FIVE MORE YEARS

Another five years of Tory Government...so fucking what? Would another five years of Labour(Tory) or SDP(Tory) government be any different? So what are we gonna do about it? Some lefties inform us that we can't change anything for another five years..well they can go fuck right off!! Others say that there is gonna be violent civil disobedience, physical confrontation and a widespread uprising of anger amongst the working class. This may seem like a real split of opinion, but really all it means is that one lot want to stage manage another five years of passive acceptance leaving them safely in their jobs. The other lot...Livingstone, Benn and Scargill...want to rise above their moderate colleagues on the back of our anger. Scargill persists in his fantasies of a re-run of the 1974 miners' strike - but with him not the miners firmly in con-

As for the left, they have learnt and can learn nothing. They propose another five years of chanting and marching, starting on election night when a small group of fucking idiots greeted Thatcher back to Downing St. with cries of 'Maggie..Maggie..Maggie ..OUT..OUT..OUT..' (TWATS).

We ain't gonna live in a fantasy world. Things are bad for us - there's a class war going on - but we're fucking losing it! Another five years of Tories means real pain, misery and poverty for people. But we ain't gonna cry into our beer and talk about "demoralisation" like the lefties do - in many ways that old Tory croaker Macmillan was right; "We've never had it so good." With the Labour Party finished for good, held in contempt and derision by the working class, we are now in naked opposition to our class enemy - the Tories and the Bosses. We can leap straight for their throats, go for the jugular and strangle their system. The explosion of class anger and violence to come can make 1981 look like a picnic - we can bash the rich bastards once and for all.

There are increasingly strong currents in the class struggle that take good account of this and it is here as well as in the natural anger of the class that the present struggle lies.

RED ACTION.

As class war anarchists we feel more inclined to take collective action with groups such as Red Action than with other anarchists with whom we have nothing in common except a label. The emergence of Red Action - "for the class not the party" - with their emphasis on physical presence on the streets where the action is, and determination to avoid being taken over by middle class intellectual party builders, shows that a new class war politics can be built. A class war politics that rejects both the old bollocks of the party question and the mythology and futility of the

of this SHIT...?

trol, enabling him to act as kingmaker for a new Labour government. Ken Livingstone sees thousands of east enders flocking onto the streets to defend their beloved GLC from Tory abolition in 1986. Having given Thatcher a bloody nose over this he hopes the reflected glory will project him into Parliament with the New Labour government in 1988. Scargill, Livingstone, Benn wish only to use us as cannon fodder for the return of another Labour government.

WELL HERE'S SOME NEWS FOR YOU LOT!!

We're gonna make sure that these parasites don't get powerful on our anger like the Tories get rich on our Labour..When the barricades go up they'll be a part of them and that's the only mediating that they'll be doing.

WHOEVER THEY VOTE FOR WE ARE UNGOVERNABLE

THE WORKING CLASS STRIKES BACK

We don't want to kick the Tories out...we just want to kick them!!

The middle class Lefties can continue their politics as hobby, single issue, peace camp CND, Greens/Ecology lifestyle. Embrace a base every Bank Holiday, City Limits every Thursday, Guardian every day. When the cruise missiles go in they'll still be prancing dancing and singing their way round in circles.

UPPER HEYFORD HA HA

One protester, Jane Coker said: "They are taking advantage of the fact that we are non-violent to herd us up in metal pens and take our photographs against our will. They are infringing our civil liberties because they know we will not resist."

Jobs march chief attacked

THE leader of the People's March for Jobs has been beaten up by left-wing extremists, it was revealed yesterday.

Danny Collins, 34, was attacked on Friday night as the 500 marchers arrived in London.

There can no longer be any turning back to the remedies of the left for us.

LABORE LEADERSHIP... THE CHOICE.

But it won't come through wishful thinking - just 'cos we want it to happen. Many anarchists have merely added Brixton and Toxteth to Barcelona and Kronstadt as suitable cases for historical wanking. 1981 saw what an aroused class can do - but to merely hanker after further outbreaks of anger that happened two years ago or 50 years ago is avoiding the struggles of the present.

anarchist movement; and insists on working class people controlling their own movements with no intellectual wankers taking over.

Let's wise up to our own position. Such a movement will not create the new class confrontations we desire...only the direct anger of the working class as a whole can do this - we will not even play the most insignificant part. But we are moving towards real action and intervention, knowing unemployed stayed in bed on polling day

NO FUCKING WAY!

GO FOR THE JUGULAR...

full well that this is as much as we can do given the stupidities of thirty years of party builders and state liars.

But when class anger erupts by our own actions we can ensure that for once we reach the point of no return, of no going back - when the rich bastards, their system and the dead weight of history are buried once and for all. That most anarchists will tolerate each other is proof that they will tolerate anything. There's no point in co-operation with such people....but we ask class war anarchists to make contact now....there's no fuckin' time to lose...we've wasted enough already!!

NEVER MIND THE...

BOLLOCKS TO THAT!

Dylan got rich on the fuck-ups and misery of sixties middle class youth. Maclaren and Punk got rich on the fuck-ups and misery of working class youth. Punk saved the record industry and the music hacks, safe for a few more years from resuming their sociology studies. Emphasising energy and aggression punk kicked the arse of the flabby supergroups of the 70's. But for the working class the laughs at the expense of boring old farts and the British establishment must be put in focus. God Save The Queen, Anarchy in the U.K. at No.1 - rock industry moguls getting knighted for their services to profit - it's a joke and a revelation of the sickness of the rich bastards who run the show. But the joke's on us. Reptilian shite Malcolm Maclaren was pissed off with making no money out of being a revolutionary, so he sold revolution. Gary Bushel (slob featured turd of Sounds) tried a similar thing on with Oi, but he got simplified by those wise to Maclaren's scam. Music trends and the music papers and industry are just the raciest example of how the modern market works according to the principle of 'if it moves sell it'. Working class anger, via Maclaren's rehash of old 60's politics or working class culture via Bushel's attempt to sell traditional beer and brawling pies mash and jellied eels, are good for business.

