ASPECTS OF ANARCHISM

MILITARISM

OF ALL THE "ISSUES," militarism is the most poisonous, destructive and dangerous. When it destroys its people, culture and rational thought. When relatively passive (though it is never truly passive) it enters the minds and values systems of society in a way which reinforces conformity and obedience.

Militarism is the glorification of war by means of the uniform and the armament — any talk of "national defense" or "self-defense" — to justify the acquisition of armaments by means of which to suppress any and all levies on the individual or the state. The militarist is disposed to use any means, any degree of violence, even those which are considered criminal, to maintain his position or to gain more power. Militarism is not restricted to dictatorships. It insidiously permeates many areas of life in so-called democratic societies. Young boys in particular are subtly and not so subtly inculcated into militaristic approaches of behaviour and thought. Organisations such as the Scout and the various cadet forces all apparently stress individual growth and advancement and promote military ideas and values. Should anyone be sceptical on this point, one should compare the uniforms, "adventure" camps and other methods of building group unity of the Scout with those of the Hitler Youth. The similarities are remarkable.

Not only is technology presented as an ever-improving means of overcoming the future en-emy but it is our technology which is presented as superior, thus reinforcing the militarist arrogance of the ruling class.

Strangely, for weapons of mass destruction, the new-even additions to the armament arsenal are often presented in a benign manner. Fascination with new technology has been harnessed to give the state's murder machines a sexy look. Look at that fighter bomber, admire its curves, its smooth lines, its power, its performance.

This ties in with the cult of masculinity which reaches its height in the armed forces. The parade of what males should be like is shown in the hardness, the brutality, the excessive drinking, the segregation from women in many parts of the armed forces in every country, which leads on to brutal attacks on civilians, as seen recently with the Parac in Britain, the Greenjackets in Cyprus, and the torture and killing of a Somali by Canadian Parac keeping the peace. It leads on to the miasma rape by soldiers — witness the system of rape by Serbian soldiers as a form of terror, the rape of tens of thousands of women by Red Army soldiers when they invaded Germany at the end of World War 2, only just admitted to. Any idea that the Armed Forces are institutions which women should participate in, is dangerous rubbish. The best thing that working class women can do, to benefit themselves and their class, is fight to destroy the Armed Forces!

Fortunately, but not always effectively, militarism has usually been countered by antimilitarist movements. Indeed revolutionary anarchists have always led the anti war movement. Militarists should be obvious to anyone who can see that they are destroying the most to sacrifice and the least to gain from militarism are working class people. Apart

With the re-emergence of religious fundamentalism as a significant force, combined with nationalism and militarism, a truly powerful cocktail of destruction is being concocted. This is not new: imperial Japan used it to good effect, but it appears to be on the rise again. Imagine a Christian imperial/militarist USA ruling the world in accordance with progressively religiously inspired values!

Militarism is not restricted to dictatorships. It insidiously permeates many areas of life in so-called democratic societies. Young boys in particular are subtly and not so subtly inculcated into militaristic approaches of behaviour and thought. Organisations such as the Scout and the various cadet forces all apparently stress individual growth and advancement and promote military ideas and values. Should anyone be sceptical on this point, one should compare the uniforms, "adventure" camps and other methods of building group unity of the Scout with those of the Hitler Youth. The similarities are remarkable.

Not only is technology presented as an ever-improving means of overcoming the future enemy but it is our technology which is presented as superior, thus reinforcing the militarist arrogance of the ruling class.

Strangely, for weapons of mass destruction, the new-even additions to the armament arsenal are often presented in a benign manner. Fascination with new technology has been harnessed to give the state's murder machines a sexy look. Look at that fighter bomber, admire its curves, its smooth lines, its power, its performance.

This ties in with the cult of masculinity which reaches its height in the armed forces. The parade of what males should be like is shown in the hardness, the brutality, the excessive drinking, the segregation from women in many parts of the armed forces in every country, which leads on to brutal attacks on civilians, as seen recently with the Parac in Britain, the Greenjackets in Cyprus, and the torture and killing of a Somali by Canadian Parac keeping the peace. It leads on to the miasma rape by soldiers — witness the system of rape by Serbian soldiers as a form of terror, the rape of tens of thousands of women by Red Army soldiers when they invaded Germany at the end of World War 2, only just admitted to. Any idea that the Armed Forces are institutions which women should participate in, is dangerous rubbish. The best thing that working class women can do, to benefit themselves and their class, is fight to destroy the Armed Forces!

Fortunately, but not always effectively, militarism has usually been countered by antimilitarist movements. Indeed revolutionary anarchists have always led the anti war movement. Militarists should be obvious to anyone who can see that they are destroying the most to sacrifice and the least to gain from militarism are working class people. Apart

Not only is technology presented as an ever-improving means of overcoming the future enemy but it is our technology which is presented as superior, thus reinforcing the militarist arrogance of the ruling class.

Strangely, for weapons of mass destruction, the new-even additions to the armament arsenal are often presented in a benign manner. Fascination with new technology has been harnessed to give the state's murder machines a sexy look. Look at that fighter bomber, admire its curves, its smooth lines, its power, its performance.

This ties in with the cult of masculinity which reaches its height in the armed forces. The parade of what males should be like is shown in the hardness, the brutality, the excessive drinking, the segregation from women in many parts of the armed forces in every country, which leads on to brutal attacks on civilians, as seen recently with the Parac in Britain, the Greenjackets in Cyprus, and the torture and killing of a Somali by Canadian Parac keeping the peace. It leads on to the miasma rape by soldiers — witness the system of rape by Serbian soldiers as a form of terror, the rape of tens of thousands of women by Red Army soldiers when they invaded Germany at the end of World War 2, only just admitted to. Any idea that the Armed Forces are institutions which women should participate in, is dangerous rubbish. The best thing that working class women can do, to benefit themselves and their class, is fight to destroy the Armed Forces!

