

Dear Ken,

~~I~~ I am unable to find my words to this old Riddle but enclose the tune as you should have a copy for the movement. The words in full appeared in a July 19 no. of either Solo or Ruta for 1947. Also the words & music of my General Strike song, my singing of which was approved of by Cites Reed Pritchard + Ashton, and the words of another song for which I also have the music; which you may or may not consider suitable for the songbook, if the latter I shoudt mind I'm not that temperamental. I think the idea is excellent. Pie in the Sky + Allahabadi I'm a hum. should certainly go in & why not the 'Country Women' for a list of traditions I have the tune but not the words. + by the same token 'Annie Lammie', for it was Parsons who gave it to the Labour movement + Shelley's 'Men of England'. I shall look forward to its publication.

The heading is extremely effective I am much impressed. J Mac & I were discussing notepaper the other day & decided to have some, as it would be useful for local official letters (to U.P. the press, for advertising meetings & booking rooms etc) So I wonder if you could do some for us putting local secy's address below the heading?

While D.A. does not appear to think a dist circular should be distributed to maintain interest of comrades in provinces otherwise those on the border such as Roum go over to F.P.

all the Best

Fraternally
Julian

The Anarchist's Call

In the green of the meadows flows the labourer's blood.

In the mills are the skeletons of toilers,
In the mines are ghosts of children, children long dead.

But we the working class know our despoilers.

See the youth of the country shot down in his prime,
And the maiden's heart air burdened with sorrow.

See the workers growing old long before their time,

But we shall wake to a glorious tomorrow.

Sing of freedom for workers, banish wrecker's toil,
Love

The earth can provide a harvest for all To the workers the factories, the peasants the soil

Let the world respond to the Anarchists' call.

J.P. Hilling