CLASS TROUBLE IN THE YARD WAR

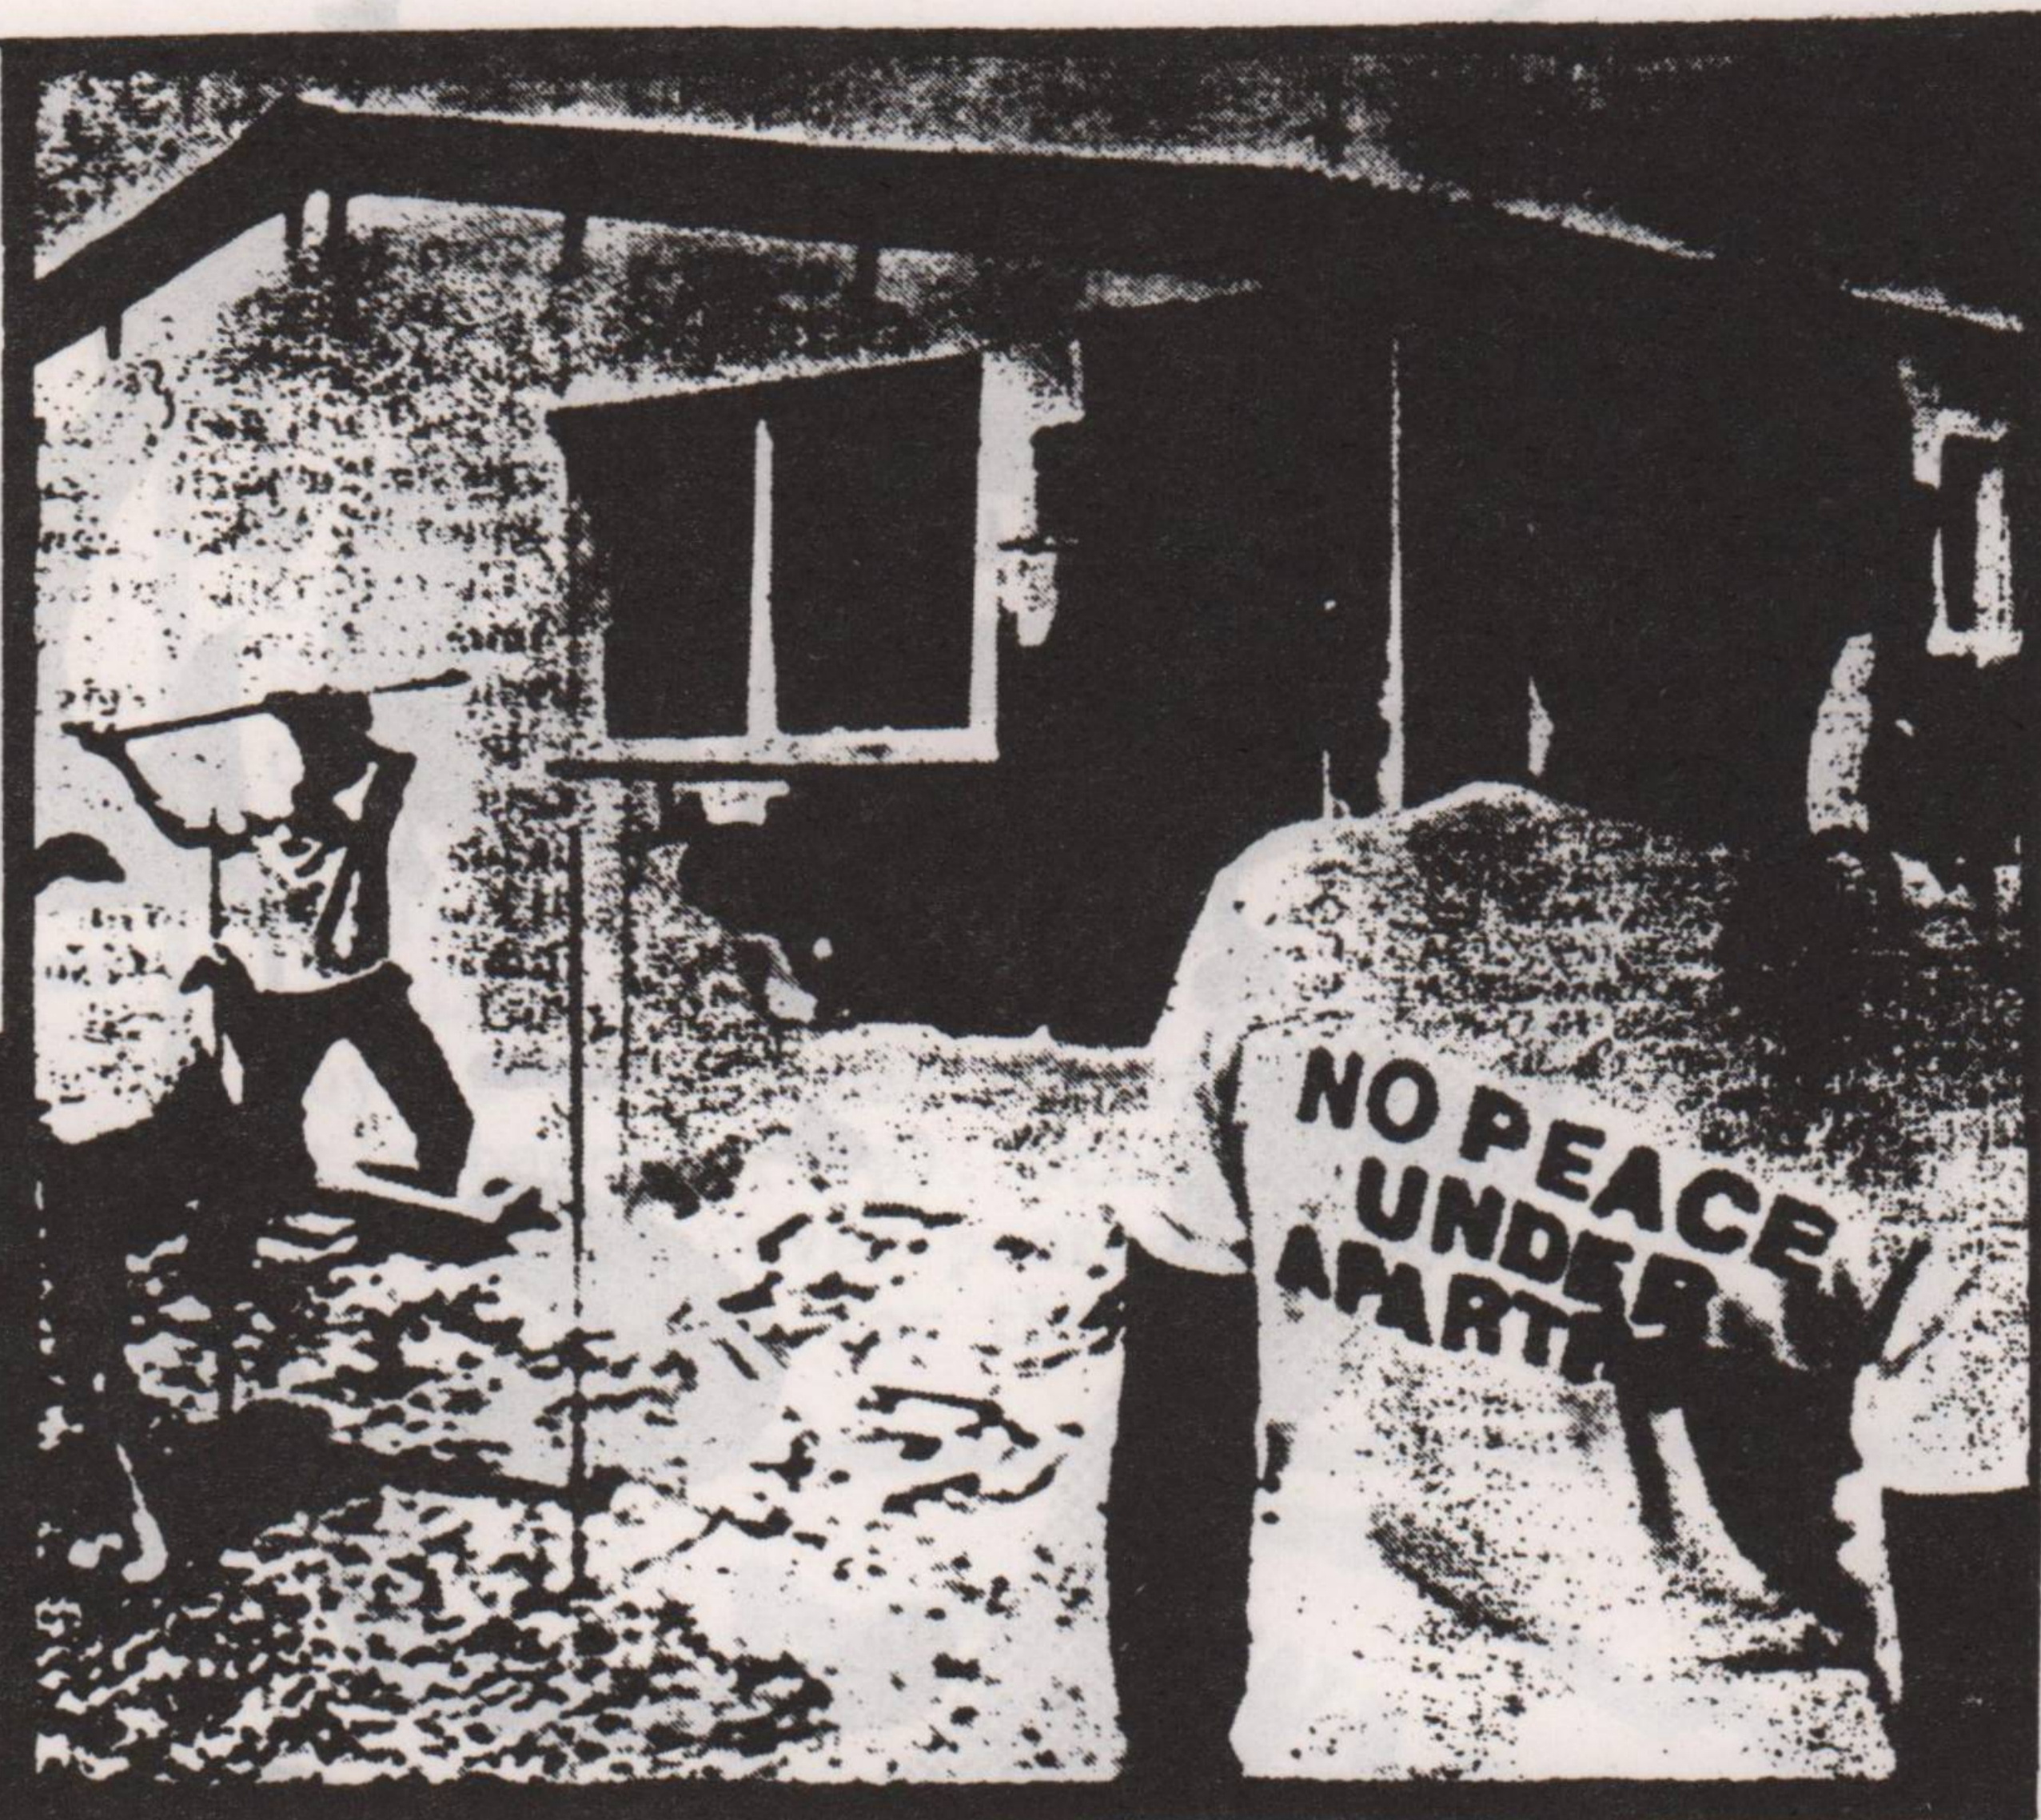

South Africa continues to smoulder on the edge of revolution. Workers' defiance and organisation grows and the apartheid states' violence becomes more desperate in the face of its soon-to-be destruction. The last six months have seen massive boosts to the level of struggle. In November '85, 34 unions formed the Confederation of South African Trade Unions (COSATU). This is part of the increasing use of industrial action to attack apartheid, and of a growing awareness of the power the black working class has as the people who make the profits for the capitalist bastards. "...generally, the organised workers believe that it is a class struggle", says Moses Mayekito, chair of the Alexandra Action Committee.

