to Fiskerton in Lincoln) which in turn reports to one of five sector controls that keep the government and NATO authorities informed of attack details.

At one level the information is supposed to be of use in helping the civilian populations to survive - (a dubious proposition). On another, they are there to assist NATO to continue fighting either conventionally or otherwise in a nuclear war by informing military commanders which airfields, ports and communication links are still open.

To a military mind it may make sense; to anyone who is simply going to be a nuclear victim it is obscene.

WHEN CRUISE IS LOOSE

A number of neighbourhood groups have plans ready for emergency local action next time the launchers leave Greenham.

Co-ordinating meeting felt that activities in many different localities would constitute a more effective protest than a central demonstration. The 5.00 pm at the Square arrangement is therefore cancelled for the time being.

CIVIL DEFENCE AND NUCLEAR WAR -

A one day Conference to examine the issues. Saturday, 13th October.
County Offices, Matlock.

After opening remarks from Derbyshire County Council leader, David Bookbinder the Conference began with a presentation by Air Marshall Sir Leslie Mavor, president of the Association of Civil Defence and Emergency Planning Officers, on the case for Civil Defence. His address was eloquently presented but its persuasive qualities were both simplistic and general and were quickly dispelled by the next two speakers Owen Greene and Dr. David Caplin, from SANA, whose factual approach illustrated to all assembled the insignificance of Civil Defence. After a short question and answer session, Owen Greene gave a brief description of the Nuclear Winter and its catastrophic effect on Human, Animal and Plant life around the Globe.

The afternoon session began with a superb presentation by Duncan Campbell. His speech, exposing the truth behind the Government's War planning was both informative and frightening. He quoted at length from classified documentation concerning Civil Defence, highlighting the sinister consequences for us all of secret Government planning for Nuclear War. Duncan described in graphic detail the inconsistencies between what the public are told and what is discussed in Whitehall.

Mr. Eric Alley, President of the Institute of Civil Defence, had the unenviable task of following Duncan Campbell. He spoke on 'Civil Defence Planning for the People,' giving the overall impression that Civil Defence was merely a token gesture to the public.

A short film was shown which underlined the paternalistic attitude to CD planning. Made with the co-operation of Gwent Council, it purported to show how 'sensible' CD could offer a degree of protection in the 'unlikely' event of a nuclear exchange involving this country. What the film actually did, was, by showing a representation of a nuclear strike, burning buildings, etc., and concerned Council faces in their bunkers, strengthen the argument against Civil Defence, not for it.

After tea, a tripartite platform consisting of representatives from NUPE (Rodney Bickerstaffe), Fire Brigades Union (Ken Cameron) and MCANW (our own Nick Armstrong) gave short speeches explaining their respective organisations' attitude to CD planning. Another question and answer session produced many enquiries of Sir Leslie Mavor. He did his best to uphold the Civil Defence argument but was always on the wane, finally resorting to criticism of the humorous tone of some speakers. The conference closed with a lighthearted and optimistic look at the role of Local Authorities and Peace organisations in Civil Defence planning by members of Derby Playhouse Studio Theatre Group. This came as welcome relief for the conference - seven hours is a long time to think seriously about the nuclear holocaust without going spare! I was left feeling very tired but uplifted by the thought that, once again, we are not alone and that, in the end - WE WILL WIN.

Nottingham Peace Conference

Plans are now under way for an ambitious Nottingham Peace Conference in the Spring to be called by all the Peace Organisations in the city under the auspices of the Freeze Council. Delegates will be invited from as wide a range of organisations as possible including churches, community and ethnic groups, trade union and professional organisations, etc.

The Conference itself will take the form of a one day session with a variety of speakers, as well as some sort of big name entertainment. However, the actual Conference is neither the beginning nor the end of the matter!

One of the main aims is to raise the question of Peace as widely as possible in the community, particularly in organisations which would not normally consider the issue as being particularly relevant to them. Consequently, the Conference will partly be used as a launching pad for a number of 'spin-off' conferences held by affinity groups such as churches, scientists, medics, trade unions, community organisations etc. to discuss the issue as it affects them and, hopefully, the contribution they can make to preserving Peace.

Another important aim will be to establish international links between Nottingham and all the twin cities specifically on the issue of Peace.