Fortunately, but not always effectively, militarism has usually been countered by antimilitarist movements. Indeed reactionary anarchists have always led the anti war movement. Militarists should be obvious to anyone who can see that they are destroying the most to sacrifice and the least to gain from militarism are working class people. Apart

Not only is technology presented as an ever-improving means of overcoming the future enemy but it is our technology which is presented as superior, thus reinforcing the militarist arrogance of the ruling class.

Strangely, for weapons of mass destruction, the new-even additions to the armament arsenal are often presented in a benign manner. Fascination with new technology has been harnessed to give the state's murder machines a sexy look. Look at that fighter bomber, admire its curves, its smooth lines, its power, its performance.

This ties in with the cult of masculinity which reaches its height in the armed forces. The parade of what males should be like is shown in the hardness, the brutality, the excessive drinking, the segregation from women in many parts of the armed forces in every country, which leads on to brutal attacks on civilians, as seen recently with the Parac in Britain, the Greenjackets in Cyprus, and the torture and killing of a Somali by Canadian Parac keeping the peace. It leads on to the miasma rape by soldiers — witness the system of rape by Serbian soldiers as a form of terror, the rape of tens of thousands of women by Red Army soldiers when they invaded Germany at the end of World War 2, only just admitted to. Any idea that the Armed Forces are institutions which women should participate in, is dangerous rubbish. The best thing that working class women can do, to benefit themselves and their class, is fight to destroy the Armed Forces!

Fortunately, but not always effectively, militarism has usually been countered by antimilitarist movements. Indeed reactionary anarchists have always led the anti war movement. Militarists should be obvious to anyone who can see that they are destroying the most to sacrifice and the least to gain from militarism are working class people. Apart

Not only is technology presented as an ever-improving means of overcoming the future enemy but it is our technology which is presented as superior, thus reinforcing the militarist arrogance of the ruling class.

Strangely, for weapons of mass destruction, the new-even additions to the armament arsenal are often presented in a benign manner. Fascination with new technology has been harnessed to give the state's murder machines a sexy look. Look at that fighter bomber, admire its curves, its smooth lines, its power, its performance.

This ties in with the cult of masculinity which reaches its height in the armed forces. The parade of what males should be like is shown in the hardness, the brutality, the excessive drinking, the segregation from women in many parts of the armed forces in every country, which leads on to brutal attacks on civilians, as seen recently with the Parac in Britain, the Greenjackets in Cyprus, and the torture and killing of a Somali by Canadian Parac keeping the peace. It leads on to the miasma rape by soldiers — witness the system of rape by Serbian soldiers as a form of terror, the rape of tens of thousands of women by Red Army soldiers when they invaded Germany at the end of World War 2, only just admitted to. Any idea that the Armed Forces are institutions which women should participate in, is dangerous rubbish. The best thing that working class women can do, to benefit themselves and their class, is fight to destroy the Armed Forces!

Fortunately, but not always effectively, militarism has usually been countered by antimilitarist movements. Indeed reactionary anarchists have always led the anti war movement. Militarists should be obvious to anyone who can see that they are destroying the most to sacrifice and the least to gain from militarism are working class people. Apart

Continued on page 18

Organise! No. 38 June-September 1995

For class struggle anarchism

THE COST OF MILITARISM...

CASTIGATING CASTRO

Crisis in Cuba

Sport in question

It's getting mighty crowded?

The myth of overpopulation

Loyalist Shenanigans

Oh what a lovely war — World War 2 and the myth of antisemitism

Bumper letters page and loads more

Magazine of the Anarchist Communist Federation

April-June 1995

Issue 38
An upsurge in struggle

Postal workers

SOME 650 POSTAL WORKERS walked out of the sorting office in St Pancras Way, North London in January after a driver was suspended for refusing to drive a van he regarded as unsafe.

The following day a mass meeting of posties rejected the initial action. The same day the Postal Union, the Unite, was growing by the day. This militant-sounding Union is also developing, in particular amongst teachers and further-education workers.

The action might have escaped the notice of a national plan by the bosses to implement new working practices. Terrified by management quickly dropped charges against the Scots. The UCW, of course, steamed in to sabotage the struggle. The national UCW leadership were terrified that they would be fined if the court order was found to be broken.

Postal workers picket St Pancras Depot.

Health workers

The doury one per cent pay offer to health workers has caused widespread outrage. Coupled with this is the attempt to split health workers by local bargaining, where a possible two per cent extra is offered.

The local bargaining is part of a national plan by the bosses to divide workers. The anger among health workers is growing by the day. This simmering discontent even the pathetic Royal College of Nursing and Royal College of Midwives to try and radicalise these struggles.

What Gives with the ACF

ACF COMRADES IN Northern Ireland have produced and distributed their free newsheet Resistance. No 1 has appeared, and No 2 will shortly be out. You can obtain copies by writing to the London ACF address.

London ACF have also produced a free newsheet called Leagues. It is available on request.

London ACF have also produced a free newsheet called Aims and Principles. It is available on request.

The Anarchist Communist Federation is an organisation of revolutionary class struggle.

We aim for the abolition of all hierarchical systems and the creation of a world-wide classless society: anarchy and communism.

2. Capitalism is based on the exploitation of the working class by the ruling class. But inequality and exploitation are also expressed in terms of race, gender, sexuality, health, ability and age, and in these ways one section of the working class oppresses another. This divides us, causing a lack of class unity in struggle that benefits the ruling class. Oppressed groups are strengthened by auton- omously developing their own social and economic power and the working class. The working class has no country and no nationality. It is international. We seek to build an anarchist international to work with other libertarian revolutionaries throughout the world.