On Mayday '86, 1.5 million workers went on a one-day general strike. In the Eastern Cape, the strike was virtually 100%. In the townships, the fight goes from strength to strength. The situation in Alexandra, (a township near Johannesburg) shows the level of struggle in S.Africa and, crucially, how wrong are those cynics, liberals and fucking liars who say workers can't organise without outside government. In Alexandra, it's fucking happening you scumbags... Moses Mayekito recently described the situation there; "We decided to form street committees to organise people from the ground up, from the grass roots. Yards which contain from 20 to 30 families form their own committee with their own general meetings to discuss their own problems, social, economic and political. Say there is a stay-away or boycott then they have to organise that in their own yard. People are sick and tired of the court system, and they don't want to take their cases to the state. They want to discuss their own cases and mediate. If they can't solve their problem on the yard, they take it to the block committee. Above the 'yard' and 'block' committees are the delegate street committee and the delegate 'Action Committee'.

The people at the front of these committees are the so-called 'young comrades' - the activists who are committed to the struggle. The fighting until recently had been waged mostly by the young comrades, but now it's not only the youth, the adults are also becoming involved. In Alexandra women are active in street committees and 'Action Committees' and are in the thick of the fighting. The street committees only started up in January and soon became very attractive. But the police and state weren't very happy about it."

In February '86 the state tried to teach Alexandra a lesson, but the people held off the attack for four days of fierce fighting. At least 80 people were killed. One week after Mayday, the state occupied Alexandra in the biggest internal military operation yet. But these attacks only strengthen the street democracy and the growing resistance.

The class struggle should also continue here in Britain. 45% of all foreign investment and 50% of all foreign firms in S.Africa are British, while, for example, BL supply riot vehicles to the racist regime. Real solidarity action like the Dunnes, Portsmouth Hospital, and Southampton docks, workers blacking S.African goods deserves our every support and any action in the class war here, hurts our rulers and therefore their friends in South Africa too.

TOXTETH COMING TO THE BOIL

At 5pm on Wednesday 14th May, pigs from the drug squad (with back-up) acting on information from the Drugs 'Grass-em Up' Hotline raided houses in Jermyn Street, Toxteth. This led to porkers in full riot gear and 200 local residents confronting each other. Buses had to be re-routed for fear of hijack or attack and angry local youths meeting the pigs with bricks and bottles, resulting in 3 injured cops.

The residents were a little upset by the presence of the Tactical Aid Unit (we shoot 5-year-olds). Who, with usual 'tact' allowed 'sophisticated guns to be openly waved at people'. We hear that the atmosphere of tension in Toxteth is really heavy and is increasing. Let's hope it gets a lot fucking heavier in the coming summer months.

NATIONAL FRONT MARCH IN LIVERPOOL

On June 7th, the Master Race aka. the National Front planned a big rally in support of Joe Pearce.. 'They say Free J.P... We say Lynch Joe Pearce!..', in Liverpool, presumably 'cos of the local orange connections at a time the NF are trying to exploit pro-loyalist emotions in Britain. It was a disappointing day! We never saw any of the scum! In fact only about 40 NF stuck their heads out of the drains and then only for 10 minutes, as against about 700 anti-fascists, including 150 from the Class War Fed.. (Our first real turnout.. nice one!!). The NF may not be so strong nowadays, with it's splits but racism is alive and kicking, in Tory laws, in the Labour Party's sickening patriotism, as well as in the fascist sects, and worst of all in the day to day racism of the pigs on the street.

BASH RACISM! BASH THE FASCISTS!!

