for gays lesbians and bisexuals in central england

ONE STEP NEARER

Almost 100 people turned up during a two-hour open house at 259 Mansfield Road, Nottingham, which is the proposed site of a new lesbian, gay and bisexual centre for the city. Many of the visitors took out standing orders for the Out House Project, the organisation which has been spearheading the move for a centre over the last ten years.

Out House Members voted overwhelmingly to back the proposed building, subject to planning permission and the viability of a business plan. We should have more news next month.

Meanwhile, a classical music fundraiser for the Centre takes place on Thursday March 30th, 7.30pm. Jonathan Bailey and John Naylor will be giving a flute and piano recital of the music of Faure, Ravel and Saint-Saens at the Friends Meeting House, Clarendon Street, Nottingham. More news on page 2.

The overwhelming response to the building was positive with some reservations, including the need for full disabled access, but on the whole it was felt by the visitors that the building had a lot to offer. Following the open house a General Meeting of the

MORE FORUMS FOR DERBY

The Derby Gay and Lesbian Police Liaison Group are to hold more Open Forums. Inspector Glenn Wicks, founder of a team of police officers, trained specifically to deal with homophobic incidents, will update the liaison group about police action.

"Since the police team was set up eight months ago they have dealt with reports of 15 incidents, including such serious offenses as blackmail, robberies and woundings. This compares with only three similar reports during the previous 12 months," said Insp. Wicks.

Glenn Wicks and Wyl Lewis of Derby Friend, the befriending and counselling group, recently addressed a seminar, on policing gay and lesbian communities at the Hampshire Police Staff College. "Derby police have become pioneers in dealing with homophobia. The force is certainly one of the first in the country to monitor incidents of this kind."

"It is vital that members of the gay and lesbian community come to meetings to express their views. Our ultimate aim is to reduce their fears - and only they can tell us if we are succeeding," added Insp. Wicks.

SERIOUS MONEY FOR LASS

Two recent highly successful fundraising benefits have left LASS (Leicestershire Aids Support Services) better off to the tune of over £25,000 over the last couple of months.

The second Red Ribbon Fashion Event in December launched by Nottingham man, Phil Blake in 1993, netted over £8,000 for LASS, whilst the seventh annual Prom-enaid at Leicester's Haymarket Theatre last month brought in well over £15,000 - it's best yet, with more to come. We will bring you news of the final total next month.

NEW SAUNA

A new sauna catering exclusively for gay men opens in Leicester as we go to press. Raffles will also be one of the few establishments to have separate lounges for smokers and non-smokers.

Covering a large area on one level there will be plenty of space and another plus is that it is within walking distance of the Pineapple Inn and not much further to the town centre.

See advert on page 9.

NEW PICTURES AT THE GALLERY

The Gallery, Derby's longest established gay bar, is under new management, but Ruby is still there! Extensive refurbishment is almost complete including a completely rebuilt cellar allowing the stocking of real ales with regular guest ales. There is also a new sound and video system and new heating and air filtering systems. By popular request they have kept the pool table and improved the facilities in the pool room. One of the few places around open every night of the year.

A series of events, including fund raisers for local charities, are planned, following the recent highly successful 'Priscilla' evening which raised £107 for Derby Body Positive. And from the 5th February there will be a camp bingo session on every Sunday lunchtime, with various prizes each week. Pictured above are the winning team with Ruby centre stage.

MORE PRISCILLA!

Friday 31st March sees 'Priscilla 2' at the Green Lane Gallery from 8pm onwards. This will be a Priscilla drag evening with a competition for the best frocks, and cash prizes for the most outrageous outfit. Then everyone minces over to the Metro Cinema for another showing of 'Priscilla' at 11.15pm.

New Mental Health Group

As part of an initiative to expand current community services available to gay men throughout the Leicestershire area, Karl and Richard are keen to start up a group in the Leicester city area for gay men with mental health difficulties. They are keen to hear from any gay men of all age groups who would be interested in attending such a group.

The group's primary aim, say its organisers, will be to provide a safe space where gay men with mental health problems can meet and socialise on a regular basis, in an environment which is both befriending and supportive. The sooner Karl and Richard hear from people interested in attending, the sooner they can begin. For further info. contact Karl on (0116) 2365020 or Richard (0116) 2736017.