5. As well as exploiting and oppressing the majority of people, Capitalism threatens the environment and the destruction of the envi- ronment.

6. It is not possible to abolish capitalism without a revolutionary movement, which will arise out of class conflict. The working class itself must initiate and lead this movement. Because the ruling class will not relinquish power, this revolution will have to be carried out by armed force, this revolution will have to be carried out by armed force.

7. Unions by their very nature cannot be vehicles for the revolutionary transforma- tion of society. They have to be accepted by Capitalism in order to function. Therefore, we cannot play a part in their over- reach agreement with Capitalism. We must not be involved with other aspects of the working class between employers and unemployed, trade and craft, skilled and unskilled, etc.

We believe that fighting racism and sexism is as impor- tant as other aspects of the revolution.

8. Organise! for details. to those of the ACF, will be

Organise! No. 38 April-June 1995 3 Organise! No. 38 April-June 1995 1 Organise! No. 38 April-June 1995 2

3. We believe that fighting racism and sexism is as impor- tant as other aspects of the revolution.

9. As anarchists we organise in all areas of life to try to advance the revolutionary process. We believe a strong anarchist organisation is nec- essary to help us to this end.

However, the revolution must be achieved while sexism and racism form the world.

Aims and Principles

The Anarchist Communist Federation is an organisation of revolutionary class struggle.

We aim for the abolition of all hierarchical systems and the creation of a world-wide classless society: anarchy and communism.

1. The Anarchist Communist Federation is an organisation of revolutionary class struggle.

We aim for the abolition of all hierarchical systems and the creation of a world-wide classless society: anarchy and communism.

2. Capitalism is based on the exploitation of the working class by the ruling class. But inequality and exploitation are also expressed in terms of race, gender, sexuality, health, ability and age, and in these ways one section of the working class oppresses another. This divides us, causing a lack of class unity in struggle that benefits the ruling class. Oppressed groups are strengthened by auton- omously developing their own social and economic power and the working class. The working class has no country and no nationality. It is international. We seek to build an anarchist international to work with other libertarian revolutionaries throughout the world.

5. As well as exploiting and oppressing the majority of people, Capitalism threatens the environment and the destruction of the envi- ronment.

6. It is not possible to abolish capitalism without a revolutionary movement, which will arise out of class conflict. The working class itself must initiate and lead this movement. Because the ruling class will not relinquish power, this revolution will have to be carried out by armed force, this revolution will have to be carried out by armed force.

7. Unions by their very nature cannot be vehicles for the revolutionary transforma- tion of society. They have to be accepted by Capitalism in order to function. Therefore, we cannot play a part in their over- reach agreement with Capitalism. We must not be involved with other aspects of the working class between employers and unemployed, trade and craft, skilled and unskilled, etc.

We believe that fighting racism and sexism is as impor- tant as other aspects of the revolution.

8. Organise! for details. to those of the ACF, will be

Organise! No. 38 April-June 1995 3 Organise! No. 38 April-June 1995 1 Organise! No. 38 April-June 1995 2

3. We believe that fighting racism and sexism is as impor- tant as other aspects of the revolution.

9. As anarchists we organise in all areas of life to try to advance the revolutionary process. We believe a strong anarchist organisation is nec- essary to help us to this end.

However, the revolution must be achieved while sexism and racism form the world.

Aims and Principles

The Anarchist Communist Federation is an organisation of revolutionary class struggle.

We aim for the abolition of all hierarchical systems and the creation of a world-wide classless society: anarchy and communism.

1. The Anarchist Communist Federation is an organisation of revolutionary class struggle.

We aim for the abolition of all hierarchical systems and the creation of a world-wide classless society: anarchy and communism.

2. Capitalism is based on the exploitation of the working class by the ruling class. But inequality and exploitation are also expressed in terms of race, gender, sexuality, health, ability and age, and in these ways one section of the working class oppresses another. This divides us, causing a lack of class unity in struggle that benefits the ruling class. Oppressed groups are strengthened by auton- omously developing their own social and economic power and the working class. The working class has no country and no nationality. It is international. We seek to build an anarchist international to work with other libertarian revolutionaries throughout the world.

5. As well as exploiting and oppressing the majority of people, Capitalism threatens the environment and the destruction of the envi- ronment.

6. It is not possible to abolish capitalism without a revolutionary movement, which will arise out of class conflict. The working class itself must initiate and lead this movement. Because the ruling class will not relinquish power, this revolution will have to be carried out by armed force, this revolution will have to be carried out by armed force.

7. Unions by their very nature cannot be vehicles for the revolutionary transforma- tion of society. They have to be accepted by Capitalism in order to function. Therefore, we cannot play a part in their over- reach agreement with Capitalism. We must not be involved with other aspects of the working class between employers and unemployed, trade and craft, skilled and unskilled, etc.

We believe that fighting racism and sexism is as impor- tant as other aspects of the revolution.

8. Organise! for details. to those of the ACF, will be

Organise! No. 38 April-June 1995 3 Organise! No. 38 April-June 1995 1 Organise! No. 38 April-June 1995 2

3. We believe that fighting racism and sexism is as impor- tant as other aspects of the revolution.

9. As anarchists we organise in all areas of life to try to advance the revolutionary process. We believe a strong anarchist organisation is nec- essary to help us to this end.

However, the revolution must be achieved while sexism and racism form the world.

Aims and Principles

The Anarchist Communist Federation is an organisation of revolutionary class struggle.

We aim for the abolition of all hierarchical systems and the creation of a world-wide classless society: anarchy and communism.

1. The Anarchist Communist Federation is an organisation of revolutionary class struggle.

We aim for the abolition of all hierarchical systems and the creation of a world-wide classless society: anarchy and communism.