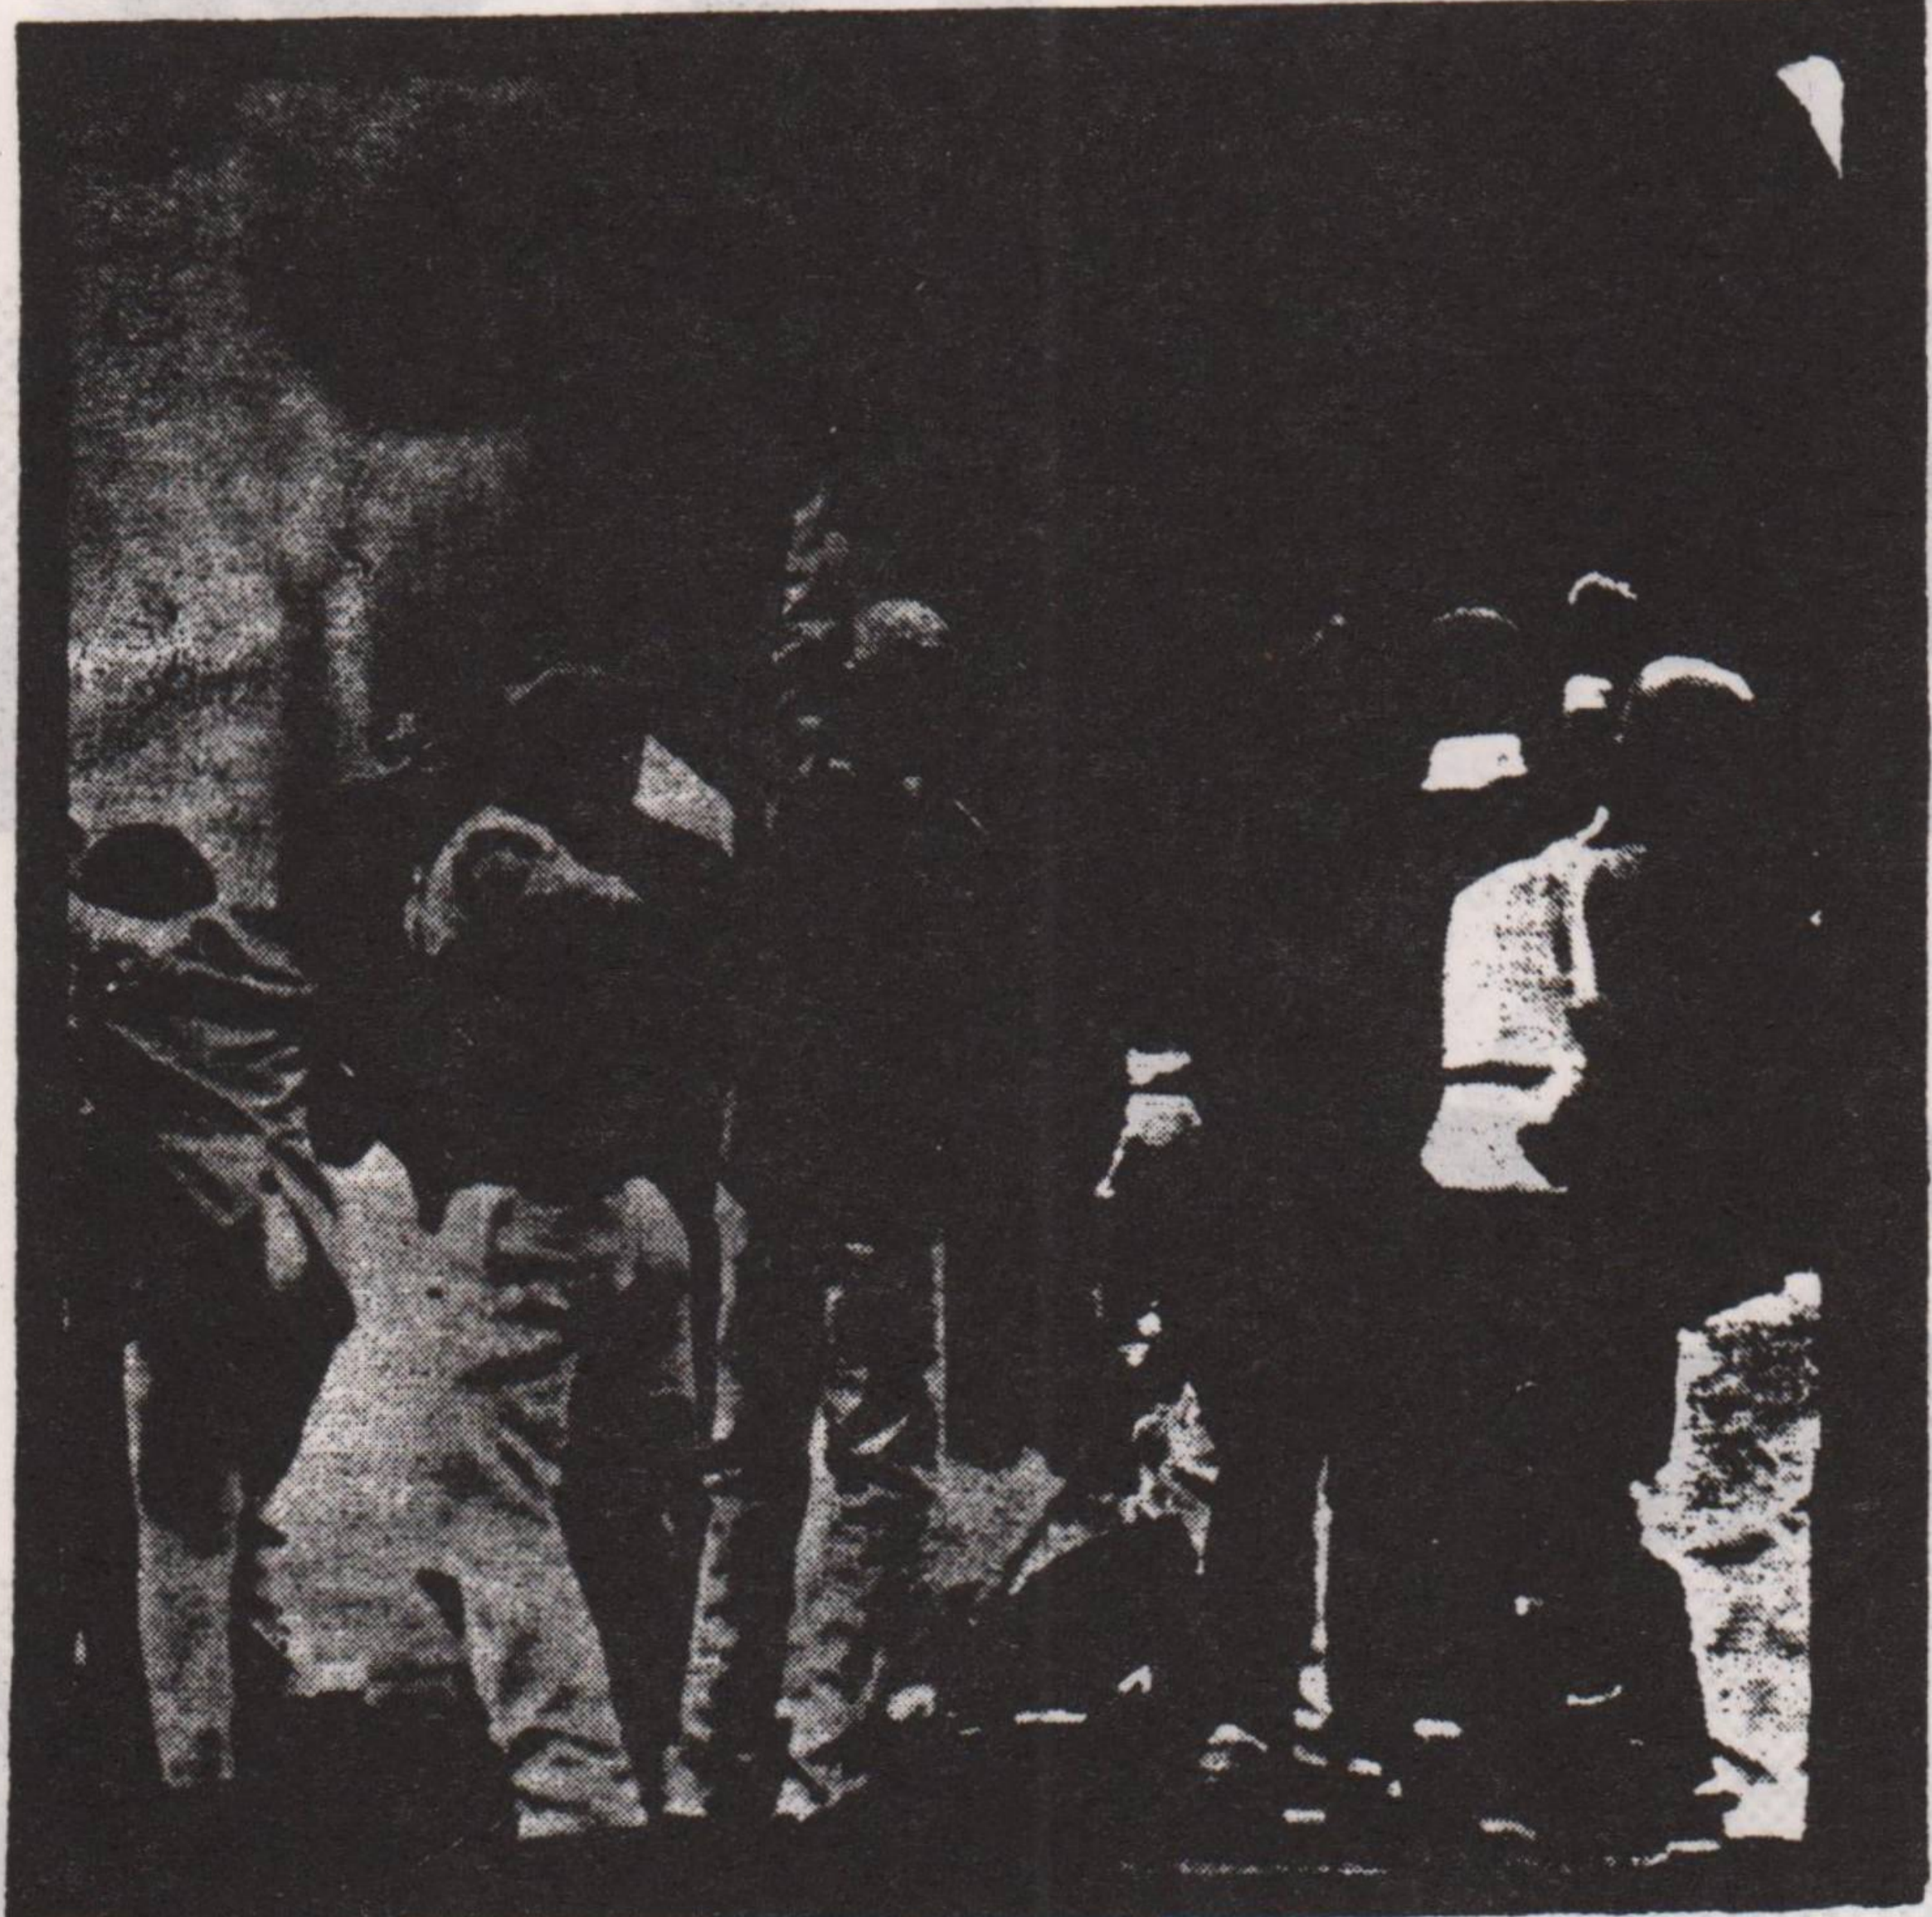

NB Anti-Fascist Action have voted to re-admit Class War

Pik Botha—crowd chanted his name

The recent attack on bastard Botha's fawning 'liberals' by the white Afrikaaner Resistance Movement at a meeting shows how the apartheid regime in South Africa is cracking under the strain. We hope the white Nazi scum, carrying all the pathetic paraphernalia of typical Adolf fascism continue to obstruct and hinder the authorities so that black workers' power can more easily be left to carry on the real war.

NEWS

London CW is sorry to announce the death of our good comrade Andy Dewar. 'Scots' Andy was in his late 50's and in bad health for some time but he was an utterly stropky bastard who kept fighting up till the last minute. He used to flog Class War on his own, outside Brixton tube, abusing the Leftie paper sellers for all he was worth. He came to Henley to bash the rich with us last year, and got stuck into them and the booze with equal fervour. Two days before he died he was nicked at the anarchist picnic in Greenwich Park for hurling abuse at the filth. We all miss him badly already, and send all our sympathy to his good friend Vera.

RIOTING RHONDDA

We're glad to report that trouble continues to simmer at the hill-top Penrhys Estate in the Rhondda Valley where the local lads and lasses smashed up the police station in February. The estate has 85% unemployment but the Penrhys residents here quite rightly decided that the lack of money won't deprive them of the necessities of life. Ambushing coal trains has been the main leisure occupation of the winter months. At Porth in the Rhondda a freight train was ambushed and ten tons of coal stolen. Masked gangs of up to 50 placed sleepers across the tracks and released the trains' trapdoors, pouring the coal on the line. This is then collected later by the lorry-load or the sack-load. This popular and useful pastime has now spread to the neighbouring Rhymney Valley as well. The Transport police here started running out anti-vandal decoy trains in an attempt to catch the ambushers but the pathetic plods can be smelt a mile off. On the first decoy train up the Rhymney Valley from Cardiff the reward of one detective was to be hit on the head by a large rock hurled through the window resulting in a large lump of glass being embedded in his head. Ha, ha, what a shame! (This magical moment is captured by our own undercover CW photographer). After missing out in the riot summers of '81 and '85 the estates of South Wales look set to lead the way in '86.

POMPEY PUT THE BOOT IN.....

Lots of good wholesome fun down Portsmouth way it seems. On the 12th of April at 2am a crowd 200 strong seem to have turned on a contingent of Portsmouth filth in the town centre. The local news called it 'an unprovoked attack' in which 5 coppers were injured. We call it fucking brilliant! Before Christmas another copper in Portsmouth was beaten up with his own truncheon, maybe these unprovoked attacks will spread up and down the south coast; after all, who needs provocation to have a go at the Old Bill?

THAT'S A WILD DEMAND!

BOSSSES who switched on a night security camera were confronted by a "gorilla" holding up the words: "If you pay peanuts, you get monkeys." After the hairy intruder disappeared, a worker at the factory in Bolton, Lancs, said: "We don't know who was in the suit, but whoever it was deserves a medal. The firm are a stungy lot."

Fined for coal theft

TWO unemployed men took coal from an NCB spoil heap to provide fuel for their families, a court heard.

Steven R...field, were fined £50 at Chesterfield after pleading guilty to one offence of theft.

Defence solicitor David Jones said both men had difficulty making ends meet with the benefits they received.

CALL THIS FUCKING JUSTICE? IT'S ENOUGH TO MAKE ANYONE REALLY FUCKING ANGRY!