Outburst 1!

Dear Outright,

So friends of Wesleyan trainee minister Paul Webb are "in a state of shock" because he has been forced to resign from the Wesleyan Reform Church (Outright 57).

I am shocked that homosexuals can be so naive as to believe that they are not condemned by Christianity's horror comic, the Bible.

I am shocked that women are clamouring to become priests in a church when that same Bible relegates them to their second-class place.

I am shocked that the only Christian churches which are growing in Britain have memberships consisting mainly of black people whose ancestors were the property of slave-owning Christian believers and institutions.

Yes, Christianity certainly has the knack of persuading its dupes to embrace mental bondage.

Yours sincerely, James Walkley-Mann, Sheffield.

LEAD ME

The Gay & Lesbian Humanist T-Shirt, modelled here by a model from Prowler Press, is available from GALHA, 34 Spring Lane, Kenilworth, CV8 2HB in medium or extra large at £8.50 incl p&p. The slogan comes in black or pink.

GALHA is the humanist alternative to organised religion for lesbians, gays and bisexuals.

Outburst 2!

Dear Outright,

I took a particular interest in your article about Paul Webb as from 1989-93 I was a full-time Ordained minister within the Wesleyan Reform Union of Churches.

In December 1993 I made it known to the officials of the Wesleyan Reform Union that I had a Gay sexual Orientation. I stressed to them that I was not actively involved in any Homosexual relationship nor had I ever been but on the grounds simply of Orientation I was told that I must resign, that what I was feeling was unacceptable and an abomination. So I resigned, I lost my home and my friends, and to a certain extent, my faith. I no longer go to church or have anything to do with religion. My experience has made me very bitter.

I feel angry that I should be dictated to on how I should feel or behave. I feel betrayed by the people who supposedly respected me and surrounded me with love and care. Now the majority of people who used to frequently invite me for Sunday lunch don't even speak to me any more!

Salt was rubbed into my wounds a few months ago when a senior minister of the Wesleyan reform church was convicted at Leicester Crown Court on seven charges of child abuse and given a prison sentence. The Minister in question offered his resignation to the Wesleyan Reform church but they would not accept it as certain church officials still believed him to be innocent. The same officials that forced me to resign for having a 'wrong' sexual orientation!

There is no doubt that had I not come out I would have been treated very differently today. In my short time as an ordained Minister I was very successful and at the point of resignation, I was nearing the end of a period of being Minister of two churches in Nottinghamshire.

Your article brought back some of the painful memories that I have tried to put behind me. How sorry I feel for Paul Webb that he should have to go through the same discrimination and indignation that I have had to go through. Maybe you can share my story with him or put me in touch with him, so that he knows that he is not alone in this matter. It might serve some purpose in exposing today's church leaders for the bigots that they are!

Yours etc.

Andrew Orton.

To Die For

STRAWBERRY CHOCOLATE

Dir: Tabio & Alea/Cuba/1994/111 mins

This Cuban comic gem is a humane plea for tolerance and love, filled with malicious swipes against the Castro regime. The plot concerns two sexual opposites - a macho, idealistic student and an older, gay art lover - and the friendship that grows between them.

Thur. 16th - Sun. 19th Feb, 8.30pm
(Sunday 8.00pm).

TOTALLY F****ED UP

Dir: Gregg Araki/USA/1994/80 mins.

Like Araki's last movie, 'The Living End', this is a hard-hitting, very angry examination of the alienation felt by gay LA teenagers. The film starts with an aspiring film-maker videotaping his six closest friends' thoughts, then moves into a story of the infidelity which threatens the group's friendship.

Even Cowgirls Get The Blues

TO DIE FOR

Dir: Peter MacKenzie Litten/

Compassionate and amusing, this is a kind of 'Truly Madly Deeply', in which a HIV victim returns as a ghost to give his ex-partner hell for carrying on with a recklessly flamboyant lifestyle.

DYKES ON THE MARCH

Author and activist Sarah Schulman describes the lead up to the March on the White House in Washington DC in April 1993, the largest lesbian event ever held.

