MAIN STAGE SATURDAY

BLOODY LOVELY

Nottingham's grubbiest grungesters began as a Yorkshire busking duo, Bloody Key and Krodge Lovely. While in Bradford they stumbled upon a bizarre street act by the name of Testicular Pincushion. The two skinny street urchins, one a tattooed and pierced dancer called (Charlie Broomstick) the other a blood gargling baby-eating pantomime performer (B.L.Z. Bob) were recruited on the spot and Bloody Lovely gained a theatrical element. After moving to Nottingham in 91, drummer Tim Quim (whose other band state Of Grace recently achieved Single Of The Week in MM) was recruited along with Laughing Boy Pip on bass to record the first demo as a six piece, which prompted Overall muzine into one of its rare Demo of the Month accolades. The year ended with several sell out gigs as the stage show evolved into a "Horror Pantomime" which got them banned from several venues around the country during 92, which didn't stop them from stealing the show at the Rock & Reggae in front of their by now regular fanatical following called the Pod Squad and Purple Chicken Patrol. A main stage appearance at Rock City headlining over the Scottish Sex Pistols and Rev Hammer, followed by this year's Slugginder Tour which got them banned from even more venues. Hate mail began to arrive on the steps of Lovelyville which was later wrecked by burglars, their posters were torn down and various band members were threatened in the street. Bloody Lovely thought this was great and decided to become even more offensive. See the leading exponents of splattercore make their second Rock & Reggae appearance.

EB & THE SYSTEM

Basingstoke's finest, this funky rap rock outfit make their second appearance in Nottingham this year, after a "fried circuit" appearance at the Kool Kat a few months ago. Described as "somewhere between Senser and the 25th May. They really are trying to take hip-hop one step further."

EMPEROR SLY (pictured)

Emperor Sly's club-meets-dub hip hop groove, Rhythm Redeemer has gained positive underground radio and club reaction. The four-piece W.London dance dub act has been building an enthusiastic following with key club and university dates since October—most righteous gig so far being The Waterfront in Norwich, supporting Eek-A-Mouse. Roots dub warping through the technological domain.

PSYCHASTORM

Well known faces in the area, Psychastorm have been leaping from strength to strength in their own inimitable 'Space Age Traveller' kind of way. Regular gigs around the country in support to bands as diverse as Bushfire, Back to The Planet and Metal Monkey Machine, and the all important Castlemorton appearance have put Psychastorm right up their along with the Melody Maker's Crusty Nation. Gone are the ham-American Metal Funkisms, in their place a crystalline fusion between dub, funk and hip hop.

FATHEAD

Former Serious Love Addicts singer songwriter and guitarist Christian along with drummer Michael recruited "hardcore motherfucker" and former Peg bassist Jonn to complete this guitar power pop trio. Their reputation and a batch of catchy hard-edged songs quickly earned them a recording deal. Their debut EP Mellow Drama will be released on Servo Records in early August.

SAD

Having only been together for less than a year, Sad have cut themselves an enviable reputation with audiences and reviewers nationwide. Sad as a name is perfectly reflective of their lyrical content, dwelling on the relationships and life trials of the band. The songs are performed with the power and passion of a band determined to make their mark.

BLIND MOLE RAT (pictured)

Purveyors of trouble-folk, Blind Mole Rat formed in late 1990 by singer-songwriter Dan and Chris (guitar accordion, harmonica) who gigged with various line-ups including percussion, uilleann pipes, tin whistle). The first permanent addition was Kiri on violin, who joined mid-1991. The trio performed regular acoustic gigs around Sheffield through second half of that year until they were joined by Jelly (bass guitar/ keyboards) and Garry (drums) in January 1992. A string of dates in France followed in September, and a tour of Germany is on the cards for this year following the release of their Rat-a-tat-tat EP in June. Blind Mole Rat write all their own material, defining it as funk'n'punk'n'folk'n'rock'n'roll.