We are aiming to publish a Peace Charter signed by the Peace Movements in Nottingham (England), Minsk (USSR), Karlsruhe (West Germany), Ljubana (Yugoslavia) and Nottingham (Pennsylvania, USA). The Peace Movements in all these cities will also be invited to send a representative or a message to the Conference.

More information later. In the meantime, any suggestions about organisations to invite, ideas for 'spin-off' conferences, or general offers of help will be very welcome.

PRAVDA

Dear Members,

Some time ago we circulated a discussion document to the Neighbourhood groups entitled 'Time for a Change.'

Although as we pointed out, NCND has much to be proud of, we made two criticisms:

1. That we are not always as efficient as we could be, and
2. that we don't involve enough of our members in the campaign work.

We believe that these two criticisms are linked and that NCND would be more effective if we had a greater amount of membership involvement.

The usual response to this kind of criticism is that "things are always like that." We do not believe that it has to be.

We proposed, as a basis for discussion that some changes are made to the structure of NCND. That working groups be set up to cover all aspects of the campaign (as already exists for some areas).

They should meet regularly, the meetings should be publicised in the Bulletin. They would on the one hand respond to the needs and requirements of the membership and on the other hand provide initiatives and ideas for that membership.

An executive member should be responsible for one group, making sure it is functioning healthily and going out to the Neighbourhood groups to explain what the group does and what help it needs. With one executive member involved in each working group an overall picture of the campaign would be available.

We believe that everyone in NCND has something to offer, we hope that these working groups will make it easier for those skills and talents to be used in the campaign.

We hope that the proposals will be discussed at every level in NCND, because we believe that the criticisms we have raised will not simply be solved by changes in structure, but also by changes in how we think. If we believe we can change, then we are more likely to act for change. And when we act, the change will come.

YOU COULD TRAIN/FACILITATE PEOPLE IN NON-VIOLENT DIRECT ACTION

The Peace Action Network will be setting up a series of "training workshops" for those who feel uncomfortable about NVDA. We'll be looking at all aspects of direct action from blockades and occupations to using the media and doing legal support. But we cannot do any of this without facilitators. People are needed who would like to facilitate people in the subjects mentioned above and more. We have organised a "Trainers' Training Day" at 10.30 am on Sunday 18th November at the Queens Walk Community Centre, Meadows.