2. Capitalism is based on the exploitation of the working class by the ruling class. But inequality and exploitation are also expressed in terms of race, gender, sexuality, health, ability and age, and in these ways one section of the working class oppresses another. This divides us, causing a lack of class unity in struggle that benefits the ruling class. Oppressed groups are strengthened by auton- omously developing their own social and economic power and the working class. The working class has no country and no nationality. It is international. We seek to build an anarchist international to work with other libertarian revolutionaries throughout the world.

5. As well as exploiting and oppressing the majority of people, Capitalism threatens the environment and the destruction of the envi- ronment.

6. It is not possible to abolish capitalism without a revolutionary movement, which will arise out of class conflict. The working class itself must initiate and lead this movement. Because the ruling class will not relinquish power, this revolution will have to be carried out by armed force, this revolution will have to be carried out by armed force.

7. Unions by their very nature cannot be vehicles for the revolutionary transforma- tion of society. They have to be accepted by Capitalism in order to function. Therefore, we cannot play a part in their over- reach agreement with Capitalism. We must not be involved with other aspects of the working class between employers and unemployed, trade and craft, skilled and unskilled, etc.

We believe that fighting racism and sexism is as impor- tant as other aspects of the revolution.

8. Organise! for details. to those of the ACF, will be

Organise! No. 38 April-June 1995 3 Organise! No. 38 April-June 1995 1 Organise! No. 38 April-June 1995 2

3. We believe that fighting racism and sexism is as impor- tant as other aspects of the revolution.

9. As anarchists we organise in all areas of life to try to advance the revolutionary process. We believe a strong anarchist organisation is nec- essary to help us to this end.

However, the revolution must be achieved while sexism and racism form the world.

Aims and Principles

The Anarchist Communist Federation is an organisation of revolutionary class struggle.

We aim for the abolition of all hierarchical systems and the creation of a world-wide classless society: anarchy and communism.

1. The Anarchist Communist Federation is an organisation of revolutionary class struggle.
Animal riots

MASS DIRECT ACTION that had widespread effects? We can't be far from a revolutionary situation, then, can we? Not if the issue itself is the transportation of calves to be slaughtered for veal on the continent.

From the start of the protests against transportation, much of the establishment press, including that which openly backs the Conservatives, initially took a sympathetic view. This was hardly because they thought that the politics of some of those involved met with their approval, but because here was another stick with which to beat the pro-Europeans inside and outside the Conservative Party. Another barbaric practice to be added to the record of those foreigners across the Channel, who weren't like us. Never mind the horrific animal experiments and factory farming carried on as normal in Britain, here was a good opportunity for a bit of Euro-mugging. Within the involvement of figures like Teddy Taylor and Alan Clark, who situate themselves on the Tory right.

Jill Phipps, who described herself as an anarchist, would have had no time for these scenes (just as should have had no time for the religious ceremony put on at Coventry Cathedral after her death).

Barbarism

Of course the transportation of calves in barbaric. So is the factory farming of cattle and poultry carried out in Britain. So are the experiments in which 3.5 million animals are killed every year in Britain carried out by the drugs and cosmetics industries. A leading drug company Giba Geigy admitted that 90% of substances passed safe by animal experimentation are immediately rejected by human beings.

But the reason these things happen is because of PROFIT. It's big money for the drugs companies, for the factory farmers, for the meat industry. The symptoms of a sick society, like homelessness, unemployment, alienation and boredom, wage slavery and war, will only disappear when that sick society is put out of its misery. That means not just taking a stand against the exploitation of animals, but against the exploitation of working class people and the destruction of the planet.

Not so jolly?

CHRISTOPHER BARRETT-JOLLEY owns Phoenix Avia- tion which transports calves from Coventry Airport (it was protests against this which involved the death of Jill Phipps) and is no newcomer to making a quick buck out of death and misery.

Arms and drugs

In 1993 one of his pilots was killed in a hijacking involving large amounts of cocaine and heroin into Britain. Hackney has extensive links in West Africa, where the war on drugs has been declared to have been won, but where they have not been taken, particularly in Niger. Jill Phipps was killed in a hijacking involving arms.

The following month he supplied UNITA forces in Angola with at least one 44-ton shipment. It is believed he made many further shipments to keep both sides in the civil war supplied with arms.

In November he attacked a 67-year-old man with a crowbar, beating her with it and smashing the windscreen of her car. He was involved in further violent incidents, driving vehicles at protesters — one of whom is still receiving hospital treatment.

'Nehast victim'?

Funny then, that few charges have actually been brought against him by the police. Funny that Coventry police brought out 105 cops against just 33 protesters. Funny how he masquerades as an 'honest' (is there such a thing?) businessman victimised by extremist thugs, and how the press had a field day when a group of people angered by Jill Phipps' death, turned up at his HQ to smash a few windows. But then these people were violent, rent-a-mob yobs, whilst Barrett-Jolley only deals in death. Money doesn't talk, it swears.

Fight the Criminal Justice Act

THE POLICE ARE NOW using the Criminal Justice Act on a widespread basis against hunt saboteurs and demonstrators and mass trespasses against the Act itself.

The Act has been in operation for five months at time of writing, and already 100 have been arrested under its provi- sions. Court cases took place in Edinburgh near De- fence Secretary Rifkind's constituency, where 20 arrests took place last month. The police will continue, especially when the cops use the CJA against peaceful protests planned for the summer.

The arrets of seven — the Hackney 7 — at Hackney Town Hall in a demo against cuts in the arts and cultural funds, and fines of up to £3,300 fines. These heavy fines were clearly politically motivated, protecting philanthropic fundas from being acquitted and discrediting the police in the process, the Crown Prosecu- tion Service was looking for revenge.

Irrelevant

Our attitude is that we do not give a damn about Clause 4. Every Labour government in the past, pledged to com- mon ownership, has carried out vicious attacks on the working class, breaking strikes, establishing wage freezes, attacking workers' self-management, left social democracy and corporatist repression. As well as running down the health care system and social services.