"The Lesbian Avengers first nationally co-ordinated event was in April 1993 as part of the national Lesbian and Gay march on Washington. Working together with some smaller organisations we decided to create the first ever Dyke March on the White House and set it for the night before the big Sunday demo.

This was the first time the Avengers had worked in a lesbian coalition and it was really tough. We had evolved a new kind of organising style that was action-orientated, not ideologically-based, and had a way of working and speaking that was familiar to the other groups. Furthermore, we now represented hundreds of people nationally and could bring out a hundred Avengers at the drop of a hat to do the real work of building an event.

It was hard to deal with groups who didn't really represent anybody beyond their 15 members or couldn't do the necessary prep work. That old style of organising was foreign to Avengers, as most had never been politically active before.

About 50 Avengers got to Washington a few days early and started distributing thousands of club cards to the enthusiastically arriving crowd. The cards said: 'Dyke March to the White House, DuPont Circle, Saturday at 7, Co-Sponsored by the Lesbian Avengers'. No long-winded explanations were necessary.

Over a million gays and lesbians travelled to Washington for this event and the streets were totally homosexual. Many people saved their vacation days and planned for months to attend and the enthusiasm was very, very high. Our little cards were received with overwhelming excitement and it began to occur to us that we were going to get more than the three or four thousand dykes we had anticipated.

That night we all gathered at DuPont Circle and the women kept coming. We started marching (in true Avengers style - without a permit), and soon realised that the numbers were absolutely huge. Around 20,000 lesbians marched through Washington DC that night - the largest lesbian event in the history of the world.

We did make the front page of the Washington Post the next day, but they didn't print the name of our organisation and they slashed the estimate to 6,000, and virtually no other mainstream press even mentioned this event; but those 20,000 lesbians all went home and told their friends.

At Washington we distributed 25,000 copies of a broadsheet with concrete information on how to start a lesbian direct action group. By the time we returned wearily to New York, Avenger chapters were springing up nationally".

welcome to wel fair

A new welfare rights and advocacy project for gays, lesbians and bisexuals was launched this month. Believed to be the first of its kind in the UK, wel fair is run by volunteers and offers a free, confidential advice service on welfare benefit entitlements, employment rights, and advocacy at appeals tribunals.

Andrew Clarke, who is a professional Welfare Rights Officer by day, is offering his skills to others in the lesbian, gay and bisexual community as the first volunteer for wel fair.

The project has been launched by Nottingham's OUT HOUSE Project and the weekly advice sessions will be held in The OUT HOUSE community centre when it opens later this year. In the meantime the 24 hour wel fair line goes into service on Saturday 4th February. Details of advice sessions will be given on wel fair line in mid-February and announced in outright! next month.

A trial run for the wel fair service took place last November when outright! interviewed Andrew Clarke. Since then a lot of work has gone into developing the project and success came in January when funding for the pilot project was secured from Notts County Council.

And the name wel fair? The name and logo were thought up by five students at Nottingham Trent University working on a design project for The OUT HOUSE Project as part of their degree course.

Lesbians and bisexual men and women volunteers with professional experience in the fields of welfare rights, employment and housing are being sought by wel fair. If you meet the criteria and some spare time phone wel fair on 0115 403 940

FOR POSITIVE CHANGE

LIFE IS NOT THE SAME IF YOU'RE GAY

The laws surrounding pensions make it difficult for unmarried couples to plan for retirement. When you are gay, it is not only the law that makes it difficult. It is the misconceptions surrounding intestacy and trusts. In other words, if you think you may ever want a partner to benefit from your pension plan in the event of your death you cannot leave it to chance.

Your independent financial adviser should not only inform you of the costs involved of any particular pension policy, but the size, strength and past performance of the pension office. Financial advice, however, does not stop there.

To us, getting it right seems surprisingly simple. We do not charge and our service is confidential.

