DAMN SPOT

ATTER-DAY LADY MACBETHS ARE AT WORK IN GLASGOW'S

As Glasgow crumbles all around them, the Labour Council responds by washing their hands... and sandblasting their Picture Postcard Palace in George Square.

Their favourite Contractor, Lafferty the Builder, makes a quick few thousand out of the deal.

OTHING IN THE HISTORY of Socialism remotely approaches the UCS work-in of 1970. And last night Jimmy Reid, the man who rescued a capitalist enterprise by the simple expedient of getting the workers to work for next to nothing, recalled the heady days of revolt.

Just like Bureaucrats the world over, the Councillors are more concerned with their image than with anyone else's reality.

This public image exercise is reflected in the Council's pathetic 'PRIDE OF THE CLYDE' campaign where the whole world is sold the idea of a Clydeside workforce which is tame, lame and 'plays the game'.

But for Glasgow's Councillors, the name of the game is Self Interest. And while they are sandblasting their castles in the air, all we get is 'Pie in the Sky'...

In an exclusive interview for PRACTICAL ANARCHY Reid, now a broken man, spoke with quiet dignity of the idealism which put him where he is. "Nearly everything they print about me is lies," he wailed, "I was always a Stalinist".

ANARCHIST NEWSHEI

Quizzed about the new Glasgow Herald school of socialists, Reid, nervously fingering a tube of air fix explained:

"No government can get away with it for long unless they can make a pretence of being socially useful. It can't impose respect for hierarchies unless, at the same time, it pretends to be the guardian of the rights of the nobodies.

"Our job in the newspapers is maintain that pretence. We have to make government appear humane and enlightened. Of course you need certain credentials to do this job. It is better if you're from a working-class background and are a card-carrying member of the Labour Party. That way you can attack real socialism without appearing to be on the side of the oppressors. "It's really quite simple. We're bought men, every one of us".

THE INSIDE STORY OF A HACK that than I can possibly admit to. Another major influence was Peregrine Worsthorne who took a great fancy to me when he visited here. We dined at all the posh restaurants.

"He said that when he looked at me he saw precisely the road Scottish socialism would take, and the prospect, far from alarming him, was a positive delight." PROCLAMATION OF FAITH

At one point Heraghty's Epsiloms cheered and threw sawdust into the air as Reid, his head resting on the table, opened one eye and proclaimed his faith in "the socialism of our fathersabout which" he added, "I know absolutely nothing, and care even less."

Overturning slop pails and sputum jars Reid flung bimself towards the toilet shouting: "I'm as scared of the proles as you are!" He was assisted to the street by Herald colleague Mordecai, the dapper, quiphappy Squire of Lochgelly. Both men were later taken into custody. In an astonishing court outburst Reid yelled: "I have been called disgusting... revolting... a fraud ... a fakir... this horrible reptile. And yes, it's all true But what about the others? What about Andy Cameron? Connelly? Ruth Wypart? Gerry Fitt? Jock Stein? I WON'T BE THE FALL GUY!"

SOILED

In the dreary and dismal recesses of Heraghty's Tavern, Reid, lean, shabby, soiled, went on:

"Discerning critics have dubbed me the Marcia Falkender of the Herald. There is more truth in

The trial continues.

HE 'SUPER SNOOPERS' - the Government Spies who prey on the unemployed and single mothers - are on the prowl in Clydeside.

They chalked up a significant victory over Christmas: by capturing an out-of-work man who was working casual in a Glasgow store- as Santa Claus...

Hutch has taken a tumble. They got their knuckles rapped for hiring a heli copter for a 'raid' on the Western Isles, and they have just been refused permission to use special radio cars.

THE FASLANE PEACE Camp has been on—site since June '82. About 23 people live there, but half of them are moving to form a camp at Holy Loch (U.S. submarine base.)

Continually harassed by police and base personnel, 16 people were arrested during recent direct action when a bunker inside the base fence was occupied for several hours. Arrests of the campers are made on the slightest pretext.

Many of the campers are anarchists, all are pacifists and they all need support. Write to:

But these down-market detectives don't have it all their own way. In Ferguslie Park recently the police were phoned about a dubious character lurking in the back-courts. It resulted in a Snooper being held for five hours on suspicion of child molesting.

The luckless lackey was transferred to another D.H.S.S. office.

FANTASY ISLAND The Snoopers idea of themselves as the Social Security equivalent of Starsky and Any Amateur Detective interested in investigating REAL fraud would find much of interest in the Snoopers' 'success' statistics...and in their Expense Accounts.

Don't be conned if any of these cowboys appear at your door. Don't let them into your house; don't go to an interview alone, and above all DON'T BE INTIMIDATED! PHIL THE FIDDLER control your own misery!

HERE IS A NEW FORM of manipulation at work in the wastelands of Clydeside...

It masquerades under "community initiative", which in total represents something quite different. The State is increasingly concerned that people are not "involved" enough in "their" system.