Apart from that, Labour's (false) commitment to a state and centralized ownership means that the State runs capitalism, in part as part of it to be more precise, because Labour have always been committed to a mixed econ- omy. This has always been and will always be for the benefit of the ruling class.

European nationalisations

The large-scale nationalisations, especially during the WW2, were also carried out in other parts of Europe by, for example, De Gaulle, the mili- tary man in France. Capitalist nationalisation is under- taken to restrict and rebuild after the war effort and State intervention was seen as crucial in bringing this about.

For us common ownership, that is anarchist communism itself, means that the land and the means of production and distribution are looked after by the masses of the population and administered through mass assemblies and work- places and community councils freely federated together. To fur- ther the myth that somehow Labour is on our side.

Clause 4 was never meant to be implemented. It is a pious statement to camou- flage the real nature of Labourism, that is a party there to foil, divert and when deemed necessary by the ruling class, to govern us, the mass of the population, the working class.
TOWER HAMLETS IS one of Britain's poorest boroughs, where racial violence is commonplace and where fascists got elected. Since the British National Party temporarily gained a seat in the local council election, local communities have been subject to a series of racist attacks in the borough, mainly against Asians who have had the audacity to move into the area to escape racial violence elsewhere.

Asians, has been rapidly rising. 'Incidents' range from verbal abuse and threats to near murder and the number of serious attacks has more than doubled in recent years.

Police predict that the number of racist attacks in Tower Hamlets will continue to rise as locals try to 'fight the racists and fascists'. The high level of racism, which are often unofficially segregated along racial lines. In other words, the local state has been involved in facilitating and promoting the very racism that it claims to be combating. Tower Hamlets, with its concentration of working-class people, has been an obvious target for fascists and right-wing politicians. The police have been pretty lukewarm in their response to this situation, with some even making comments that do not do justice to the severity of the problem.

The police have been accused of being too soft on the fascists and not doing enough to stop the attacks. They have put in overtime in building up community ties with local Asians, but some locals feel that this is not enough. There have been reports of the police responding slowly to incidents, and of racist attacks going unreported or under-reported.

The local state has been involved in some pretty effective social engineering down here. The old-fashioned divide and rule has worked pretty effectively to keep the races apart. Anyone who is interested in the causes of the racism could unite over poverty and poor wages, we end up squabbling over crumbs. Fascists you get the usual racism — the myth that if you're white you'll win. The left don't do anything about it, they tend to have quite a high profile, they are their 'pets'. Though they aren't really fighting for the rights of the workers. The local government has been involved in some pretty effective social engineering down here. The old-fashioned divide and rule has worked pretty effectively to keep the races apart. Anyone who is interested in the causes of the racism could unite over poverty and poor wages, we end up squabbling over crumbs. Fascists you get the usual racism — the myth that if you're white you'll win. The left don't do anything about it, they tend to have quite a high profile, they are their 'pets'. Though they aren't really fighting for the rights of the workers. The local government has been involved in some pretty effective social engineering down here.
AS ONE AFTER another of the so-called communist movements were blown up, the whole gamut of those who claim to be Leninists were thrown into disarray. In their crisis, Trotskyists, like Workers Power for example, were self-consciously counter-revolutionary in order to provide a pole for organic bourgeois reaction to overthrow the Stalinist dictatorship of Castro. They were to demand that "the degenerate workers states such as Cuba" be defended and that "there should be no result in any military clash with US imperialism, revolutions must unconditionally support the Cuban army and militias". As the army is part of the State directed by this Stalinist dictatorship, as any Marxist should know, these muddle-headed statements have to be contradicted in a twist!

The bulk of those who claim to be Bolshevik, though, immediately saw Cuba as the last bastion of socialism and rushed eagerly to its defence. These included the Trotskyists of the Morning Star, Communist Party of Britain and New Communist Party, the born-again Stalinists of the Revolutionary Communist Group (who have also discovered Shining Path in Peru as a saviour of the working class!) and fragments of what used to be the Trotskyist International Marxist Group, like Socialist Action and the Communist League.

Communists collaborate

In March 1952 Batista set up a dictatorship in Cuba. He received the support of the Communist Party. At that time, the communists were no more than a tiny group within the national bourgeoisie, and the communists were allowed ten seats in parliament and more than a hundred in the municipal councils. Attempting to fill the vacuum in the opposition to Batista left by the communist support for him, a young lawyer and bourgeois politician called Fidel Castro launched an armed attack on the Moncada Palace. The Moncada was not a palace, but an old barracks, and Castro wanted to use it to set up the Committees for the Defence of the Revolution. But this was militarily an impossible project.

From militia to army

Armed attacks now broke out on a wide scale. None of these were instigated by the Castroists. In one of them, an attack on the Presidential Palace, the guerillas were killed, including their leader, Echeverria. Despite Castro's offer to lead the Moncada attack, he now demanded that the guerrillas be called the Guerilla Front and that no working class opposition would be allowed to develop against Batista. Two generals who had supported Batista fled, but this cannot be accounted for by hunger or tiredness. It was a conscious victory.

Persecution

Once Batista was overthrown, Castro went about purging anarchosyndicalists and social democrats from the CTC union confederation. The CTC had been originally set up by international Marxists, like Socialist Action and the Communist League.

In March 1952 Batista set up a dictatorship in Cuba. He received the support of the Communist Party. At that time, the communists were no more than a tiny group within the national bourgeoisie, and the communists were allowed ten seats in parliament and more than a hundred in the municipal councils. Attempting to fill the vacuum in the opposition to Batista left by the communist support for him, a young lawyer and bourgeois politician called Fidel Castro launched an armed attack on the Moncada Palace. The Moncada was not a palace, but an old barracks, and Castro wanted to use it to set up the Committees for the Defence of the Revolution. But this was militarily an impossible project.