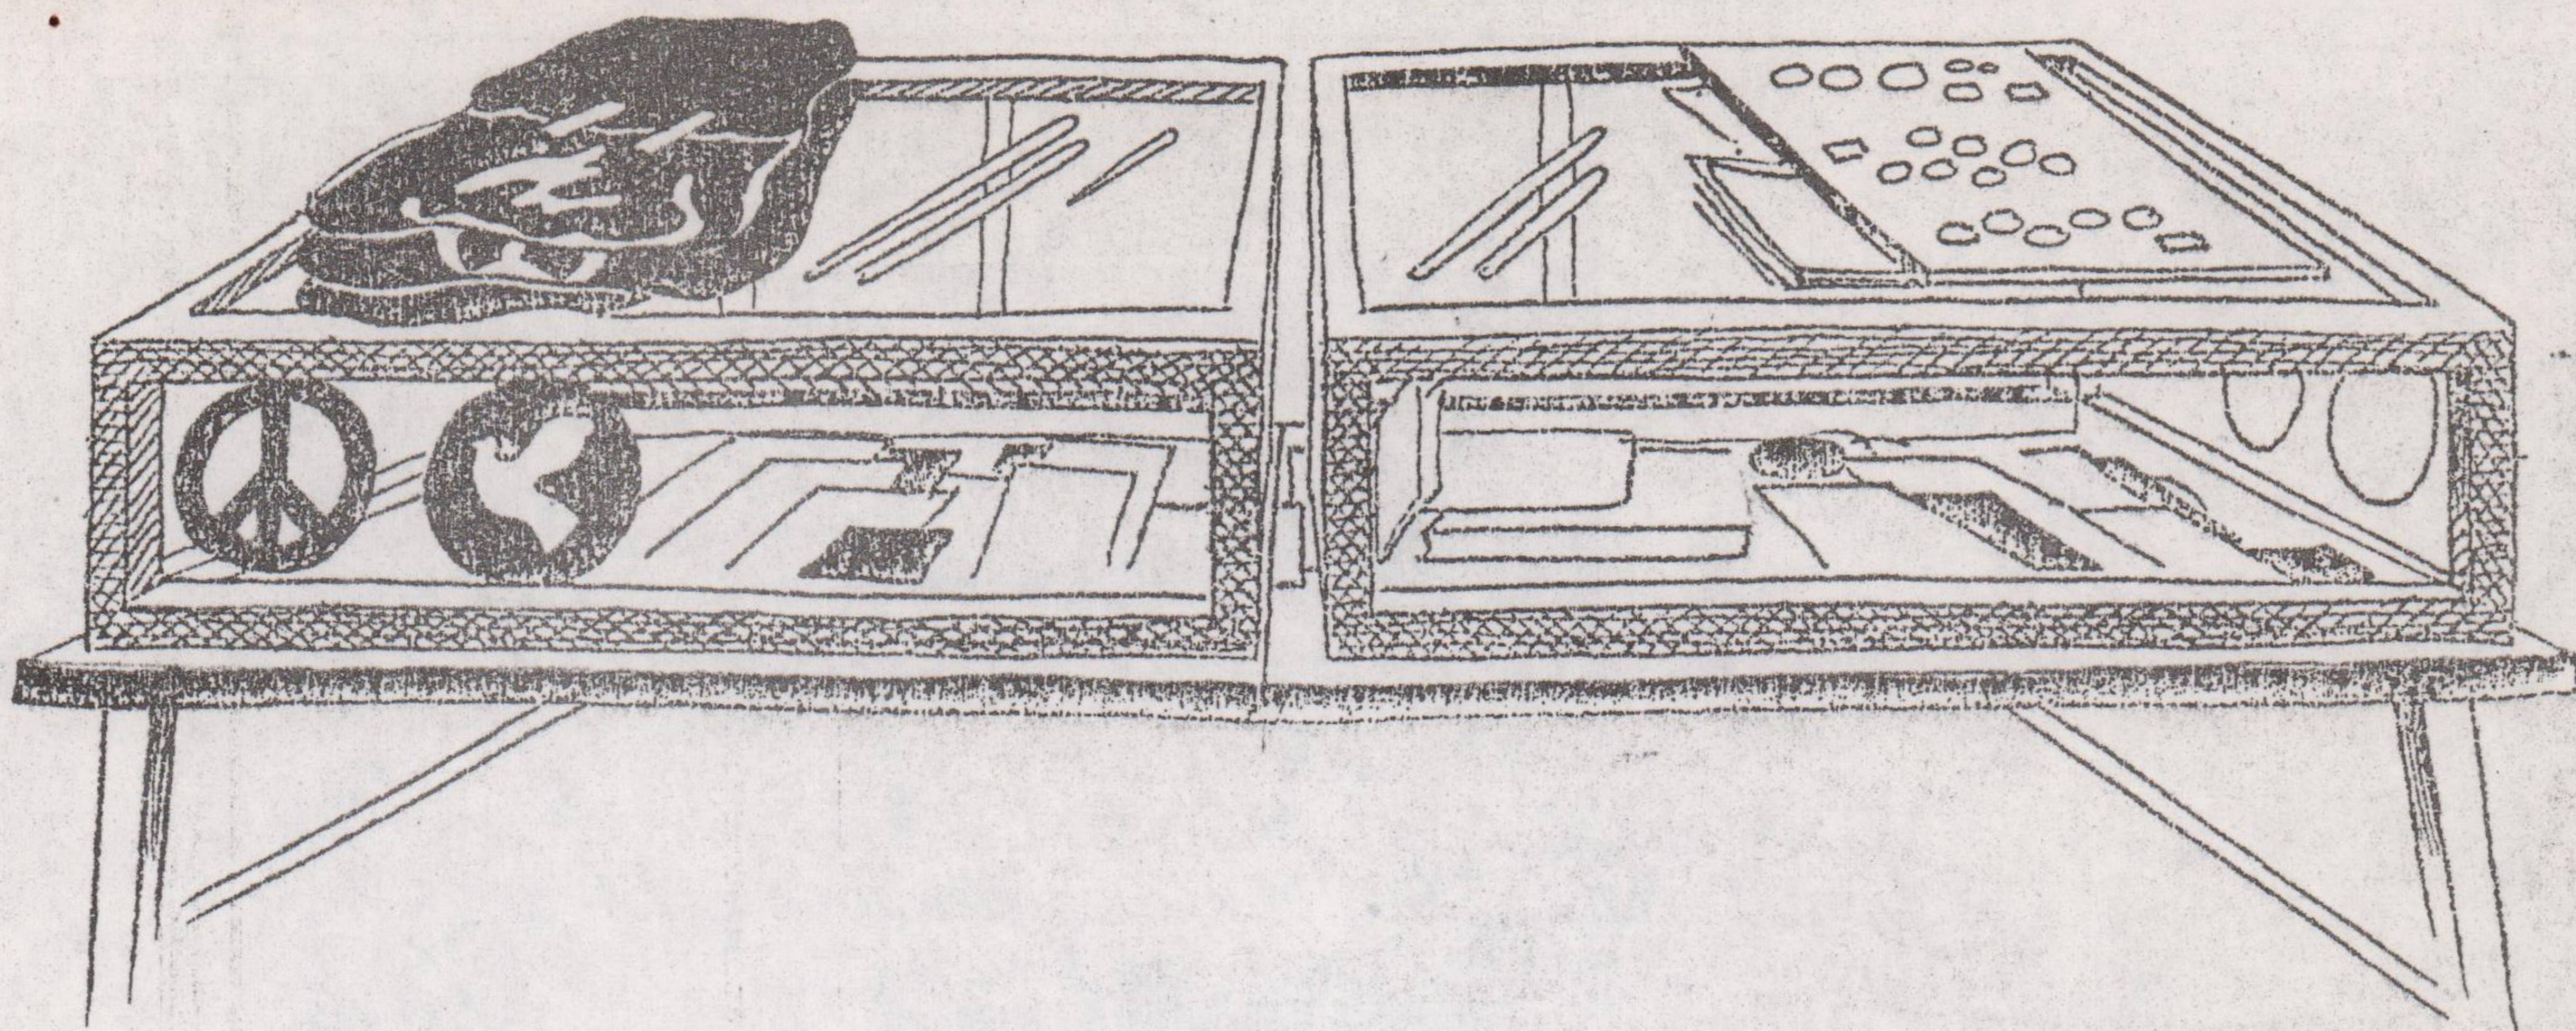

Please come. NVDA needs you!

CHRISTMAS 1984

Peace on Earth
Goodwill to all nations

NCND will be running a special Xmas stall in Listergate during the week before Xmas. - Tuesday 18th December to Saturday 22nd December with a special late-night shoppers' session on Wednesday 19th December.

There will be a Christmas tree with special CND decorations and Christmas greetings in many languages. We shall be giving out a special Christmas card leaflet.

Please VOLUNTEER to be on the stall now. (Ring the office) We are going to need a lot of people. Arrangements will be finalized at the next co-ordinating meeting.

HELPERS are still badly needed at NCND office.

As well as general help we are in need of:-

1. A stock organiser

i.e. someone to take on responsibility for stock (literature, badges, cards, etc., etc.) after Penny Griggs has to give up in December. The job involves checking supplies, ordering and generally monitoring progress.

2. An assistant to the treasurer

LEARN TO PRINT

Two printing training sessions have been arranged at 118 Mansfield Road on 14th and 15th November.

If you would like to join a later training session, please contact Jack Rotherham via NCND office. We badly need more printers to produce the Bulletin and other material.

TOO EMBARRASSED TO SING?

Are you one of those people who mimes the words of Peace Songs at demos and Folk Events because you are too embarrassed to sing in public? Perhaps you sing vaguely in tune but give up when you forget the words or discover - to your horror - that yours is the only voice that can be heard? Or maybe you only ever sing in private?

If the answer to any of these questions was "yes" then you are not alone. There are others in your neighbourhood group who feel like you. Why not get together and discuss your lack of musical ability and then make a positive effort to do something about it? Simply contact the Music Group and book them for one of your meetings. You will not regret it. The Carlton/Gedling group most certainly did not!

You do not have to sing along with them ... though you may find yourself doing so afterwards.

When a song is "caught in your head" and no-one else is around, this is the natural thing to do. Then, it does not matter if you can not sing in tune. It does not matter if the words are wrong. What matters is that you believe in the message behind the "SONG FOR PEACE." You sing about what you feel, be it Love, Peace, Hope, Anger, Defiance or Strength. Why not remember this next time you start telling everyone what a bad singer you are?

