The Captain's Fund is dedicated to the memory of a "very special person who died recently." He was an example to many of living life "until the end." The fund seeks to help and support the families, bills, and respite care of people with direct financial assistance, so "now seems a good time to remind readers about the Trust." The clearly defined aim of the Trust is to give financial assistance to gay or gay-related projects in Derby, Leicester, Nottingham and surrounding counties. Do you know anyone or any project which you feel should be considered? If you do, let them see this. It could make all the difference to them... At serious applications are given consideration and the Trustees try to help wherever possible. Applications should be addressed to J.C. Hardy, Enq. Hon. Sec. Pavilion Trust, One B, Boulevard, Darbyshire, DE7 3AA.

The Captain's Fund for people living with HIV/AIDS - a film about black American homosexuality - appeared in the journal last month to launch an HIV/AIDS organization. The event was organized jointly by Nottingham AIDSAIDS Information Project and Nottingham Body Positive to launch the Captain's Fund for people living with HIV/AIDS.

NEW GAY GROUP IN CHESTERFIELD

A new gay men's social group has started fortnightly meetings in Chesterfield and already is attracting about two people to a meeting. The group has the official support and backing of Derbyshire County Council and meetings are held in the town. This group fills a much-needed gap in provision in North Derbyshire and is open to everyone. Frank hopes that the group will cater for those who find commercial venues unappealing or are not confident in attending them without social support. And if you can think of a name for the group they would like to hear from you as well! The group can be contacted via Sheffield Gayphone, 0742 758082 Mon. Weds, 8.30-9.30pm. Derby phone, 0362 483838 (Weds, 7-10pm).

"For the generations of people who will come after us, we have to remember that someday the AIDS crisis will be over. And when that day has come and gone there will be people alive on this earth - gay people and straight people, black people and white people, men and women - who will hear that once there was a terrible disease, and that a brave group of people stood up and fought and in some cases died so that others might live and be free."

NOTTINGHAM BP GROUP APPOINTS FIRST WORKER

Nottingham Body Positive Group have just appointed their first fulltime co-ordinator from a short list of three applicants from around the country.

Fran Walsh, brings considerable experience to the post, coming from a background in mental health. She has worked for several voluntary projects over the years, lives in Nottingham and is an experienced Counselor and Trainer.

When OUTRIGHT spoke to Fran she said she was "obviously delighted" to get the job and will be starting work at the end of June. "We are bored with the base of services currently on offer at Body Positive to embrace the growing number of communities now affected by HIV. In this way, we will continue our work with people who are antibody positive and endeavour to offer them what they want and need," she said.

OUTRIGHT will keep you posted next month with Fran's new phone number as soon as it arrives.

Paul Woolf is putting the finishing touches to an exhibition which forms the cornerstone of his final exams in Fine Arts next month at Nottingham Polytechnic.

"When I told the organisers of the exhibition what I wanted to do for my portfolio they said it wasn't proper art. Thankyou that didn't deter Paul from steamlining ahead, and in a joint venture with photographer, Matthew Tomsen he produced a video of lesbian and gay pride, entitled "Swirling in a Cesspit Of Our Own Creation".

"It is ironic that, at a time when nuclear and chemical warfare are glorified, any meaningful display of serious affection is anathema," he adds.

For Paul the personal is very political and he believes it is worth making the political personal. "When it was the organisers of the exhibition what I wanted to do for my portfolio they said it wasn't proper art. Thankfully that didn't deter Paul from steamlining ahead, and in a joint venture with photographer, Matthew Tomsen he produced a video of lesbian and gay pride, entitled "Swirling in a Cesspit Of Our Own Creation".

The video is interspersed with black and white photographs and represents what it is like to be gay in this country at present. "It speaks for itself," says Paul. He has also completed a video filmed at the International Aids Day in London last year, around the ACT-UP's involvement which forms the other part of his work.

"Institutionalised homophobia still haunts academia and the heavy hand of censorship by the Polytechnic Fine Arts Faculty decreed that an image of two gay men showing affection for each other (without hardons), was not fit material for the Polytechnic Degree Show. catalogue and he was banned from using it. But Paul remains defiant and will be using the banned image in his presentation he says.

"It is ironic that, at a time when nuclear and chemical warfare are glorified, any meaningful display of serious affection is anathema," he adds.