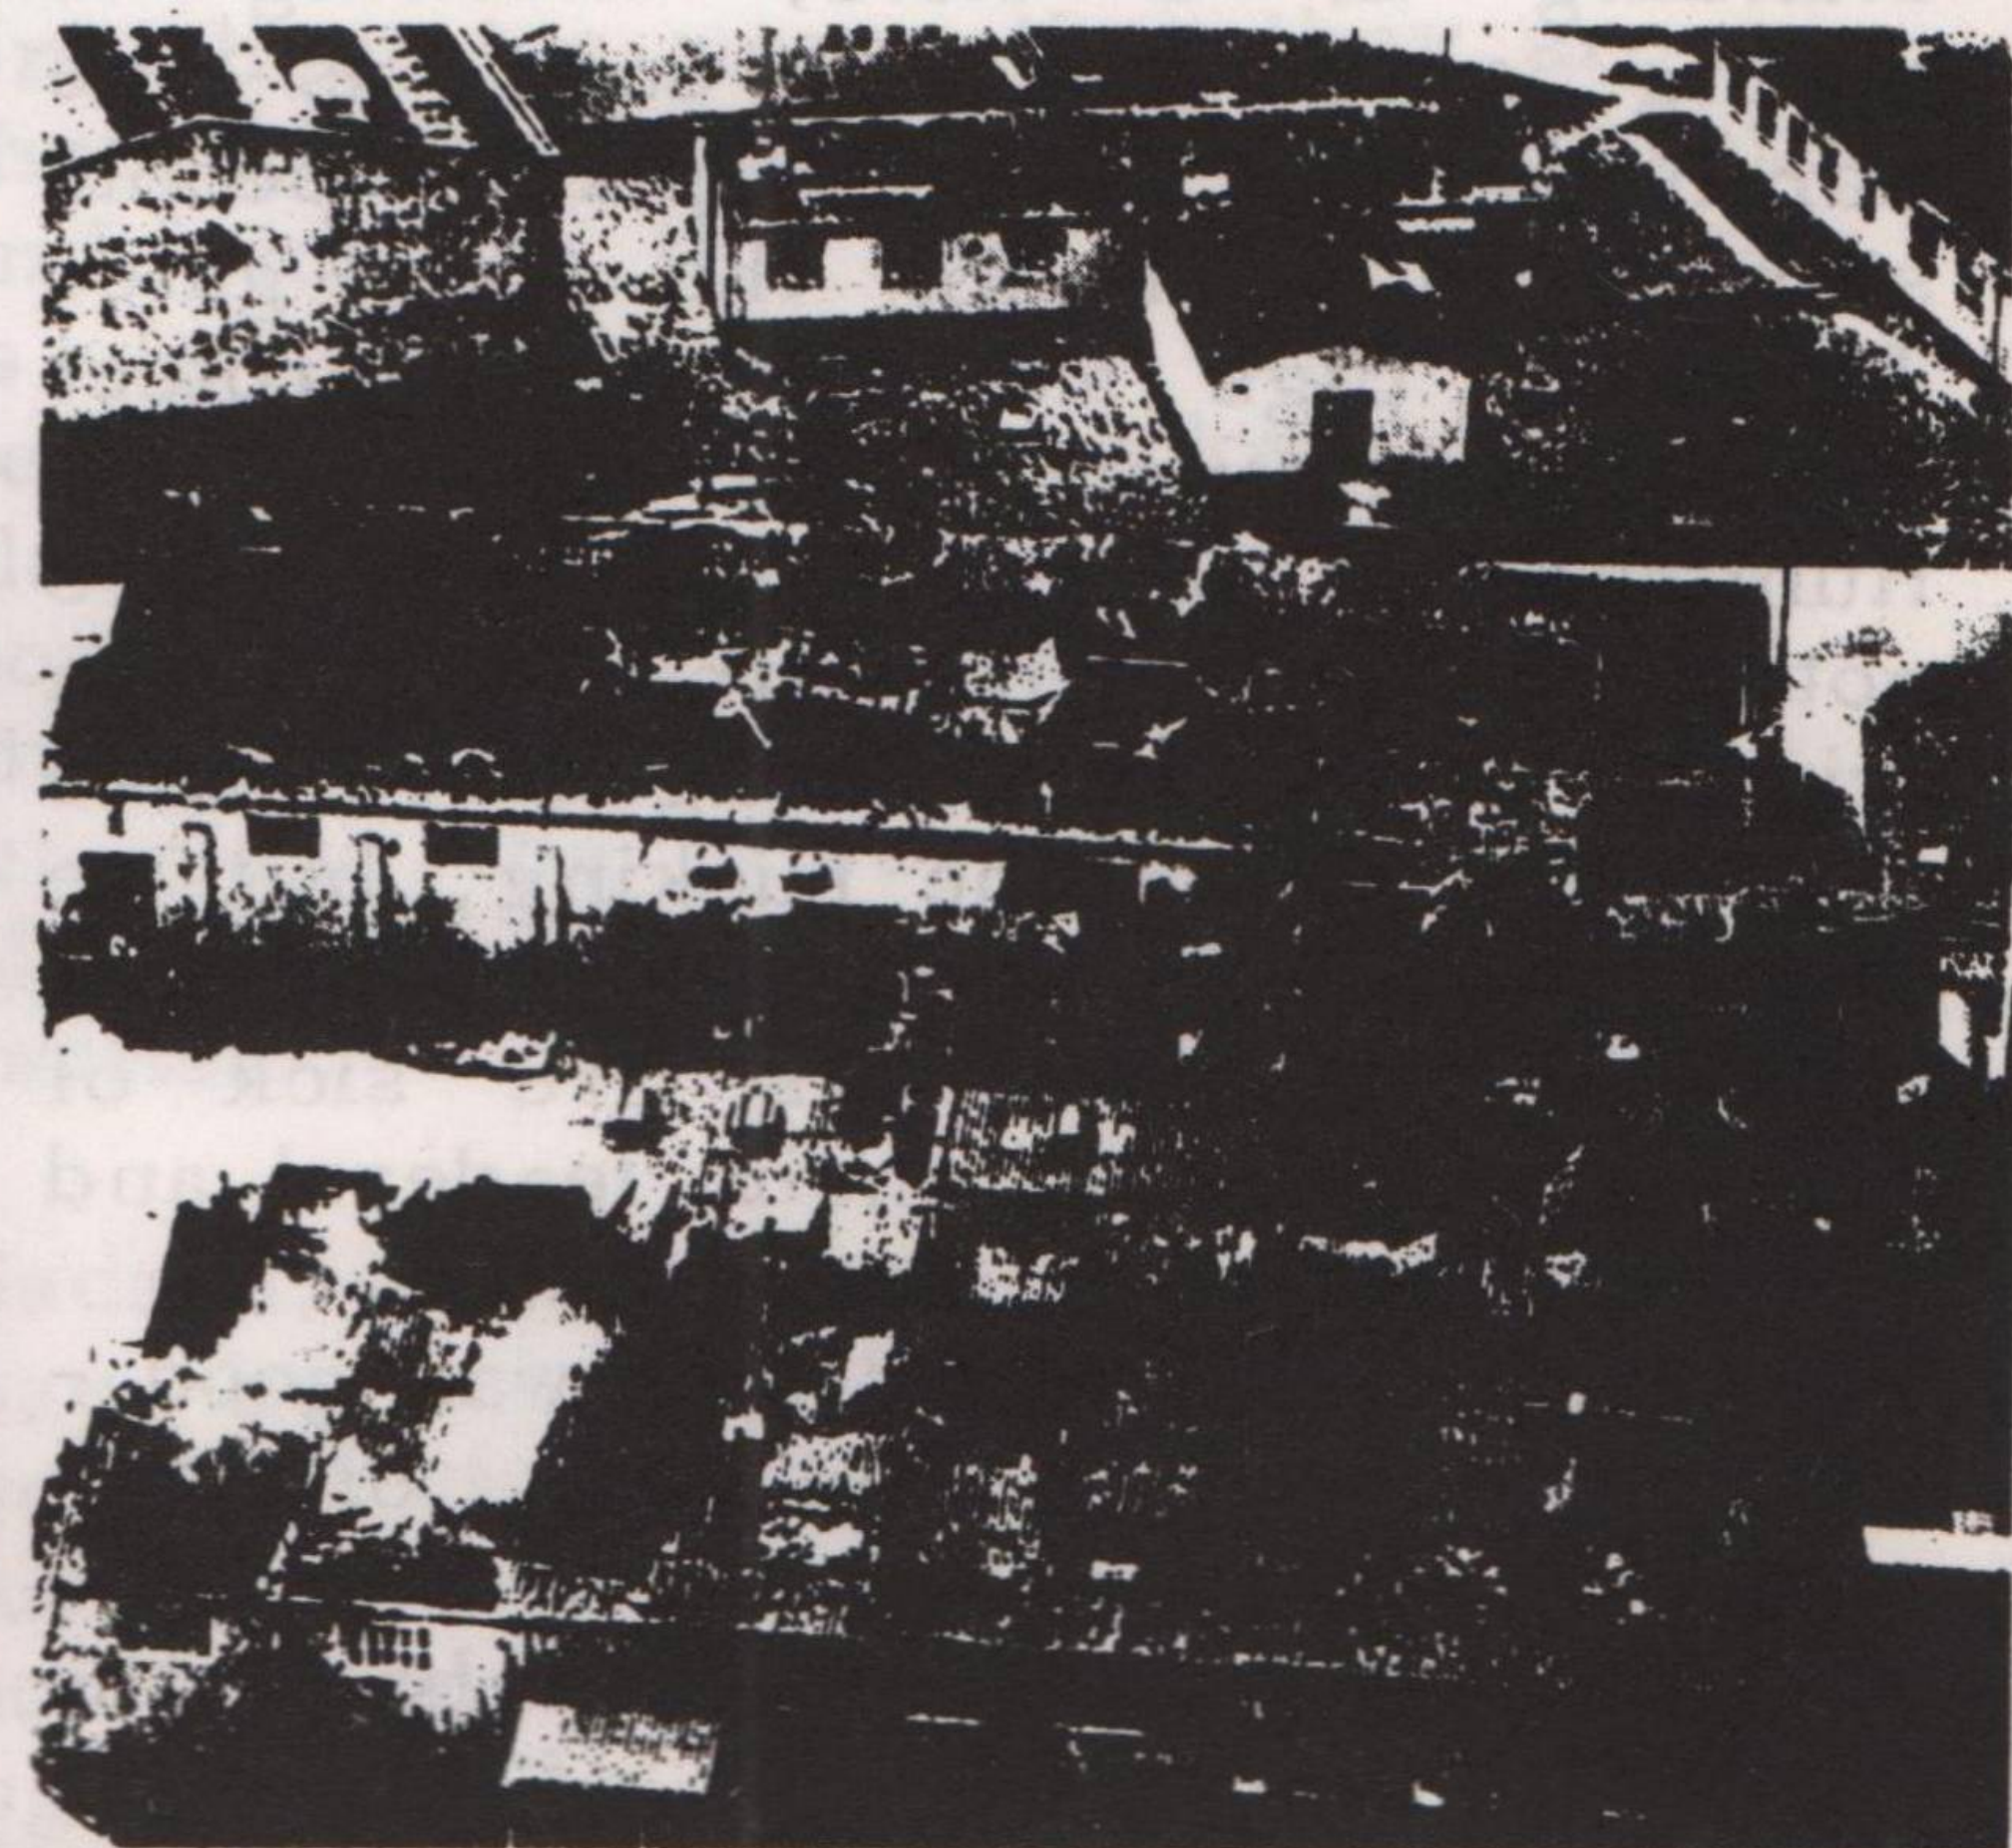

TOP TOFF SNUFFS IT

Cabinet minister's daughter Olivia Channon - rich social parasite - overdosed on smack and booze. CLASS WAR SAYS: Legalise smack for the Upper Classes!!

WHAT WE CALL AN 'OPEN' PRISON

At the end of April, the screws union, the Prison Officers Association, called an overtime ban. Both the screws and the government gambled on a little trouble in the prisons to bring each other 'to their senses'. They misjudged the anger that is in the prisons. Dawn broke on Mayday over the charred remains of dozens of prison blocks and compounds. All 135 prisons in the UK were affected, 18 seriously, with over £1 million damage.

The picture is of Northeye prison in Bexhill, Sussex, which was so badly damaged it may never reopen. Showing true solidarity, the prisoners came out in open support of the officers...they escaped!!

THE ENEMY WITHOUT BRAINS

As you crawled bleary eyed out of your beds at 12 o'clock or so recently, you may have perchanced to come across a little gem of an article, (4th time re-written) in the Sunday Mirror (right wing labour so-called socialist paper, belonging to capitalist scum publisher Robert Muckswell). In this article, Class War was linked with the CCC, Action Directe, and other European 'terrorist' groups. As the Class War on Sunday hasn't emerged yet, and we can't get an alternative onto your breakfast table (we're working on it), and in case anyone believes this crap, we want to put the record straight.