From militia to army

Armed attacks now broke out on a wide scale. None of these were instigated by the Castroists. In one of them, an attack on the Presidential Palace, the guerillas were killed, including their leader, Echeverria. Despite Castro's offer to lead the Moncada attack, he now demanded that the guerrillas be called the Guerilla Front and that no working class opposition would be allowed to develop against Batista. Two generals who had supported Batista fled, but this cannot be accounted for by hunger or tiredness. It was a conscious victory.

Persecution

Once Batista was overthrown, Castro went about purging anarchosyndicalists and social democrats from the CTC union confederation. The CTC had been originally set up by international Marxists, like Socialist Action and the Communist League.

In March 1952 Batista set up a dictatorship in Cuba. He received the support of the Communist Party. At that time, the communists were no more than a tiny group within the national bourgeoisie, and the communists were allowed ten seats in parliament and more than a hundred in the municipal councils. Attempting to fill the vacuum in the opposition to Batista left by the communist support for him, a young lawyer and bourgeois politician called Fidel Castro launched an armed attack on the Moncada Palace. The Moncada was not a palace, but an old barracks, and Castro wanted to use it to set up the Committees for the Defence of the Revolution. But this was militarily an impossible project.

From militia to army

Armed attacks now broke out on a wide scale. None of these were instigated by the Castroists. In one of them, an attack on the Presidential Palace, the guerillas were killed, including their leader, Echeverria. Despite Castro's offer to lead the Moncada attack, he now demanded that the guerrillas be called the Guerilla Front and that no working class opposition would be allowed to develop against Batista. Two generals who had supported Batista fled, but this cannot be accounted for by hunger or tiredness. It was a conscious victory.

Persecution

Once Batista was overthrown, Castro went about purging anarchosyndicalists and social democrats from the CTC union confederation. The CTC had been originally set up by international Marxists, like Socialist Action and the Communist League.

In March 1952 Batista set up a dictatorship in Cuba. He received the support of the Communist Party. At that time, the communists were no more than a tiny group within the national bourgeoisie, and the communists were allowed ten seats in parliament and more than a hundred in the municipal councils. Attempting to fill the vacuum in the opposition to Batista left by the communist support for him, a young lawyer and bourgeois politician called Fidel Castro launched an armed attack on the Moncada Palace. The Moncada was not a palace, but an old barracks, and Castro wanted to use it to set up the Committees for the Defence of the Revolution. But this was militarily an impossible project.

From militia to army

Armed attacks now broke out on a wide scale. None of these were instigated by the Castroists. In one of them, an attack on the Presidential Palace, the guerillas were killed, including their leader, Echeverria. Despite Castro's offer to lead the Moncada attack, he now demanded that the guerrillas be called the Guerilla Front and that no working class opposition would be allowed to develop against Batista. Two generals who had supported Batista fled, but this cannot be accounted for by hunger or tiredness. It was a conscious victory.

Persecution

Once Batista was overthrown, Castro went about purging anarchosyndicalists and social democrats from the CTC union confederation. The CTC had been originally set up by international Marxists, like Socialist Action and the Communist League.
been framed and now faces '15 years' paranoid about any opposition. A group of working class people were imprisoned in

In line with the old Marxist principle of the militarisation of labour, first elaborated in the Communist Manifesto and carried out in Russia by Trotsky, the Castroist State used compulsory military service to provide military manpower. The People's Rapid Response patrols were a roughly equivalent social control device, and the Stalinist paternalism was replaced by those of market liberalisation in Cuba. The only solution is the development of a broad-based national bourgeoisie, which rejects both the market and the state capitalism. The Cuban working class of town and countryside must start introducing a mixed economy, and a new political sector in its own right.

Meet the New Boss, Same as the Old Boss!

Now the Statist economy is opened up in a big way, and Canadian mining companies are penetrating the minerals resources in a big way, and Canadian mining companies are penetrating the minerals
resources

Overpopulation
or a bit rich?

In Bangladesh, often cited as the model for the Malagash argument, 90% of land is worked by sharecroppers and labourers. Many starved after the 1974 floods while bouhders stacked up four million tons of rice while the majority were too poor to buy. Multinational companies made over seven billion dollars a year profit from the South in 1990, and a further five billion or so through transfer payments. They used their economic power to force down rice, coffee, sugar and cotton prices. Average prices in 1989 were 30% below those of 1980. This led to an increase in food debt for Southern countries with consequent increased economic hardship for the major-ty poor tax. Inflation, crisis, etc.
Cash crops to feed the global supermarket, and yield higher profits for international agribusinesses. What controls this feeding frenzy? The planet. Mexican soil and labour supply

Populisation is a result of a crop. The US embargo is blamed, but the US embargo is blamed, but the

1. Rapid population growth is the main cause of the South's development problems, particularly hunger, environmental degradation and the organization...

poor's diet). So the 'Green Revolution' supplied the global supermarket. The industrialised North with about 20% of the world's population consumes 60% of food. These figures obscure the fact that the rich countries are also responsible for 40% of CO2 emissions, 80% of foreign investment and 30% of Gross Domestic Product. Multinationals are also directly responsible for 40% of the world's greenhouse gas emissions! The green revolution means environmental and destructive modernisation. It's cumulative effects far outweigh the effects of population pressures - the Allied bombardment of the Gulf and Saddam Hussein's oil fires for example. War directly damages the land and air, and destroys the environment through destabilising traditional communities, creating refugees who flee and settle on fragile soils which cannot support them. In Africa between 1955-1985 there were over 200 attempted coups, creating over eight million peasant refugees who fled their villages to escape terror in Ethiopia, Mozambique, Angola, Sudan and Uganda. In the last 40 years there have been over 125 wars fought in the South (many of them proxy wars for the Superpowers) leaving 22 million dead. Over 60% of global arms go to Africa and Asia; this military spending kills and damages many more through the waste of resources. The American Pentagon produces more toxic waste than the five largest multinational chemical companies combined: a ton of toxic chemicals a minute; an armoured division (348 tanks) over two million litres of fuel a day.