ACCESSING THE SERVICES

Lincolnshire is a county 2,300 miles square, the second largest county in the country, it is also a very rural county and has all the problems that go with rural areas. Access by road throughout the county is poor, public transport could be much improved, unlike a major city, there is no focal point for the gay community. The population is spread out through the county in a handful of towns and hundreds of small villages, where coming out becomes impossible due to the homophobia and lack of any identifiable gay support, leaving many gay men and women feeling isolated. In short, homosexuality is driven underground and the reality is that gay men and women are not receiving the health education and back up they are entitled to and which is readily available.

To a certain extent the gay community must take some of the responsibility for accessing the services for themselves, finding out what is available and then using it. There are two gay outreach workers covering the county who have information ranging from HIV, Sexually Transmitted Diseases, to new gay groups that are starting up throughout the county. The Outreach workers also carry condoms, lube, rights on arrest cards, free papers etc. and they will travel to where you are. Gay Switchboard also offer a totally confidential mailing service for condoms and free papers as well as having a hive of information; they are able to refer you to other groups that may be of interest such as the Rural Reach which puts people in touch with others in rural areas.

Money has been set aside for the gay community, to be spent on HIV prevention, the services are set up and running but could be expanded, with further support. If however, the services are under used, the sad story is, that the money that at the moment is prioritised will, in time disappear and the gay community will be left with less and less.

CONCEPT CALL FOR FUNDS

Nottingham could become the home to a unique arts organization if the ten-year dream of its founder Lesbian and Gay Art Worker Jacky King, is realised. Over the last couple of years she has been getting a team of people together who would help make The Concept - Empowerment without Exploitation - the National Centre of Lesbian and Gay Arts, a reality.

Jacky King

The Concept has a seven-stage action plan and is hopeful of gaining charitable status. It hopes to raise its first £5,000 by the end of February 1995 which would cover the start-up costs including legal fees and planning applications.

The second stage is to raise £7,000 by April 1995, with a further £8,000 by the following month to cover its launch at Pride '95.

The fourth and fifth stages will involve raising funds for a building and its refurbishment and for training and employment opportunities.

Amongst the aims of the Concept are to create a broad art-based, non-profit making organization to meet a local and national need and promote lesbian and gay arts in the widest possible sense.

Anyone interested in finding out more about the Concept should write to Outright marking the envelope "FAO Jacky King", which we shall be pleased to forward on to her.

TAKE A BREAK

As aptly illustrated by Lenny Kravitz, Primal Scream etc. there's gold in them thar hills as far as regurgitating past musical styles goes. After an absence of five years since the release of their eponymous debut, the Stone Roses returned with their modestly titled album 'The Second Coming'. The trouble is that when someone produces a debut LP that's considered 100/100 on the groundbreakingly wow! scale, it's pretty tough to follow that lead and live up to it. There's a good ploy in to do something so off the wall and bizarre that when it gets slated it's easy to say "Oh, but you don't understand the neo-minimalistic aspect of the non-co-operative aural stimulation". Or, as the 'Roses did, bum around for half a decade getting out of it (and getting paid for it) and eventually slinging out something that's as old as the hills. Reworks of bluesy, chugging Led Zeppelin and Deep Purple castoffs do not a good album make. 'Driving South' and the 45 'Love Spreads' are so retro it's as if punk rock never happened, as they say. The Stone Roses should have copied the Sex Pistols and split after their first album. What the world is waiting for.....I don't think so somehow.

of those in the know for the past seventeen-odd years. 'Sex And Death', the umpteenth Durutti album affirms Mr. Reilly as one of the post-punk Manchester scene's truly invigorating musical wonders. Harking back in places to a style and texture exemplified on works such as 'The Return of the Durutti Column' and 'Obey The Time', this delicious offering merely confirms that Vini Reilly continues to be a force to be reckoned with.

MMMMMMMM!

In the sexist world of rock & roll, there have been many men who have attained the lofty heights of guitar craftsmanship to become labelled as 'Guitar Gods'. Some are wildly imaginative and highly adept at cascading waves of wire-bending fret-bashing sounds and receive world-wide acclaim. Some have that accolade bestowed upon them without justification and some deserve the praise but never seem to be free from the restrictions of the cult market. Falling into the latter category is Vini Reilly, aka The Durutti Column, Mancunian maestro of some of the most beautifully crafted music that has been melting the ears