Old punks say that the Clash, Stranglers etc 'sold out' to the Big Record companies like the Lefties say that the trade unions sell out strikes.....but they would, 'cos making it as anti-heroes or heroes don't matter as long as you keep the industry ticking over. Oi rejected this by getting back to the roots but it got lost.

Though founded on a real element of class culture Oi has lapsed into adoration of the armed forces and voting Labour

FIGHT WAR/NOT WARS/ WHICH WAR/CLASS WAR!

The only band to carry the musical-politics line for ward was Crass. They have done more to spread anarchist ideas than Kropotkin, but like him their politics are up shit creek. Putting the stress on pacifism and rural escapism they refuse the truth that in the cities opposition means confrontation and violence if it were to get anywhere.

At last bands are emerging that reject the rock music/celebrity/wealth escape from working class boredom as much as they do the normal political escape of the Trade Union/Labour party route. Not interested in making it without smashing up the show and those who run it they mark a real departure from Oi that has declined into glassing each other (rather than the rich) pledging support to our boys in the S. Atlantic and voting Labour. The Apostles and the Anti-Social Workers link with the war against the rich and make for the real possibility of taking the anger and frustration away from the gig and out onto the streets and once and for all saying 'Fuck that' to the shitty rituals that pass for pleasure.

LOOT NOW WHILE SHOPS LAST!

IT LOOKS LIKE IT'S BACK TO THE STREETS THIS SUMMER !!

Commodities - TV's, Hi-Fi's, Video recorders - have short lives these days. Business turnover demands it, so help out. Already the goods "purchased" in the '81 summer spree are wearing out and armed with this knowledge consumers everywhere are ready to rip!

Tips

- 1/ Get your bricks from half-built community centres provided by the government - that's what they're there for
- 2/ Go to your local stockist and "exchange them for the required goods. Bring some friends, it's a day out for all!
- 3/ The popularity of shopping without money and the growing use of the proletarian access brick have proved that prosperity is but an arm's length away

DON'T YOU KNOW THERE'S A WAR ON?

THE BULLET, THE BALLOT, & THE BARREL!

Class war here : over the water in Ireland a direct conflict. Their enemies are our enemies as well - the police, the army and the shitheads in government. As with here they want to divert us from the struggle against their rule. As with here they put the boot in when we say 'Fuck Off'. No longer can we ignore the war in Ireland or applaud from the sidelines while they do the enemy in. Class war here national struggle there, when it comes to freedom from domination there's no way of backsliding without siding with the state.

When riots broke out in '81 the police were quick to draw the comparison with Ireland. Toxteth, Derry, Brixton or Belfast - the confrontation is the same. So fuck any sod that says that the working class catholics must unite with the protestants before there can be 'real' or 'proper' change, they're the same tossers who harp on about the people's struggle in S. Africa. And there isn't a great deal of evidence that black and white workers are united there.

1-1-IRA: FUCK THE QUEEN AND THE UDA!

When Gerry Fitt, commenting on Gerry Adams' election, said that the people of W. Belfast had consciously voted for armed struggle he was on the ball for once! The Provos have time and again shown that they are the genuine voice of the catholic ghettos - 30,000 voted for Bobby Sands, 100,000 turned out for his funeral. The Provos use the ballot to expose the lies of the media about their support, but they choose the bullet as the only effective way to remove British rule. Yesterday's rioters on the streets of Derry and Belfast are today's IRA volunteers or prisoners in Long Kesh. They have the massive support for the defense of their communities and their armed attacks on police and army.

THE PROVOS PREPARE A MORTAR ATTACK ON ARMY BARRACKS.

The nationalist movement isn't another macho wet dream. The Irish women's movement sprang up at the time of the civil rights marches when working class women began to organise to fight their oppression. They are a world away from wanky middle class British feminism, with it's consciousness raising groups and CND badges. Irish women can't afford the luxury of sitting back and moaning about sexism - they get on and do the business now. During the hunger strikes, women carried on the old tradition of banging dustbin lids on the ground in the estates, to announce the death of a republican. They also organise demonstrations and picket in support of their brothers, husbands and sons in the H-Blocks.

Women support their sisters in Armagh gaol, where female republicans are treated like shit - sexually abused, only allowed one sanitary towel a month etc. One woman said in 1980 " There is menstrual blood on the walls of Armagh prison. 32 women on dirt strike have not washed their bodies for 200 days... they use their cells as toilets; they have lived amid their own excreta, urine and blood...the menstrual blood on the walls of Armagh prison smells to high heaven, shall we turn our noses up?".

Irish women will strike, riot and join the armed struggle - unlike the British tossers frightened to get their hands and legwarmers dirty.

Most so-called anarchists will not support the Nationalists in Ireland, but they can stick their fucking intellectual arguments up their liberal arses. Many of the rioting youth of '81 and '82 recognised their common interest with kids in Derry and Belfast. In 1980, the Daily Mail described riots in St. Pauls, Bristol, as "a scene from Belfast without the bombs."

The fight of the working class in Ireland and Britain, as everywhere else, is the same - against the state it's police army and rich fuckers who shit on us. That is why we have to learn about the Irish freedom fighters, and realise their struggle is also ours. Get the fucking troops out of Ireland - NOW. And get the bastards out of Britain too!!!