SCUM PUPS

In their time the Scum Pups have refused to be buried under the apathy and weak minded mess that is the UK underground music scene. In these days of over-rated American slackers and pseudo revolutionary bands, it's no wonder less and less people attend gigs.....it seems that everyone has forgotten how to entertain.

The Pups have learnt the hard way. Their 'Play anywhere, for any money' policy has put them on the map and into the red. Their power-laced anthems strike home to many a true rocker's heart. Combining epic tunes with blatant plagiarism, they conjure up potent memories of the days when British rock rightfully ruled the planet. Picking only the finest clichés and the best riffs, the Pups have built a heavy metal shield to rebound the evil 'Grunge' pigeon holing from lazy London journalists. Scum Pups release their first full-length L.P. Sonic Sculptures from the Black Magna, an enchanted slice of British pop/rock. It was born with a split personality; listen to Raised by Clowns.....hatred never sounded so kickin'. Check out the 70's glam stomp of Breathing Glitter. The Pups however are sussed enough to know that noise alone is not always the ticket, as shown with the acoustic grace of Shudder. Live the Pups walk the line between art and comedy. Vocalist and axe-monster Midge James Day is your baby faced kid brother from Hell. One minute an angel, the next a devil. Next to him is bass player and part time pin up, Pepper Hessin....in two words hairy and horny. Bringing up the rear, so to speak, is Dodge, skin pounder and real ale connoisseur, his one objective in life....to hit things. The whole set is charged by a hybrid of emotions; anger, fun loathing and embarrassment. The Scum Pups entertain. There hasn't been a good British rock band since Motorhead Why are there so many two-bit student bands making money out of preaching the bleeding obvious to the already converted? The Pups' songs transcend class, colour, sexual orientation....no gimmicks....no manifestos....rock 'n' roll for everyone. Even language is no barrier judging by the reaction received on the recent French tour. The Scum Pups live is Leicester's answer to Waco, a castle on an industrial estate near the dirty canal. There they plot to overthrow the evil clique, back slapping, cock sucking London indie scene. Armed with only dubious substances and a handful of stolen riffs, accounts will be settled, flags will be burnt, spells will be cast, someone's gonna get hurt....

...it's gonna be a long, hot summer.....

WANGO RILEY'S TRAVELLING STAGE

WHOLESOME FISH

One of the best known acts in Nottingham, Wholesome Fish were born in the summer of '88. Their music spans the continents of musical taste, from the hill-billy rawness of the Ozarks through the intricacy of indian rags to the energy of Eats European folk. Closer to home they blend English, Irish and Scottish music with the spirit of 70's punk. The release of their Dada EP earlier this year on their own One Eyed Pug label was followed by a tour of Eastern Europe and a return home to a string of dates around the country including seven appearances in three days at Glastonbury, one of which was broadcast on prime time Radio One. They shared the billing with The Barely Works and The Pogues at The Heineken Music Festival, and a new LP Fresh And Wet is now available on cassette. The future has never looked better for this cajun dub folk collective of damn' fine musicians whose catchphrase is "Only dead fish swim with the stream". During the week following the Rock & Reggae Festival the Fish will be broadcast every evening as Artists Of The Week on John Tainton's Midlands Network Radio Show.

MORE ABOUT PELICANS (pictured)

More About Pelicans formed in the summer of 1989 when Hubert Holden, singer/songwriter and guitarist, asked Tim Jones to join him on the bass guitar. In 1990, Daren Halls joined to play drums, shortly followed by Mat Williams on keyboards. Most had been in other bands before changing their style to reggae. They embarked on an intense programme of rehearsals and several successful performances around the country, whilst generating a strong following in their home town, Derby. By the end of 1991, having signed with Jupiter Records, the band had emerged from RMS Studios in London with their debut LP Nation to Nation. 1992 saw the completion of the present line up with Dave Jackson as percussionist. Last summer More About Pelicans made their first appearance at the Rock and Reggae Festival and headlined the Vale Earth Fair in Guernsey. After an Autumn spent rehearsing new material, the band are now awaiting more London dates, a U.K. tour and beyond.