Class War does not now and never has supported or ever had links with any of these groups; we do not support them, their actions, or their methods.

The article also talked about a re-emergence of the Angry Brigade and links with Class War. The Angry Brigade to all intents and purposes died in the early 70's, other than in the minds of bullshitting journalists desperate for a story. Again we state, Class War does not in any way support the action or methods of the defunct Angry Brigade. We are planning an expanded article in a later paper to explain the position of Class War on terrorism and related subjects.

Watch this space.

WAPPING

The fight of 6,000 printers against Rupert Murdoch's News International is still on. Recent scenes at Wapping and action taken around the country have demonstrated working class anger, reminiscent of the miners' strike.

A clear example of this was Saturday 3rd of May at Wapping (the hundredth day of the dispute). 10,000 people, led by printers who had walked from Glasgow and Newcastle, marched on the plant. The week before, people had talked of taking the main gate, and this time they weren't prepared to waste time standing in a field, listening to boring speeches. As soon as the march arrived at the plant, people started to push for the main gate. The riot pigs moved in to protect Murdoch's property, and it went off. Hundreds of printers and supporters got stuck in to the filth - the media tries to blame 'outside agitators' (like Class War!) for the rucking, but we don't need to start it - loads of mainly young printers are sick of passively following their 'leaders' and are ready for some direct action.

The scorecard on 3rd May was good - 180 coppers injured, 9 of the scumbags hospitalised - but they did beat us. But the printers have the support of the majority of the local community, especially the youth, who are always down on the picket line, ready to have a go at the Old Bill. Sooner or later, there will be a rematch at the gate and we'll win on aggregate!

If we do intend to win, we must have no faith in the SOGAT and NGA leadership. These bureaucrats continue to pacify the pickets and diffuse the anger of the printers. One of the officials even stopped angry printers defying the pig lines and picketing one of the exits. Apparently he'd agreed with the police that they wouldn't picket the exit if the police wouldn't let the lorries out that way. Since when do the coppers support strikers on the picket line?! Of course the lorries got out that fucking way. It was encouraging, however, to see one of the printers having a go at this bureaucratic shithead afterwards. And the officials' latest trick is to set up telephone links with the pigs in order to 'control' the picket at Wapping. What a good way of targeting and snatching anyone they label as 'troublemakers'. Meanwhile Murdoch's lorries will get out of the plant, to deliver the garbage that still infests millions of homes in Britain. At the beginning of May, Brenda 'Drippy' Dean (SOGAT leader and Thatcher lookalike) went to court to 'purge' the union's 'contempt of court', so they could reclaim the £1 million that was nicked from the union. In return for this, SOGAT has to promise to behave itself and for example, to lift the ban on all SOGAT members handling the 'Sun' etc. Many rand and file members are furious at this blatant selling out of the dispute. One newspaper was prophetic when it warned that this would lead to more violent scenes at Wapping.

NEWS INTERNATIONAL

STOP PRESS!!! At the start of June, in a ballot which 'Drippy Dean' hoped would sign the end of the Wapping dispute, the print-workers voted not to accept Murdoch's pathetic offer, but to carry on the dispute !!

As I've said, the misdirection and lies of the SOGAT officials have created difficulty in maintaining an effective picket at the Wapping plant. But there's plenty more we can do - even if we can't stop the lorries, people can still make the scabs remember to watch their backs. Names and addresses of scabs appear regularly in 'Picket', which has news of action taken around the country. 'Picket' is given out at Wapping, or you can get copies from c/o 628 Tottenham High Road, London N17.

Various tactics (as well as picketing) have been used in many areas. People up and about early in the morning have found bundles of Murdoch's scummy rags outside newsagents. These can be cut open and the papers burnt, dumped or covered in paint.

And TNT lorry drivers have been greeted with bricks, stones and bottles as they drive northwards - what a good way to relieve the monotony of their journey! Lots can be done to stop that rich bastard Murdoch making more millions on the backs of 6,000 sacked printers, so keep your eyes open!

Spanish dockworkers show the right attitude in their current fight against their scum bosses, as they roll out tyres to form a barricade at Gijon in the north, and aim a home-made grenade launcher at police.

ONE FOR THE WORKERS

So the boss bastards think they can sack someone they don't like without any trouble do they? This is exactly what the fat shitheads at the top of the Cardiff Post Office thought they could do, but they didn't exactly expect to bring the whole of South Wales postal workers out on strike!

The scenario: local union guy sacked for 'wilful delay of mail'. It's very difficult to deliver mail on time if your van breaks down! The workers responded by a vote and walkout on immediate indefinite strike, against the will of the national union bureaucrats (you've been sussed out you scumbags!). Support follows almost immediately from the Newport postal workers who walk out in support and throughout the week long, strike support spreads right across Gwent and as far as the Gloucester office.

The Post Office boss scumbags are shitting themselves by now, and hastily reinstate the sacked worker, expecting an immediate return to work. Wise up mugs! The postal workers, now out of pocket through the bosses' incompetence, decide to continue their strike in support of more overtime to make up lost money. "No way", say the bosses. A couple of days later, with the strike still gathering support and millions of letters being delayed, the bosses were yet again getting brown pants and decided to 'make a compromise' (ie give in). This now puts the workers in a strong position, with the management and union bureaucrats in disarray. The workers united can never be defeated.

MAYDAY IN BRISTOL

The morning of Mayday 1986 saw the loal Class War group forcibly ejected from the lefty fair in Bristol. Later the reds' excuse for a march began. Various trade unions (showing true workers' solidarity) jostled for the best positions. A 'comrade' from the commie party got a cop over to tell the CW group to march to the back. They explained nicely to the officious little politico that he and his labour party mates were lucky to be invited along and that they would march where they bloody well liked. None of the lefty scum had any publicity or explanation of what was going on (keep it in the family). The only leaflets were the anarchist 'Reclaim Mayday' ones. About 30 Bristol Class War comrades joined the march. Every time they moved towards the front the march was stopped. A typical tea-time waltz with the left. The true colours of the socialist ranks were again shown when they called in two van loads of pigs to sort out the anarchists. All of Bristol CW managed to avoid arrest. The parting words of the left were "If you ever approach the Bristol labour movement, all doors will be closed to you." A victory!

FUCK OFF WORLD LEADERS

RAMBO GO HOME!

When Reagan ordered bombers from the UK to attack Libya, he showed British people what many of us have been saying for years; that American bases are not here to defend 'us' against the Russians, but to enforce America's military power worldwide, to be directed at ANYONE who resists their economic domination. A lot of people have had their illusions about 'England's Glory' shattered, seeing that this land is controlled as much from Washington as it is from Number 10. A lot of people are eager to burn the 'stars and stripes' and to tell the Yanks to GO HOME.

RULING CLASS

But it's wrong to think in terms of some sort of need for military independence; we aren't living any more in a world where national boundaries mean a great deal...to the rich at any rate. Our real rulers are no longer the figureheads of government, but the directors of multinational corporations who make or break the likes of Thatcher and Reagan, as it suits their business interests.

BOLLOCKS

The Ruling Class is an international class. A gang of rich bloodsuckers who pull the strings worldwide. Sure, they have their disagreements from time to time...but they never fight...THEY GET US TO DO THAT FOR THEM. Loads of people who condemn the British role in the Libya raid were well into the 'Falklands' war, because that was 'OUR' fight, and this isn't. BOLLOCKS. What did that rock in the South Atlantic mean to any of us, then or now?

GOVERNMENTS MAKE WAR, PEOPLE DIE... and the rich get richer as they churn out the guns and bombs.

Real change won't come until the working class takes on the ruling class on its own terms, internationally. While we hold on to nationalist illusions, we're still just fighting against ourselves.

A woman constable suffered horrific burns from a smoke bomb and several officers were knocked out by missiles ranging from steel bars and wooden staves to beer cans and concrete slabs.

At a time when the papers were full of stories of children in this country who were missing and or murdered, President Reagan decided to get in on the act and kill a few himself. All it took was a phone call to his bumlickers here in Britain and a fast deal with the commies and it was all arranged. What an advert for British Telecom: "Mass Murder, it's only a phone call away".

WEAPON

Anti-americanism often borders on racism; anarchists reject that. But a class-conscious anti-americanism can be a powerful weapon in breaking the unity of the Western Alliance, weakening the ruling class. Let's visit the Yankee bases regularly and give them hell; as well as turning our anger on their businesses over here, especially McDonald's and the loathsome Kentucky Chicken Stranglers. And this summer, whenever we meet disgusting, rich Yankee tourists on our streets, we'll let the bastards know what we think of their greedy war-mongering. Let the cry go up: RAMBO GO HOME.

FUCK OFF REAGAN

LIBYA — GERROFF YOU BASTARDS

They've told us that all Libyans are terrorists who at any moment could attack working class people here. They have told us that a few rumours that Libya helps some groups fighting the American and British states means that they are a threat to us. But what is the threat and who are the real enemy? Libya is a small nation with, until recently, a poverty-stricken working class, without even the military power to stop one aircraft carrier sitting off its coast and shelling it, let alone the power to stop a few planes devastating parts of its capital.

Gadaffi, like Thatcher and Reagan, may be an enemy of the Libyan working class, but is he the real fuckin' threat to you and me? It's not him who controls the cops we're fighting. The ruling class are the threat to us.

They also tell us that it isn't just Gadaffi, but all the Libyan people who are also our enemy. We and the working class of Libya have the same enemies, the scum bosses who rob us while we work to make their profits, the leaders and parties who claim to be our voice, then lead us to our deaths in wars in which we as a class have nothing to win. Our job is not to choose between an assortment of 'world leaders' - GOODIES and BADDIES-

WE WANT TO SMASH THE FUCKIN' LOT

In destroying the British state and the ruling class it protects, we are taking back what is ours - the working class worldwide tolerate all kinds of horrors, for fear that some world power will invade if they fight back. For us there is only one war that will give us back anything. It isn't a fight between nations, but our class and the boss bastards. For us the real enemy is at home: We will not fight in their wars, only in the war we can win - the CLASS WAR.

In our communities we have to protect our class from the racist attacks that the state has been drumming up. It has tried to label anyone who ever lived in an arab state as a potential bomb. We will not be fooled by their attempts to divide us from the working class of Libya and other arab states. We must oppose the racist expulsions and 'terrorist' scare stories and physically stop the harrassment of people by the special branch.

CLASS WAR CONFERENCE

There will be a Class War Federation Conference in London in July. If you are interested please write to your nearest group for more information. If you don't agree with the Federation's aims and principles, don't come. No time wasters please. Can you write agenda suggestions to London.

12th - 13th JULY
WRITE TO YOUR LOCAL GROUP FOR MORE DETAILS.