BUSKERS FOR DEFENCE & AID FUND

A call is going out to all Nottingham CND's singers and musicians to take part in the first of a series of "Buskers' days" in the city on Saturday, 24th November to help raise money for the Defence & Aid fund.

The idea is that the various groups of musicians who regularly play together will set up in different subways, walkways etc. Any one not already part of a group need only bring their instrument or just their voice to the 'rendezvous' at 11.30 am or 3.00 pm at the stall in Listergate.

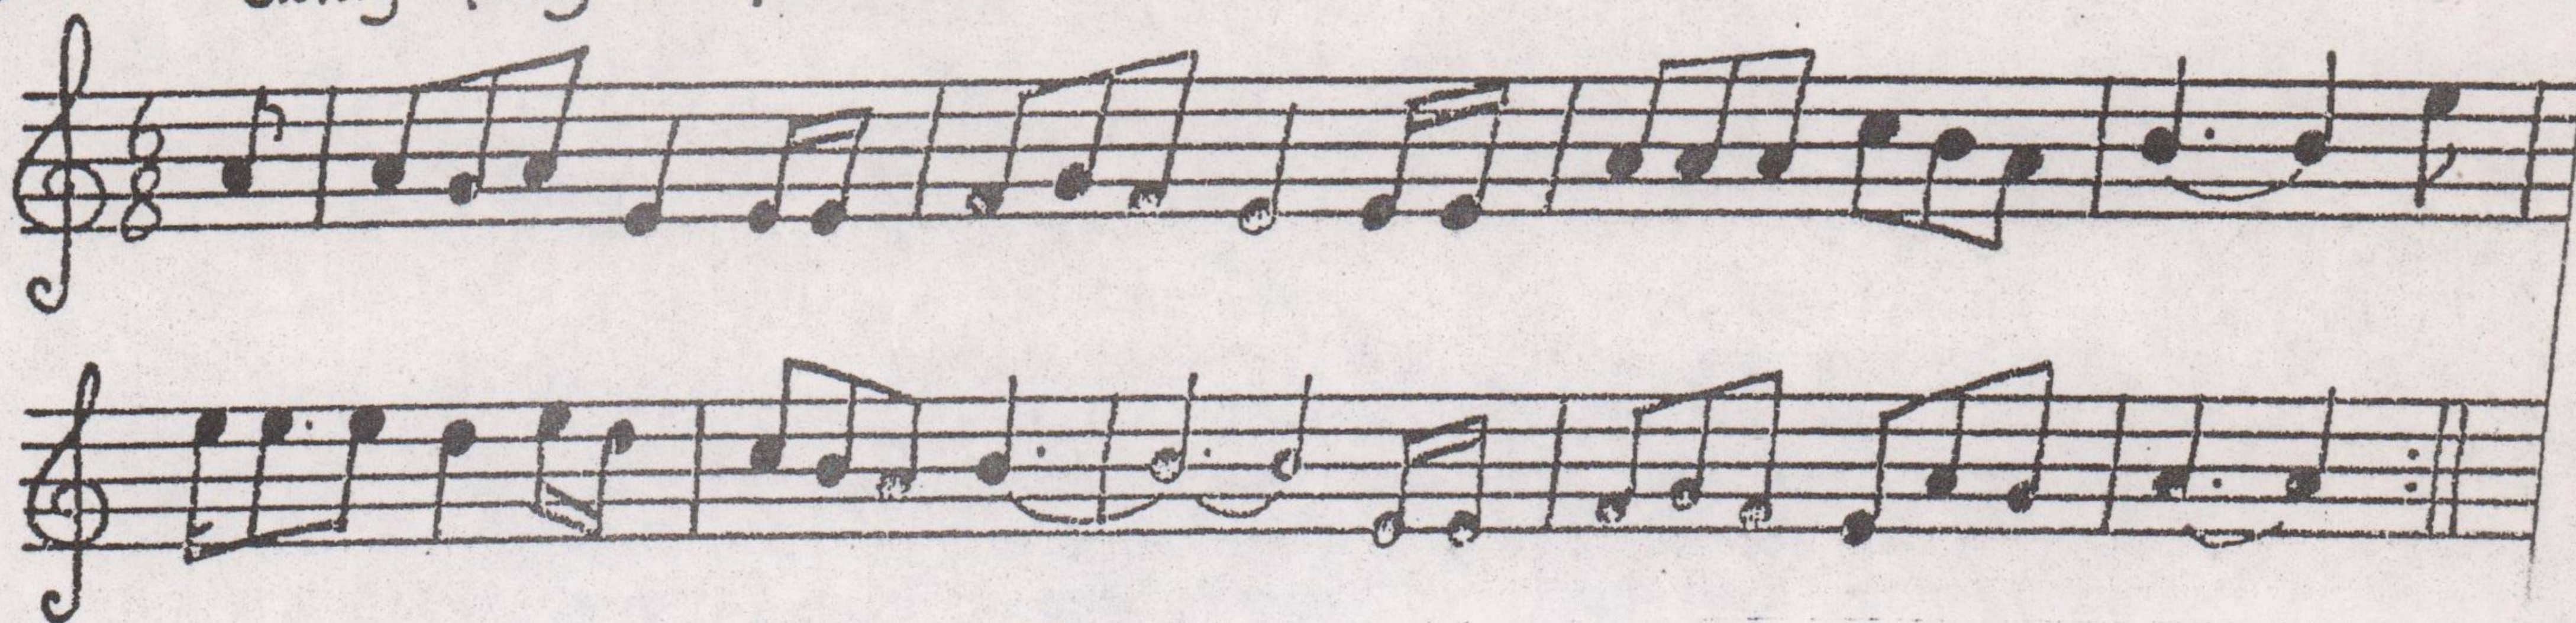

Songsheets will be available (or bring your own) with a simple sign to indicate why you are busking. If you want to practise some tunes beforehand ring Rob Wilson (415667). If not, just turn up ready to join in or 'do your own thing'.

VERSE

Slowly (Rhythm flexible.)

CHORUS

Just picture the scene in old Nottingham town
On a typical day in July,
The pigeons are there in the Old Market Square,
And the temperatures still far too high.

The castle is sitting up there on its rock,
The pubs are packed out down below,
There's hundreds of tourists all milling about,
Robin Hood is stood holding his bow.

Well, imagine the scene, and imagine the town,
And imagine the people you're with,
When, suddenly, out of the blue you are told
That you've only four minutes to live.

Where will you go to and what will you do
In the four minutes left you to share?
All you can do now is panic and wait,
And hope that your god hears your prayer.

No time to find all your family and friends,
No time to go running back home.
The kids are at school, so you've no choice - but you'll
Have to leave them to die on their own.