DUB MERGE

Hailing from Worcestershire, Dub Merge is a fusion of bands playing reggae music which addresses many different topics.

ROUGHNECK SOUND

Formed from the AK 47s, Newcastle's Dub Merge appeared on Wango Rileys Travelling Stage last year early on the Sunday morning, the DJ playing with his decks on the floor as no-one could find a table. Not as heavy as the name suggests, they are similar in style to Dub Syndicate and employ subtlety and texture.

THE AGE

A rare appearance by Lord Cape, who once supported Hawkwind in Detroit, brother Tooth the dread style bassist of Joe '91 fame, Harry le Renard so named after being bitten by a fox in a motoring incident and the classically trained Stomp, these idiosyncratic pioneers of "order out of chaos" improvised psychedelic music divide their time between Nottingham, Northumberland and Nowhere.

AOS 3

A hybrid of roots reggae, with hardcore and psychedelic creeping in, AOS3 were formed in the summer of 1990 and have been gigging ever since. They are now a six piece, featuring two guitars, keyboards, noise generator (that's right!), rabid political ranting and a driving rhythm section. The band have established a substantial following in the North East, released three demo tapes of album length, and played support to Martin Stephenson, Leatherface, RDF, Citizen Fish and many others. They also played at several of last year's free festivals, as the finest example of native reggae for both the mellow and the manic. AOS3 are definitely dance material, but not of the Manchester variety. Skanking, thinking, and smiling at each other— an upwards thrust for the upper crust.

TOFU LOVE FROGS

Punky folksy Hackney squat culture people, this large chaotic band (involving children playing bodrans) are big on the testy scene. They are also instrumental in the running of the Hackney Homeless Festival in spring.

POISONED ELECTRICK HEAD

Formed in '86 from the debris of four previous bands, their distinctive sound stems from several shared psychedelic experiences and a host of oddball and eclectic influences. They have appeared at many large gatherings and illegal events such as Glastonbury, Stonehenge and Castlemorton. The Poisoned Electrick Head live experience is a sonic and visual sensory overload. Synaptic nerves are affected and DNA restructuring has been recorded in casual observers. Long term exposure can result in irreversible genetic damage.

BUSHFIRE

Since their first impromptu performance a few years ago, Bushfire have become welcome visitors to Nottingham. An association of resourceful, free thinking people forming one big music machine, they perform original music with lively percussion and real instruments, the heaviest experimental dub creating an atmosphere people want to experience again and again. Bushfire make feet dance, minds swim and knees wobble. The musicians, Smartie, Tina Bean, Jah D., dB Holmes, Bones, Boogie and Styx also come with a team of technicians. Mr Colin provides the lights and visuals while Weirdfish Chant the Sound Sturgeon works, mixes and dubs Bushfire songs creating rich textures of sound.

MOONFLOWERS

Experience this infectiously groovy group of assorted insectoid beings fiddling and blowing and buzzing around the stage and it's impossible not to be drawn into their wacky musical world of love, peace and butterflies. A fitting finale to the festivities..

Festivalgoers can once again enjoy the many and varied forms of entertainment provided by the The Great Radford Road Swindle Performance Marquee. From jugglers and fire eaters to displays of body piercing and tattooing, from weird and wonderful fractals on a five foot TV screen to Lesbian and gay Theatre — the Swindle's coordinators promise to raise a few eyebrows. As well as bringing new forms of entertainment to the festival, The Swindle Marquee will again boast the East Midlands' finest cabaret with poets and stand up comedians; and is proud to stage productions from final year Creative Arts students from Nottingham Trent University. By popular demand the Swindle Bingo games will be played once a day! Once again the marquee will serve as a cinema, showing films and slides from animators, film makers and photographers from the region. Sirius Lights and The Invisible Light Show will end both nights with a blaze of colour and animation. Music will be served throughout the day. Acoustic folk on Saturday and the sweetest jazz this side of Sugar Candy Mountain on the Sunday. The Swindle's very own Lafta Café will be serving hot and cold drinks throughout the day as patrons sit in style and comfort at tables and chairs — enjoying Nottingham's very own peoples festival.