Women

An agrarian revolution is required, as part of a social revolution, which must liberate women. Women are the poorest of the poor, the largest group of landless labourers in the world - often in co-ops and land distribution they are frequently excluded. Women produce almost half of the food crops in the world. In Africa they contribute 60% of all time spent in traditional agriculture, in Asia they are over half of the agricultural labour force, in Latin America over three-quarters. Conventional farming has favoured men at every level, and industrialisation and urbanisation also hurt women most, destroying their handicrafts and worsening the unjust division of labour with the double day of wage labour and household work. Some 80-90% of low-skilled assembly jobs in Asia and Africa are done by women.

Resources

One justification for population control is pressure on resources shown by deforestation, desertification, water pollution etc. Yet fewer people do not necessarily consume fewer resources. The industrialised North with about 20% of the world's population consume 80% of its resources, 70% of the energy, 75% of metals, 85% of wood, 60% of food. These figures obscure the fact that the rich countries are also responsible for 40% of CO2 emissions, 80% of foreign investment and 30% of Gross Domestic Product. Multinationals are also directly responsible for 40% of the world's greenhouse gas emissions.

Women's reproductive choice depends on their role in society. Their lack of choice is a direct result of their lack of autonomy, personhood and their economic domination. If women have fewer children they suffer for lack of labour power, if more they are over-burdened and their health undermined. The population question can never be addressed until having fewer children becomes a reasonable option - thus freedom for women from male domination, and an agrarian social revolution reuniting agriculture and nutrition, renewing self-reliance and subsistence, and creating equality. Such a revolution will overthrow high-tech agribusiness methods such as those of the Green Revolution discussed earlier: part of the problem, not the solution.

This article is indebted to How Deep is Deep Ecology?, Women's Freedom: Key to the Population Question' by George Bradford. Times Change Press pamphlet.

Reason to celebrate?

Anniversary of the end of World War Two

Below: Stalin, Roosevelt and Churchill - preparing to carve up the world between them.

France, for its part, set up concentration camps in the Pyrenees to imprison the Spanish refugees, and these were joined by other refugees from fascism in Germany, Central and Eastern Europe. The Western allies knew the fate of the populations under Nazi and Fascist domination, whether in Ethiopia or Poland, and they knew from 1933 that the Nazi regime was deporting Jews, Communists, homosexuals and gypsies. For its part the United States continued economic and commercial relations with Germany, even during the blockade decreed by France and Britain. These continued after the alliance treaty between Germany and Japan. The US traded with everyone, no matter who they were. They entered the War after Pearl Harbour (December 1941) not to 'liberate' the populations of Europe but to safeguard their economic interests in both Asia and Europe.

The Stalinists

The Stalinist bureaucrats were no more 'anti-fascist' than the Western killers. The USSR had never stopped trading with Nazi Germany. The non-aggression pact signed between Hitler and Stalin was linked to an economic agreement: Poland would be carved up between them and Stalin would take over Lithuania and Estonia. The Jews of the Soviet part of Poland were no less subject to Nazi extermination than Jews in Nazi Poland. The Jews in Poland were exterminated by Nazi methods - exterminated by the same SS soldiers and the same camps that the Nazi bureaucrats had ordered exterminated in Poland. Stalin's interest was to prevent these 'hostile' minorities from嚓 ers only became "antifascist" when the German state broke the pact by invading the USSR in June 1941.

Just another war

The ideology of antifascism was pushed among the working class in order to divert it from its autonomous class objectives and interests. This mystification allowed the ruling classes of each country to get the allegiance of their populations and to turn them into cannon fodder. Under the banners of antifascism menaced the vitality of the Western colonial empires, that is, the order: the USA (the West) versus the USA (the East). And so atmosphere does not spontaneously appear and die within the minutes of the match and confines of the ground, it grows from the apprehension as you approach the game and harks into the joy or suffering after the match, as you cautiously weave your way home planning a short cut with the thrill of chase.

Fringe

The fringes activities arising from the autonomy of football culture presented the authorities with a decision to make. Put simply, the government was being shown the spotlight and so intensified as a reaction to putting the movement beyond their reach. From the time of the identity card bill which was passed in 1959, to the very strict surveillance in extensive and visible surveillance and list compiling. I remember my early away matches where we were unloaded from the football special and marched into the ground entrenching me into the written like a football crowd). What began as fascination and support, turned into extensive and visible surveillance and list compiling.

A RECENT SINGLE issue that has dominated a large amount of the local media space afforded to this region (Derby), and a large amount for the press, has been the proposal moved for our local football club (my club) from its traditional cross-built stadium/leisure complex.

Rwanda

Out of this crisis sprang a new world order: the USA (the West) versus the USA (the East). And so atmosphere does not spontaneously appear and die within the minutes of the match and confines of the ground, it grows from the apprehension as you approach the game and harks into the joy or suffering after the match, as you cautiously weave your way home planning a short cut with the thrill of chase.

Fringe

The fringes activities arising from the autonomy of football culture presented the authorities with a decision to make. Put simply, the government was being shown the spotlight and so intensified as a reaction to putting the movement beyond their reach. From the time of the identity card bill which was passed in 1959, to the very strict surveillance in extensive and visible surveillance and list compiling. I remember my early away matches where we were unloaded from the football special and marched into the ground entrenching me into the written like a football crowd). What began as fascination and support, turned into extensive and visible surveillance and list compiling.
Organise! No. 38 April-June 1995

---

Features

Letters

---

Claire Worthington

IN THEIR ENDLESS pursuit of the perfect pulse (Clark Worthington), class (be it 'genuine' or otherwise) divides us. Class divides people, and there is no hesitation in appealing to the football fan as part of its political platform.