Soon there'll be nothing much left of the town
Where you lived and you worked and you grew;
Aspley and Sherwood will soon be ablaze
As will Colwick and Mapperley too.

Where will you go to and what will you do
In the three minutes left you to share?
All you can do now is panic and wait
And hope that your god hears your prayer.

P.T.O.

From the Meadows to Lenton, from Radford to Sneinton
Is just a big hole in the ground,
And from Eastwood and Kimberley all you can see
Is a massive great mushrooming cloud.

Firestorms are raging in Beeston and Basford
In Chilwell and Arnold as well,
While over the Trent in West Bridgford, the scenes
Would be far more fitting in hell.

Where will you go to and what will you do
In the two minutes left you to share?
All you can do now is panic and wait,
And hope that your god hears your prayer.

Our leaders are sheltered in underground bunkers,
For all that their bunkers are worth,
For while civilisation is smashed to a pulp,
The vermin inherit the earth.

In Hucknall and Heanor and Radcliffe on Trent,
The dust and the firestorms will blow,
And I don't want to cause undue alarm or concern-
But there's only one minute to go!

Where will you go to and what will you do
In the one minute left you to share?
All you can do now is panic and wait,
And hope that your god hears your prayer.

Well, this nuclear warning was just a bad dream
And you will live to face a new day,
But don't close your eyes to the danger you're in
Till it's only four minutes away.

This four minute warning was just a bad dream
And you will live to face a new day,
But don't close your eyes to the danger you're in
Till it's only four minutes away.

CITY CENTRE GROUP RAISES ITS LEVEL OF PROTEST!!