AIMS AND PRINCIPLES

- 1 The destruction of capitalism and the class system, and its replacement by a free equal society, where individuals have complete control over all aspects of their life is an immediate necessity (and has been for some time).
- 2 We are opposed to all forms of the state including so-called 'communist' states.
- 3 The primary division in the capitalist system is a class division, between the working class and the ruling class and its allies. We accept that the exact dividing lines are difficult to define and are subject to change.
- 4 The struggle to seize back the world from the ruling class necessarily involves the use of violence. We support the use of working class violence against the ruling class and its agents.
- 5 We support in theory and in practice, struggle by the oppressed, independent of parliamentarians, local governments, union bosses, or 'revolutionary parties'. We seek to increase the autonomous and revolutionary aspects of these struggles, by participation and communication, between ourselves and the rest of our class (as equals, not leaders) to advance and strengthen the struggle as a whole. We do not believe the working class needs leadership and we are totally hostile to all those who attempt to fill such a role.
- 6 Racism, sexism and heterosexism are an integral part of capitalism and are used as weapons by the state and capitalism to divide the working class. Successful working class struggle for a free society must incorporate the fight against racism, sexism, and heterosexism.
- 7 CWF is a federation of groups and individuals who support the aims and principles as stated above and below. The positions of individuals and groups may differ on certain issues. The CW conference is to meet twice yearly to decide on the position taken by CWF. Racial discrimination or violence, sexual violence, and the degradation or humiliation of, or discrimination against anyone on the grounds of their sex, sexuality or race, is incompatible with the struggle for a free society. Individuals or groups advocating or participating in such behaviour have no place in CWF. Conference will exclude any individuals or groups found to be acting in contravention to the Aims and Principles.
- 8 We accept that the CWF is not the sum total of working class struggle and that other forms of organisation are appropriate to sections of the working class.

CLASS WAR WON'T WIN ELECTIONS! —says Kinnock

KINNOCK: Plea.

LABOUR VICTORY

The media have portrayed the results of the local elections as a triumph for Scabby Kinnock as those who've suffered under shit-faced Maggie vote for Labour. But in the inner city forces are at work which can give no comfort to Her Maj's loyal and grovelling opposition.

The traditional anarchist line that 'it doesn't matter who you vote for' seems to be a sick joke for those who aren't young, able-bodied and childless. On the surface, voting becomes an exercise in self-defence. Against Tory bastards whose misrule means day centres and nurseries closed, people evicted so their flats can be sold off to developers to sell at a fat profit to fatter rich scum, Shithead councils laying off manual workers in favour of privatised slave-drivers. The labour Party at least promise the illusion that these services might stay intact, even if run by a bunch of incompetent cretins, only interested in producing glossy pamphlets full of hype and half-truths. Most people don't need to be told that all politicians are devious bastards and lying shitbags. The 'hard left's attitude is one of complete contempt for our ability to organise our own lives. The unwelcome attentions of a horde of middle-class do-gooders with a sociology degree in one hand and a labour party card in the other is just a fucking harassment. Earning vast sums of money for meddling in other people's lives, these parasites don't have to live in the conditions their 'clients' (victims) put up with.