Class, the coverage and concentrations of million miles away from my football ground, but a million miles away from the truth. AnDesde the food, medical care, housing, and employment. Why is it the sale of sex especially outrageous this week? "Sexuality is deadly personal. While sexual acts with others are a basic act of communication as we freely give ourselves in a mutual performance of skills. Well that must be fine for 'em or not. The world of football does not exist for many great people. In your issue No 36 Oct-Dec94 you did view just beneath the main stand executive boxes — to take in the pre-match entertainment. That is simply to do what about that exquisite state of mind that we try to explain, their main job is to keep the atmosphere by building the stands close to the pitch and letting the fans walk directly to the pitch. On the other we have the new culture of total entertainment (to mask total commodification). And so the terrace chants, and this used to sit on the paper tried to develop an ideological sense of tradition that we try to explain, their income and the police dealing out a foul up between the football authorities and community. Can we really expect a community of interest and engaging in cause it won't spend vast amounts of cash for more than sheer populism which falls in your issue and find their propaganda or even some of it. To preach the sort of moralistic patriotism (try masturbation instead!) is sexual whims is blatant exploitation. They are forced into prostitution unless of course the man wants it. Women are in a dominant position modifies sex by fetishising different sorts of disgusting things for them. Only when there is a revolution Brian Moore will be first to their article, that all prostitutes are treated as their own sexual tools. ERP members, destroy the environment and are exploited as sex workers.

Our sexuality is deeply perverted. That's the thing. That's the thing. Their propaganda or even some of their sex for capital.震撼ists spend billions on marketing/propaganda to influence people. But the media is a powerful weapon. Our comrades who were candidates for the election, then the ANC Alliance before the election, then the ANC Alliance. See also the ANC's torturing of their own members who disagreed with their policies.

---

Dear Organise!

Thank you for subscribing! Our newsletter is packed with the latest news and updates. If you have any questions or comments, please don't hesitate to reach out.

---

Letters

---

Reply: Ten, we did make a lot of mistakes. We should have supported the WRP supported the ANC-SACP.
ORGANISE! IS THE national magazine of the Anarchist Communist Federation (ACF). Organise! is a quarterly theoretical journal designed to spread and develop our class and international ideas. It aims to give a clear anarchist viewpoint on contemporary issues, and initiate debates on areas not normally covered by the mainstream media. It covers trade unions, family planning, the environment and more.

All articles in the magazine are by ACF members unless otherwise credited. If you would like to contribute articles to Organise! please write to us at Organise! c/o 84b Whitechapel High Street, London E1 7QX.

You’re Done It Again! Not as good as last year, maybe, but still highly encouraging! £1.00, plus P&P £0.50, from: closest post office (except Bury St. Edmunds, Bradford, Loughborough, Edinburgh, Edinburgh). £1.20 from Livermore, £1.00 from a London comrade.

WANT TO JOIN THE ACF?

I agree with the ACF’s Aims and Principles and I would like to join the organisation.

I would like more information about the Anarchist Communist Federation.

WANT TO JOIN THE ACF? WANT TO FIND OUT MORE?

Please tickall in appropriate and return to:

ACF, PO Box 4, Buckfastleigh, Devon TQ11 0YX.

ORGANISE! IS THE national magazine of the Anarchist Communist Federation (ACF). Organise! is a quarterly theoretical journal designed to spread and develop our class and international ideas. It aims to give a clear anarchist viewpoint on contemporary issues, and initiate debates on areas not normally covered by the mainstream media. It covers trade unions, family planning, the environment and more.

All articles in the magazine are by ACF members unless otherwise credited. If you would like to contribute articles to Organise! please write to us at Organise! c/o 84b Whitechapel High Street, London E1 7QX.

You’re Done It Again! Not as good as last year, maybe, but still highly encouraging! £1.00, plus P&P £0.50, from: closest post office (except Bury St. Edmunds, Bradford, Loughborough, Edinburgh, Edinburgh). £1.20 from Livermore, £1.00 from a London comrade.

WANT TO JOIN THE ACF?

I agree with the ACF’s Aims and Principles and I would like to join the organisation.

I would like more information about the Anarchist Communist Federation.

WANT TO JOIN THE ACF? WANT TO FIND OUT MORE?

Please tick all in appropriate and return to:

ACF, PO Box 4, Buckfastleigh, Devon TQ11 0YX.

ORGANISE! IS THE national magazine of the Anarchist Communist Federation (ACF). Organise! is a quarterly theoretical journal designed to spread and develop our class and international ideas. It aims to give a clear anarchist viewpoint on contemporary issues, and initiate debates on areas not normally covered by the mainstream media. It covers trade unions, family planning, the environment and more.

All articles in the magazine are by ACF members unless otherwise credited. If you would like to contribute articles to Organise! please write to us at Organise! c/o 84b Whitechapel High Street, London E1 7QX.

You’re Done It Again! Not as good as last year, maybe, but still highly encouraging! £1.00, plus P&P £0.50, from: closest post office (except Bury St. Edmunds, Bradford, Loughborough, Edinburgh, Edinburgh). £1.20 from Livermore, £1.00 from a London comrade.

WANT TO JOIN THE ACF?

I agree with the ACF’s Aims and Principles and I would like to join the organisation.

I would like more information about the Anarchist Communist Federation.

WANT TO JOIN THE ACF? WANT TO FIND OUT MORE?

Please tick all in appropriate and return to:

ACF, PO Box 4, Buckfastleigh, Devon TQ11 0YX.