Yes, the famous City Centre group banners are being taken from street level to the dizzy heights of the Victoria Centre. Next time Cruise comes out the message "Take a Cruise to the USA" and "No Entry for Cruise" will be emblazoned across the front of the Victoria Centre, several floors above the Army Careers Office. We are also asking all our members in the flats to put huge posters in their windows which should be seen in St Anns.

"Remember why it was done, don't feel sorry for the Japs"

"This is fantastic, it beats me why people want to blow each other up."
(Schoolgirl)

"This exhibition demonstrates the difference between old and new 'defence' and shows the necessity of removing the threat of mindless destruction of life."

"I would never like this to happen to us and it never will. Support CND because I do." (Louise, 10, Hyson Green.)

The above quotations are taken from comments which people wrote after seeing the Hiroshima exhibition in the Library foyer during August.

CND CHRISTMAS CARDS

Once again National CND have issued a range of Christmas cards carrying a Peace message. Supplies of cards and CND wrapping paper have been ordered and will be available shortly from the office.

RESOLUTION FOR ACM

That NCND arrange an exchange, by August 1986, of delegations with the Minsk Peace Committee, and urgently explore the possibility of a similar exchange with a town in the USA.

Proposer: Rhoda Tarbuck (Bulwell)
Seconder: Pat Robson.

The group bought the exhibition from the Japanese Peace Movement (Gensuikyo) and it consists of 34 photographs showing the aftermath of the bomb dropping on Hiroshima as well as drawings by some of the victims and some factual information (in English).

It was recently used in a video made for the Diocese of Southwell by the New Cinema Workshop and is already booked for a number of events. Anyone wishing to use the exhibition should contact Rob Wilson (415667). We are not charging a set fee, but a donation towards the cost would be most welcome.

Finally, our next project is to produce a video about media bias against the Peace movement. If anyone comes across any relevant material or examples please let us know.

by Marjorie Brown

The more knowledge members of CND have of human nature and what motivates people, the more likely they are to speak the same language as the many people who still have to be converted to the Peace Movement.

The first reaction of people in a time of great social change like ours is one of fear. People cannot make sense of their experience. The present Government has increased the climate of fear by adding the fear of unemployment and of police brutality. It is almost impossible in any circumstances to get people to accept truths which they do not like. Thus it is impossible to get the Peace Movement to accept the fact that 20% of all people who now have a vote are over 65 and more likely to be afraid of further social change and also afraid of what the Media tells them to be afraid of, mugging and rising crime. Sadly their own experience and the Media confirms their fears. They see anything vaguely left wing as likely to lead to further unpalatable social change. Very soon Mrs Thatcher's Government will persuade them that the Right holds more unpalatable change for them than the Left!

The extent to which people are unwilling to accept painful things is very well illustrated by the mechanism of projection. This shifts the pain of disagreeable feelings. We blame our bad feelings onto other people and thus we do not need to own them as our own.