CLASS WAR

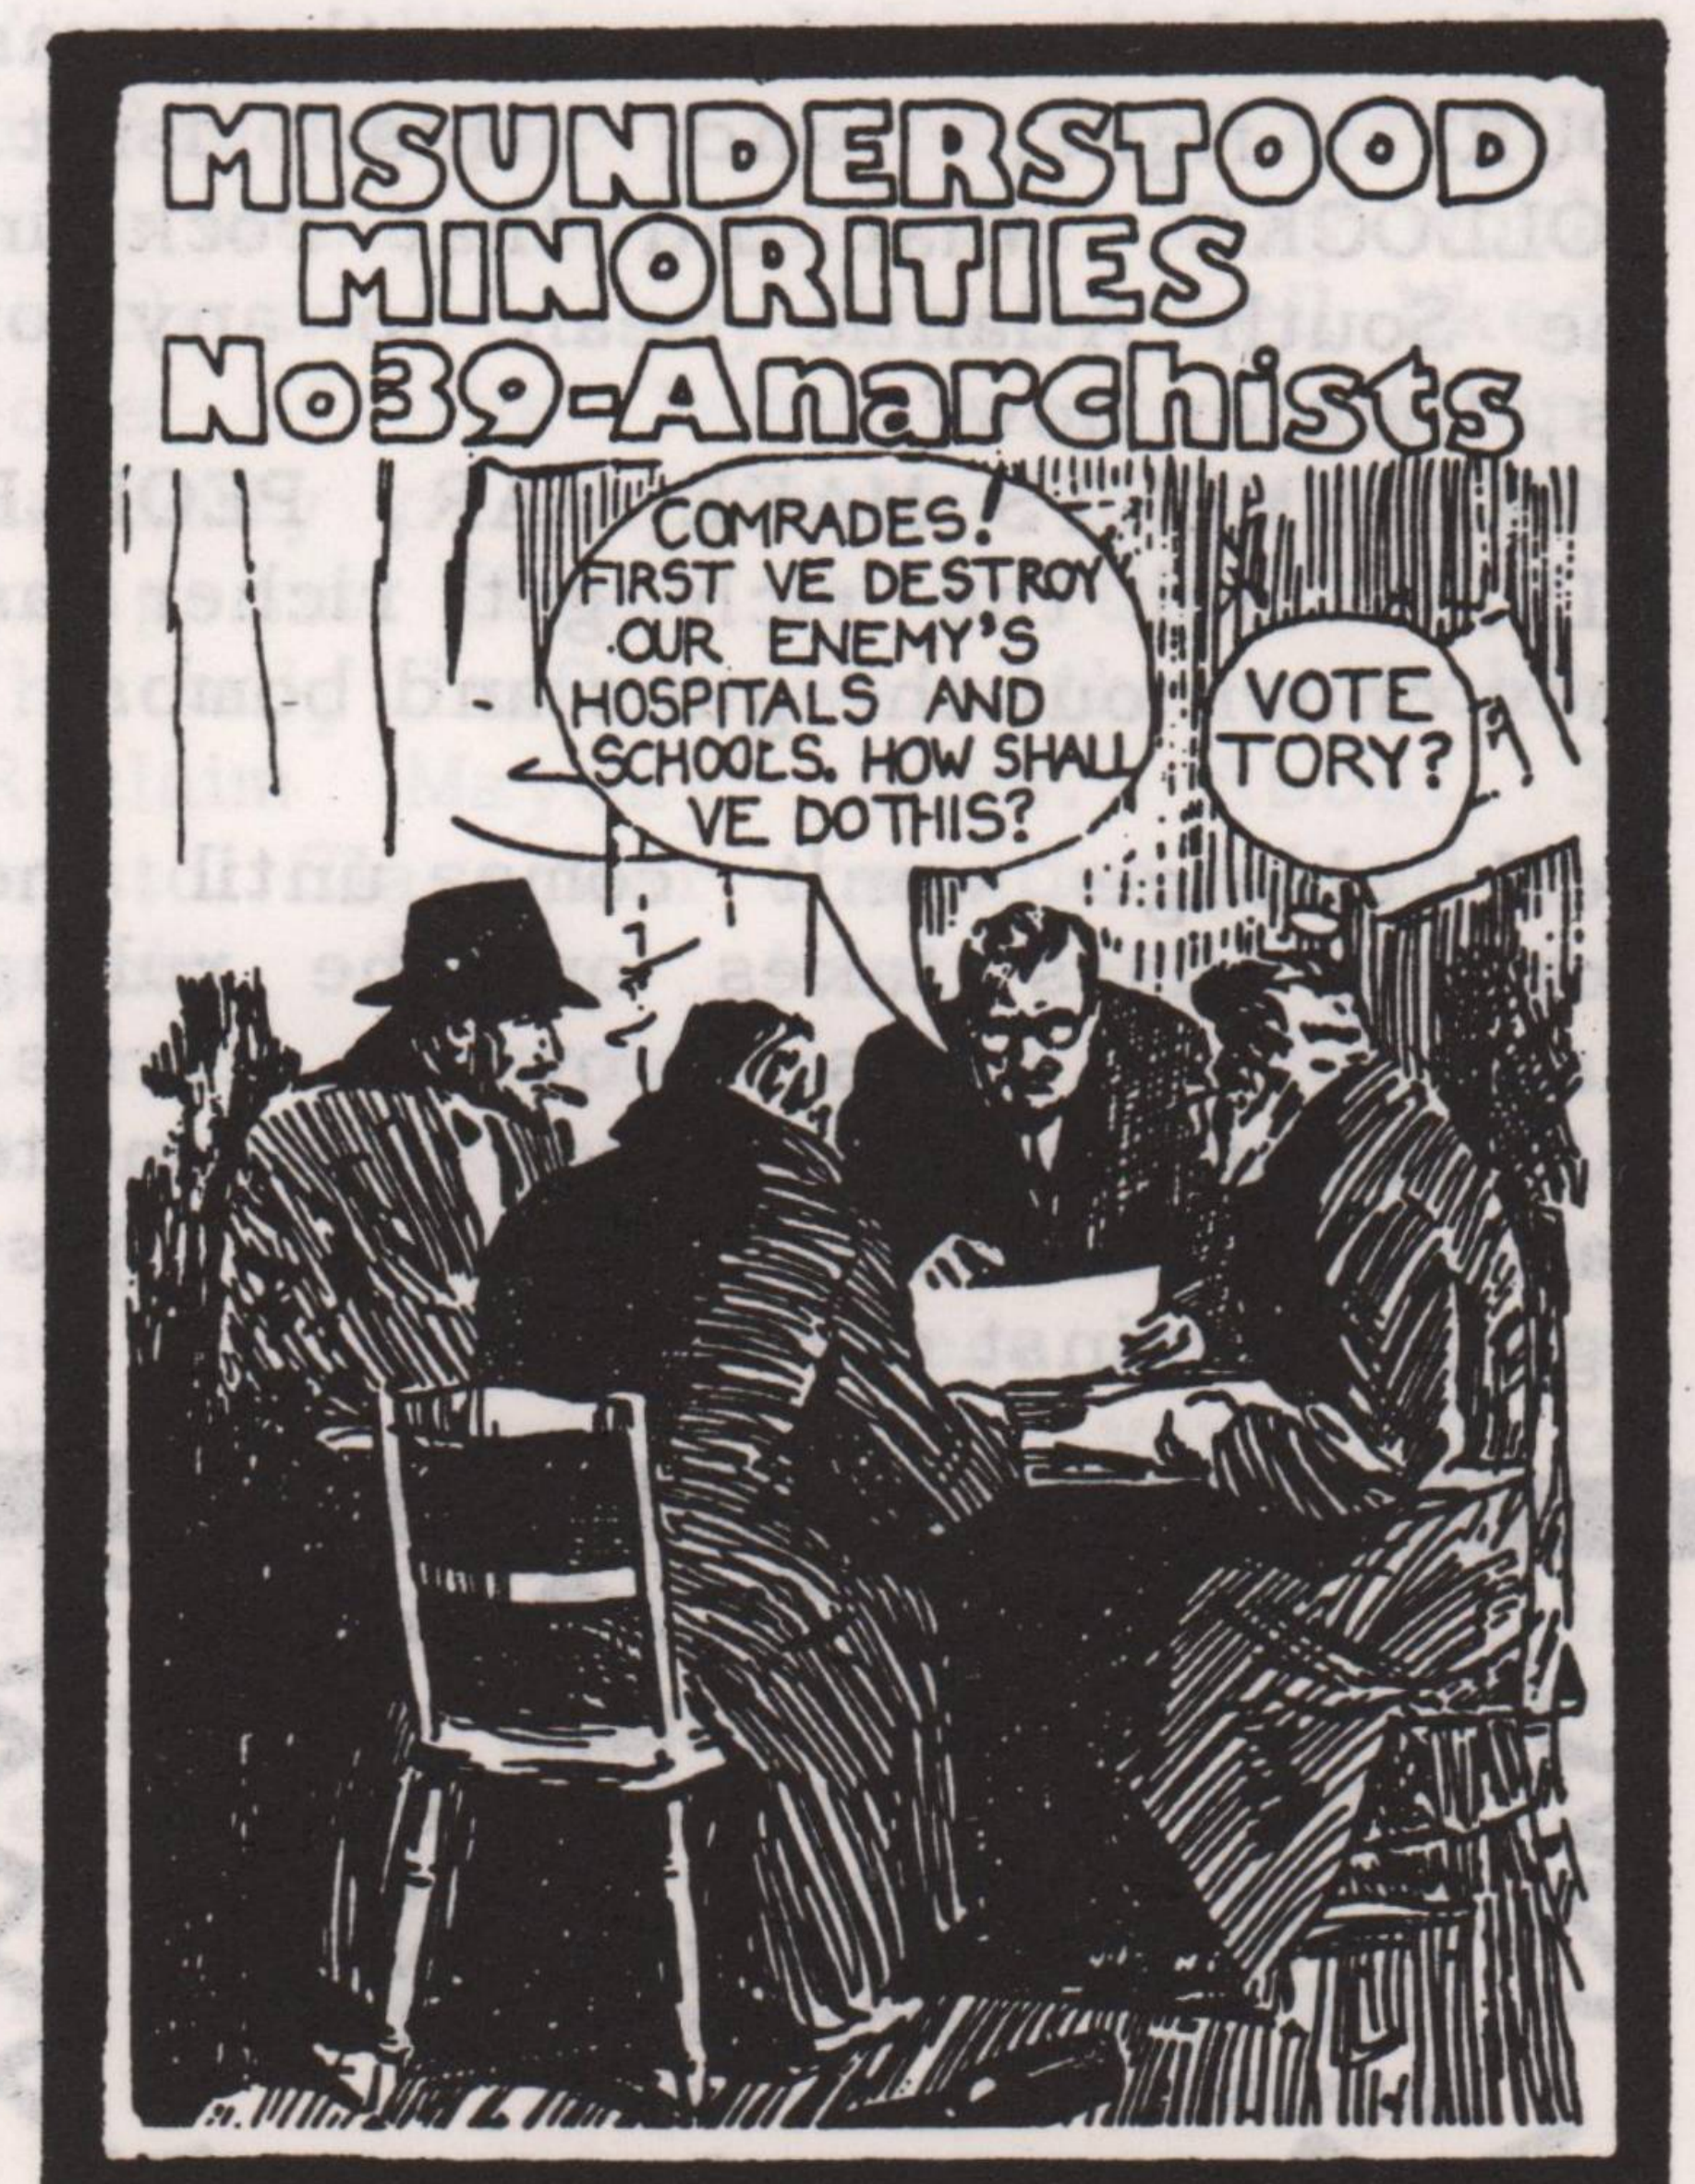

Right, if you have trouble getting hold of Class War in your area then send us £3 and we'll send you the next 12 issues as they come out, or £1.50 for 6. If you live in Europe then send £4 for 12, America £5.

