30th January, 1952.

Dear Harry,

My apologies for the delay in replying to your letter of December 26. I am not, and never have been, a good secretary, and I only wish someone else would take the job on. We were very sorry to receive your resignation, although of course your absence from group meetings during the past year had led us to believe that something was wrong. Suppose this goes for Ruby, too?

The point you raise in your letter is not, of course, one that can satisfactorily be argued by letter as so many different issues are involved. It is, however, one that needs discussion and we should be very glad if you were prepared to meet us for a talk about it. Why not come along for a talk some Sunday evening?

We are expecting to resume publication of a printed DIRECT ACTION in a month's time.

Shall hope to see you. Meanwhile, every good wish to Ruby and yourself.

Yours fraternally,

Secretary.