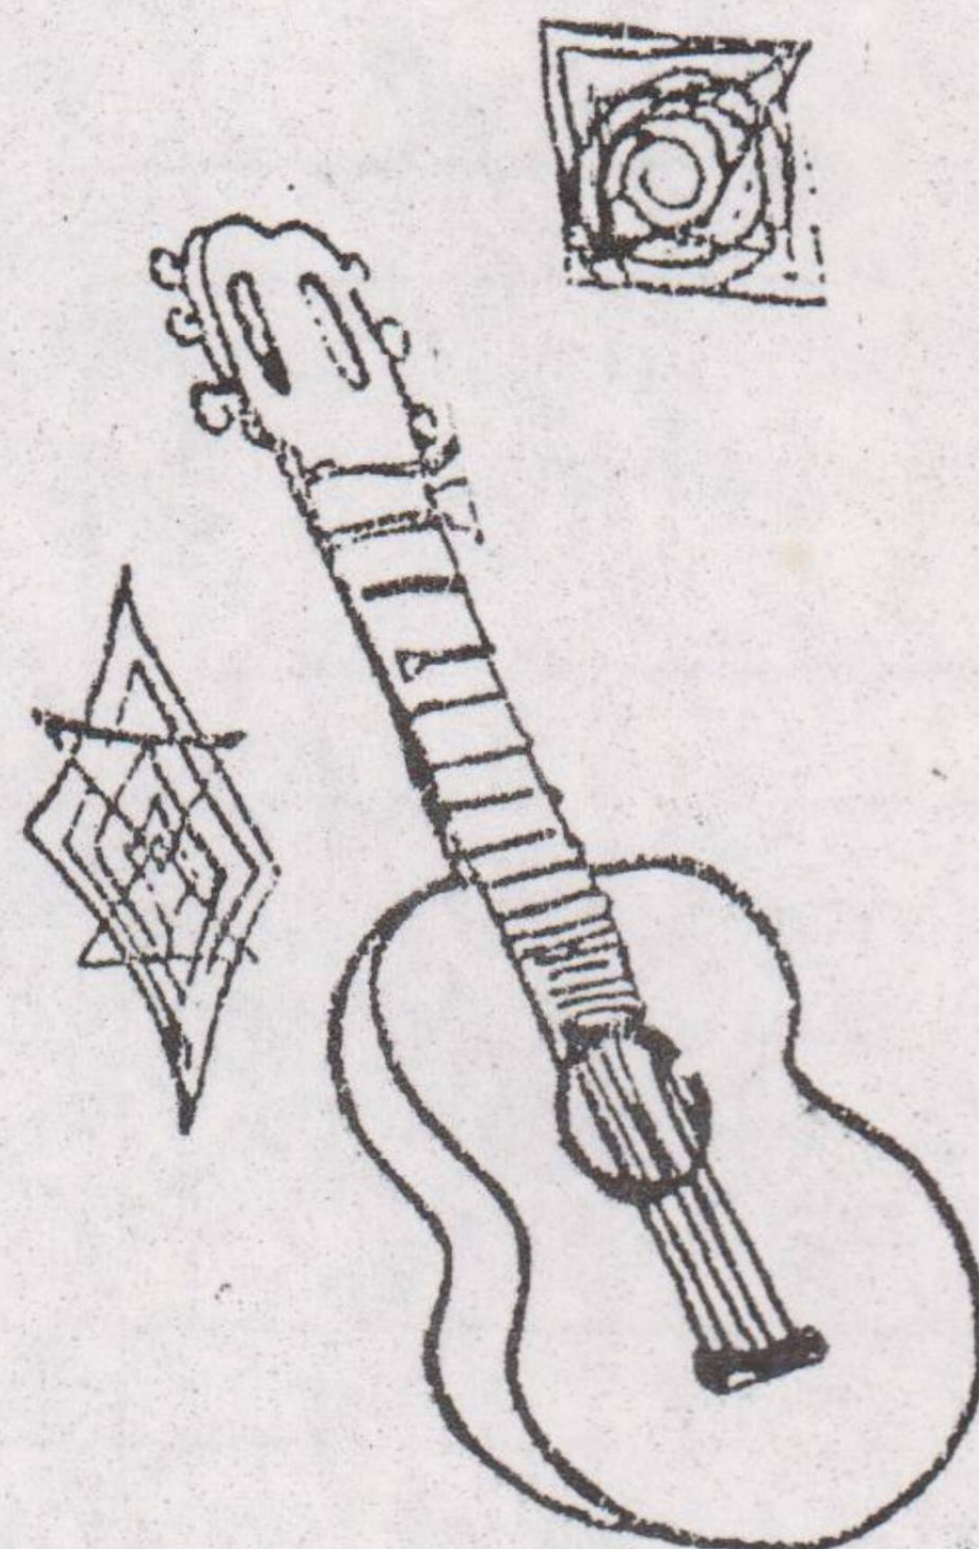

Scenes of violence on TV always attract a larger audience than scenes of peace and tranquility, because people can project out their own aggression, it being less painful than to come to terms with our own aggressive feelings. Thus you will find the most mild mannered people speaking with relish of birchings and capital punishment. Of course being in favour of such negative attitudes is not the monopoly of the less aggressive.

There is, of course, an infinite gradation in peoples attitudes. For example, many people who cannot own their own aggressive feelings still, thank goodness, reject the kind of brutality displayed by a mounted policeman charging a woman at Orgreave.

Being a woman I cannot say if men are more likely than women to disown aggressive feelings.

Next time someone mentions the Russians as a good reason for not supporting our disarmament policy, just use your knowledge of Projection to see how people are projecting out their feelings onto not just another person, but a whole nation.