THE DAY BRIAN CLOUGH BECAME PRIME MINISTER

All the banks gave away their money
Jimmy Tarbuck said something funny
Marilyn Monroe sent kisses from the grave
A Scottish goalkeeper made a fantastic save
The Match Of The Day tune was played by the bells of Big Ben
The day Brian Clough moved into Number Ten

Palm leaves were held by the stems
Brian walked across the Thames
"A miracle!" the Archbishop cried - Cloughie said "was it?"
George Graham thought it's now or never and came out the closet
The crowd went ecstatic and sang "George you'll never walk alone"
Then Cloughie said it was legal for the ganja to be grown

He flogged the monarchy to the states on a fifty year lease
Fergie and Di pissed off to Hollywood and gave us all peace
He recieved an autographed photograph
From the cup winning team of Dynamo Dubrovnic
The day Cloughie formed the British Democratic Republic

His assistant was Tony Benn - the Saint & Greavsie read News At 10
Poets were given seats in the House of Lords
The Peers were sent to Dagenham to work at Fords
The world's loneliest bachelor became happily married
To the world's loneliest spinster
The day Brian Clough became Prime Minister

Jimmy Hill was relied upon to say something bland
Leaded petrol, vivisection and the off-side trap were banned
Nostradamus had phrophecised it
John Cooper Clarke became the Poet Laureate
The planet was visited by Captain Kirk
Everyone was given work
There was a fair distribution of the Commonwealth
Newcastle Brown Ale was put on the National Health
"EARWIGO EARWIGO EARWIGO"
Echoed down the corridors of Westminster
On that great and unforgettable day
When THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE became Prime Minister.

Dedicated to Jimmy Sirrell.

MAIN STAGE SUNDAY

Howard: MIND THE GAP

THE SEA

Two years into The Sea's swim for success, a special sound has evolved. Mixing a hard dance beat to the sweetness of folk and pile-driving grunge, The Sea leave you unable to sit still. To dance is the only solution! The Sea hail from South-East London and are part of the underground scene that has spawned such bands as Back to the Planet, RDF and Ruff, Ruff and Ready. A single release and extensive touring are planned for the coming year, including a support tour with Back to the Planet. 1992 highlights included a great reception on the NME stage at Glastonbury, a stomping set at Strawberry Fayre, and the New Cross Urban Free Festival where they played a blinding set to five thousand happy and sunburnt people. The Sea are fronted by Sam Raine, playing acoustic guitar and singing with a voice full of heart and passion. Backed up by brother Ben on lead guitar, the grunge god (with a touch of subtlety), a man with many fingers (ten) and a foot that exhausts many a wah-wah. The pounding beat is owed to James Corner on drums (banging away in a haze of sweat and hair— a man possessed) and the band's newest member, the mighty Bevin Burke ".....basslines so mean that he has to wear full combat gear" was how Melody Maker described his technique. Last, but by no means least is the infamous Dr Rat McShit, the world's foremost exponent of thrash melodian.

REV HAMMER

Rev Hammer is an entertainer who has built up a strong following through ten years of extensive touring and dynamic live performance. His songs cover highlands, islands, romance and prize fighting, and in ancient Troubadour tradition he has earned his living the "live-way" playing rock venues, clubs, art centres and festivals across Britain and the continent. In 1986 he formed the Red Sky Coven travelling revue, along with the poetress Joolz and Justin Sullivan of New Model Army and regularly tours with them both. After meeting The Levellers at Glastonbury in 1991 he went on to form regular collaborations with them both at live events and in the studio, his first vinyl LP Industrial Sound and Magic featuring The Levellers and establishing Rev Hammer as one of England's leading songwriters. He completed a British tour early this year and supported The Levellers and The Ukrainians in Germany, and is about to start recording his second album.