As a result, moves are afoot to CONTROL people in their own Housing Estates, by the creation of community businesses, festivals and the stimulation of the elaborate game of 'Deprivation'.

The managers of these initiatives are the trendy lefties at work in the booming Poverty Industry. Players (community activists) compete for scarce resources by envoking COMMUNITY consciousness. If promising they get recruited to the Poverty Industry itself To be sure, the creation of some of these 'projects', especially if they are autonomous and not bogged down with self-made bureaucracy, can encourage selfconfidence and a challenging attitude.

However the overall trend is INSIDIOUS, designed to channel creative energy towards the containment of anger and independent action. Home Rule for Haghill (or anywhere else) isn't really a step towards practical anarchy. In fact, together with future plans to encourage new 'cottage industry' with micro technology, it represents an imprisonment of the need to make a BREAK with this system TO WHICH WE OWE NOTHING!

HOMES FOR HEROES?

WHO RUNS YOUR HOUSE? The bank, the council, the building society, some greedy capitalist?

If you're a tenant you may be paying for furniture good enough for the fire, or for a house which you can't heat and isn't how you'd want it if you had any real choice anyway.

Who caused the grey damp and windy schemes? Built in a rush-yes you can see that, to satisfy a housing shortage-but why so soulless? Why each house the same as the next?... Because- maybe it looks neat on a drawing, maybe it's more profitable to build that way but certainly because the joyless bureaucrats who claim to represent you have taken control of your life right away from under your noses... in your

WHO WILL PROTECT US FROM OUR PROTECTORS?

S IR KENNETH NEWMAN, the latest Godfather at Scotland Yard has introduced a new concept to policing philosophy and practice.

With the introduction into police and media "newspeak" of such terminology as 'policing by consensus', 'police' community contract' an effort is being made to deodorise an odious and increasingly bestial policing practice. The irony is however, that this rather insidious method of duping the public, giving people a false consciousness of their relationship with the police and a notion of police accountability has been subordinate to an overthy reactive and reactionary policy, demonstrated in London recently with the barbaric attack on Stephen Waldorf.

difficult to say something salutory about the police.

This general antipathy towards the police, which is endemic even in the traditionally pro-police lobby can only be further reinforced by the manifies contained in Newman's latest report, with such cosmetic measures as ''consultative committees' and ''neighbourhood uatch schemes'' (spy on your own friends).

ATTACKS

This effort to instil a public confidence in the police, assuming that it ever existed, (the police are expert mythologists) has even received scabulous attacks from the more liberal sections of the media who are finding it increasingly

INJURIES

Newman's own sense of community policing reached fruition on the streets of Northern Ireland where he openly advocated the useof LandRovers to disperse demonstrators, resulting in injury and death.

The grim reality is that public relationship with the police, far from being one of consensus, trust and accoun-tability is becoming more polarised with the police having both operational and indeed political autonomy.

Reforms by governments cannot diminish the growing anxiety and impotence felt by an increasing number of people being subject to arbitrary and repressive police behaviour. This consolidation of state control, with the police as the main protagonists is a direct challenge to all those who regard freedom as the essence of living. "WHO WILL PROTECT US FROM OUR PROTECTORS?" is the conscious cry of people

house. TAKE CONTROL OF WHERE YOU LIVE!

In Sweden thousands of people took over an army base and built their own homes with what they took and found: it's not so good now but they tried— In London you hear of people squatting to overcome the terrible places they were living in: WHY NOT HERE:?

SCHOOL: A BURNING ISSUE

THE IDEA behind State Education has nothing to do with realising our potential as free thinking, reasoning and creative human beings.

Its prime function is to churn out well conditioned, manageable, processed cogs (human beings) to take their allotted place in the capitalist machine.

This is done mainly by academic grading and selection which produces, courtesy of the humiliating and degrading exam system, capitalism's necessary comprehensive 'failures' - the working class-to fill what's left of the factories and offices, plus all the miserable low paid jobs like shops and hotels. (The now permanent excess or unplaceable proles will no doubt get education for unemployment... or war). MANAGEMENT As for the Comprehensive 'Successes' they go on to join the middle class: .

The result being hierarchy, elitism and inequality remain as normal aspects of our society, with most people hating- at best putting up with- their jobs, if not their whole existence.

As well as the daily terrorism of kids at school by the ultimate bullies and cowards- Teachers (nice or nasty they all perform the same political function) education is the main force, together with the authoritarian nuclear family in instilling an obedience to all authority, power, position, status and CLASS, without which the wage slave system of today could not exist. MANIPULATION But the real beauty of our educational institutions is the PREVENTION OF LEARNING; of how our system really works, how easily manipulated we are by the media (TV and Press), how we have been denied any real control over our own lives (voting is a con) and how we have been programmed into accepting the impossibility of ourselves (us- you and me) andnot politicos, reformist smart assed good talkers bringing about any real revolutionary change in OUR lives.