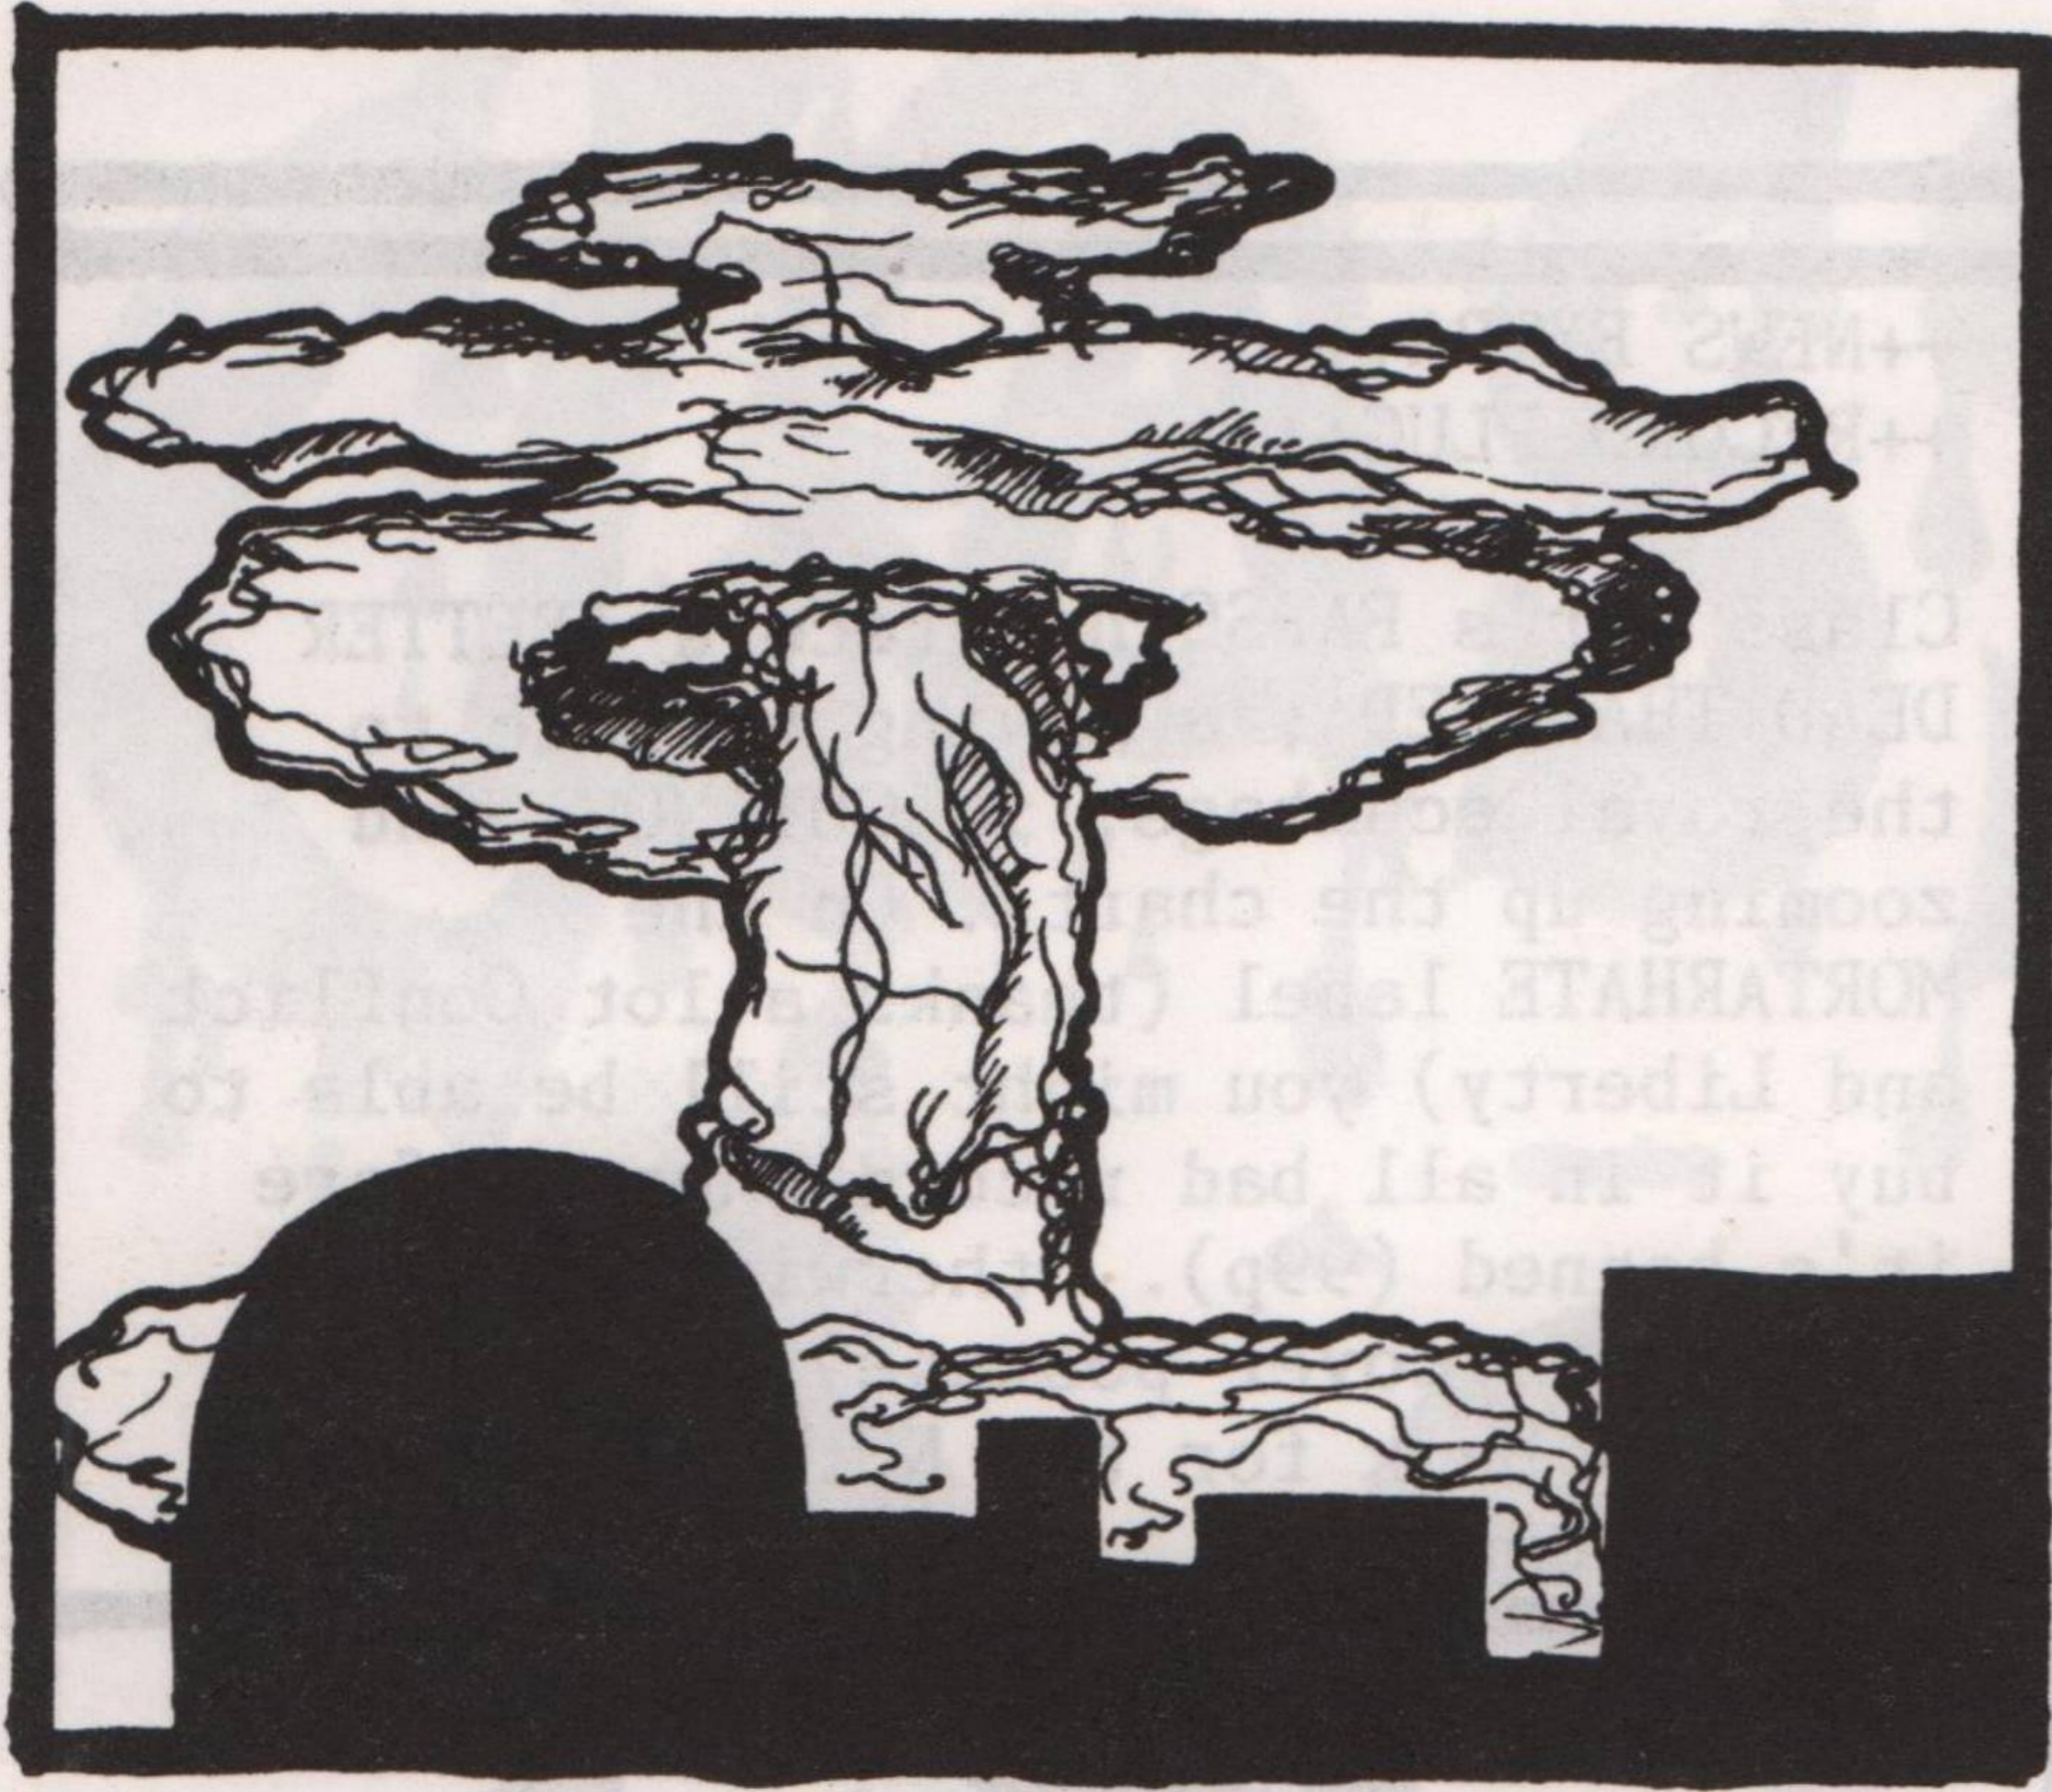

If you want to earn a bit of extra cash for yourself then send us a pound and we'll send you ten copies to flog to your mates at work, at school, on the streets etc. You can sell them for 20p and make yourself £1 (if you're really honest you can donate it to your local anarcho paper or the C/W bust fund). If you want to take more than 10 then send us two pounds for 20 etc etc. If you take 50 or more then we'll deliver them, by van, to your door. Otherwise they will come by post. If you do take copies to flog then please don't forget to send us the money, we can't afford to give them away, unfort-

And there's corruption. Making sure the plush jobs go to political cronies, and the misuse of power. In Lambeth, we've seen bullshitting councillors who were squatting activists in the 60's now using riot cops to evict the homeless and smashing up habitable places to stop people moving back in. 'Workers' Hero' Ted Knight will be mouthing off about police brutality one minute and having secret talks with top local pigs the next about neutralising the 'Front Line' in Brixton.

These people are just as power crazed as Tebbit, but while they continue to promise the impossible, they'll still get grudging support. How long can they deliver this, and what happens when they can't? Do the fucking councils really think they can stop the collapse of capitalism in the inner cities? Recently we've had major riots in areas like Toxteth, Handsworth and Haringey (scene of the Broadwater Farm uprising). Perhaps they've forgotten. And perhaps they've forgotten that many of these places have Labour councils already.

The day when 'they called a vote and nobody came' is still our aim, but it won't happen until the working class feel confident enough to reclaim their lives from the local and national bosses. The way that confidence will be gained is in the same struggles that show up Labour and the unions for the lying incompetent treacherous scumbags that they are.

CHERNABOMB

"You can't see it, you can't touch it, you can't smell it, you can't hear it... this magical power is brought to you courtesy of the Central Electricity Generating Board..." Their advert for electricity - or radioactivity? When those in authority talk about our fear of the nuclear programme they call it irrational but they never bother to explain it to us. They use their superior knowledge as another means of oppression. You fucking fools - you're playing with our probably already mutated genes, those of future generations, and the health of the world we live in.

Mad Mag goes on about Russian secrecy in comparison to our own 'complete openness'. Who the fuck do you think you're kidding, love - changing the safety levels to suit your needs?

So all the contradictions and double standards are pretty obvious to anyone - but what are we going to do to stop another Chernobyl disaster - not just here at home, but anywhere in the world (is it because they were Russian workers who died that it doesn't seem to matter so much?). Try sabotaging a nuclear power station and it won't grind to a halt, it'll kill and poison everything around for miles.

Should we all join CND and agitate to stop the nuclear programme? Or send a crap Euro MP to vote against building more reactors on 'our patch'? The fucking narrowmindedness of the 'I'm all right Jack the fallout will never reach this far' brigade makes me puke. There are several so-called 'nuclear-free zones' in Britain. Do the selfish wankers who set them up to score political points seriously think there is some kind of invisible barrier which will protect them from invisible death when the wind blows their way? This issue involves everyone, everywhere and those who try to tell us otherwise deserve to be melted down.

The French for example have a large percentage of their energy produced by nuclear power so turning the fucking things off would produce other problems for them. If the reactors were all closed down next week, there would still be radioactive scrap poisoning our soil from deep within 'safe' concrete and lead casing around the world.

So let's put the waste dumps under seats of government to make it really 'hot' for those shits who tell us it's safe. The technology which brought us huge oil refineries and nuclear no-go areas could be used to build a

THOSE FUCKIN' ROYALS AGAIN

The Queen is a shocking dresser...in the nicest possible way. She is what is known in the rag trade as a 'clinger', one who gives off excess static electricity which makes her clothes cling.

Royal dressmakers overcome this with special organza lining under her favourite silk and chiffon creations. Despite being one of the world's wealthiest women the Queen is cost-conscious. She always asks 'Expensive'? when shown a new design.

Not so the Queen Mum. Faced with a choice of ten gowns, she is liable to say, 'I'll have the bloody lot'.

ROYAL FASHION

This necklace, a gift from the People!

THOSE CARING, SHARING ROYALS.

Two O.A.P.s died recently when Charles and Di (pity they haven't yet) paid a visit to their neighbourhood. The royal scum were there in Toronto to open f1 billion World's Fair.

Local landlords, always ready to make a fast buck, rented out their slummy hotels and boarding houses to drooling tourists at five times the normal rent. Of course the hundreds of people already living there had to be evicted first. No problem for the bastard landlords. After all, treating people like cattle is one of the things Capitalists do best. Most of the evicted poor people had nowhere else to go (some had lived there for 62 years). Olaf Solheim, 88, and Harold Scarrow, 61, both gave up in despair after being evicted. One gave up eating and died and the other threw himself under a lorry. The landlords couldn't have cared less. Just like the royal wankers who were too busy living it up in their f800-a-week hotel suite.

Mind you! f800 is bugger all to the royals. The Queen is thinking how much to spend on Andy and Fergie's wedding present. Big Shit sister and Mark Phillip's present was a house costing half a million. Peanuts! The same sized house today would cost f3.5 million. Somehow I doubt if Andy will be disappointed.

We are preparing the Royals new homes in 'totally luxurious' wooden boxes - SIX FEET UNDER.

A GLOWING REPORT FROM OUR COMRADE ON THE STREET IN CHERNOBYL

world of windmills, wave power generators (silent, non-pollutative, great resting-places for seagulls) and solar power (yes, we do have enough sun in Britain). If all these things are possible then why don't the Guvvermint build them already? No prizes for guessing that the answer is money and power. Governments use nuclear power to weaken possible influence of the working class. A few years ago the country could be crippled by a miners' strike, but now they have 'clean and safe' nuclear plants to fall back on. Reactors never go on strike, and the people who work in them aren't allowed to. Oil and coal can be exported and so can plutonium for power stations abroad and BOMBS. They also get money for allowing our land to be used as a nuclear rubbish bin. And if everyone had a windmill, or solar panel on the roof, then they wouldn't have to pay the CEBG for electric or hot water, would they?

The Chernobyl disaster is yet another horrible reminder (remember Bhopal?) that those bastards in charge don't give a shit about us ordinary people who have to walk down the street, who don't have safe escape holes, and who have to live near these nightmares. The people who cop it in an accident, or the last to find out about it are the powerless working class, not the rich scum who reap the rewards of our risks. Big Britain is running out of oil, and the bosses are shitting themselves in case the oil-producing Arab nations hold them to ransom for energy. They reckon they're producing cheap nuclear energy but it could cost us thousands or millions in terms of human lives.