SPANNERMAN (pictured right)

Combining freestyle jazzrock with a death-defying trapeze act this stunning costumed performance act promises to astound and amaze. They are currently featured in a television advert for Tizer, and play every festival in sight including Glastonbury and Phoenix, as well as regular appearances at Club Dog.

- 2.00 RHYTHM ANGELS

STAK IT UP

Sole survivors of Nottingham's once buzzing funk scene, Stak It Up deserved to stay the course. Their big band sound never fails to find to find the groove and has made them one of the hottest acts in town. The recent collaboration with top funky hip hop trio 3:6 Philly made a live act which is a delight to witness and all fans of funky acid jazz rap will be pleased to see both acts returning to the festival to team up on the main stage.

MIND THE GAP

Matt, Sophie, Howard and Steve have been creating music for nearly four years. They honed their collective skills during a weekly workout as Swinging Affair which lasted two years and evolved into Mind The Gap, a surprisingly good improvised jazz quartet whose reputation earned them a residency at the British Pavilion in Barcelona during Expo '92. They released their debut The Positive Side CD earlier this year, following a special appearance with Harry Beckett sponsored by the Arts Council at Nottingham's Old Vic during the Jazz & Roots '93 season of world music. But don't think this is some stuffy arty combo. Mind The Gap's original material is jazzy dance music flavoured with an off the cuff spontaneity fuelled by the rare alchemy which exists between these four excellent musicians.

RHYTHM ANGELS

Another band to have worked hard in Europe and now turned to home to make their mark. The Rhythm Angels' powerful but classic song-writing talents are fast becoming firm favourites with audiences. Made from the original rock mould they live and drink rock and roll!

SOLID STATE COALITION

There was once a band called Harry & The Crabs who played to a packed house every fortnight at Nottingham's famous blues venue The Running Horse. At their final gig before Harry's departure for New Orleans, The Crabs brought the house down with the unannounced appearance of Eugene and Trevor from the Buhdha Bros. crew. Rapping in the Runner was a new experience. This artistic departure is now fronted by Eugene alone while the tightest trio in town lay down some rockin reggae rhythms for his up front vocal style. Though the band's name changed a few times before settling for Solid State Coalition, the style remains consistent. Check this out.

COLONEL HATHI'S DAWN PATROL

Big ska band from Cambridge, Colonel Hathi's Dawn Patrol are the ultimate party band providing helter skelter ska guaranteed to bend even the most cardboard and sober audience, which we know you ain't!

Late news: Fun-da-mental will not be appearing at the Rock & Reggae Festival due to illness although their appearance at the Asian Music Festival will still go ahead as planned. They are to be replaced by Credit To The Nation. Homage Freaks have also been forced to cancel, their replacement to be announced.

STOP PRESS

Overall has just received confirmation that Nottingham City Council have granted permission for of a two day event which will take place on Saturday 25th and Sunday 26th September on Nottingham Racecourse. The Band Aid type concert is being organised by Aid Relief Overseas to raise funds to aid refugees from the former Yugoslavia and to help fund a rebuilding programme for that devastated part of Europe ( particularly the Pakrac Hospital in Central Croatia which has been totally destroyed by the fighting), to be carried out under UN guidelines. A series of benefit gigs has already been confirmed for various venues around the Midlands (see listings). Four celebrity acts have been invited to take part in the event alongside the following acts from the Midlands: UK 95, Thursday's Child, Ramraid, Be Vivid, Stranger Than fiction, Twisting dragons, Panic Incarnate, Technosis, Destiny Ranch, Angel Nation, Pick Up Sticks, Notorious Dawsons, Cassidy Show Band, The Wallflowers, Endless, Mushroom, Five Go Off In A Caravan, Kachina, Smear, Squid, Neverland, Pet Lemmings, Warser Gate, Affliction and Polish band Our Mad Sister.
