Now that the miners have learnt what a set of living bastards the police are they're beginning to learn that they don't just lie about pinnies. I think people are revealed themselves in their true role. I think people are going to have to learn that the British Army similarly is not in business to defend us, it's there to defend them, and we're defending the ruling class the same as the police is, and we're learning that

KEIGHLEY NEWS LIES FOR COPS

Keighley News is a small paper owned by Westminster Press. Like all such rags it prints garbage non-news stories about mystery deficits in golf club accounts and locals appearing on Korean T.V.

However an ambitious young reporter called Malcolm Evans has been trying to attract the attention of the grubbiest end of Fleet Street by filing some dodgy stories.

The latest of these is printed under the headline 'How Public Money Is Funding Anarchy'. It isn't just dodgy. In the words of a local radio which refused to touch the story it is a 'series of unfounded allegations' against the Bradford Printshop, KDIS and the 1 in 12 club.

Evans had previously contacted KDIS during our masonic investigations. However the allegations he makes in K.N. were fed to him by a shipley detective.

It is the latest in a string of police investigations into active 1 in 12 club members. So far we so far we haven't found out if it is an information gathering exercise on their own initiative or if they have been put up to it by friends in higher and/or masonic places. There isn't any doubt that there is a campaign of harassment against the 1 in 12 or that KDIS is under investigation.

There isn't any point in repeating Evan's lies on behalf of the police. However it must be said that KDIS is an independent and disorganised magazine which can't be hounded out of existence. On the other hand the 1 in 12 is a club and therefore it is the support of its membership which is the best defence for both the club and the members at the sharp end of the harassment.

This is the nearest KDIS will probably get to an editorial. We are not being paranoid and we are not exaggerating. These are hard times and things may yet get worse. If they do we will be calling for your support.

Stop Press: Mr Evans has just been offered a job on the Daily Mail!!!

DEATH NOTETOP TORY

The fire wreckage

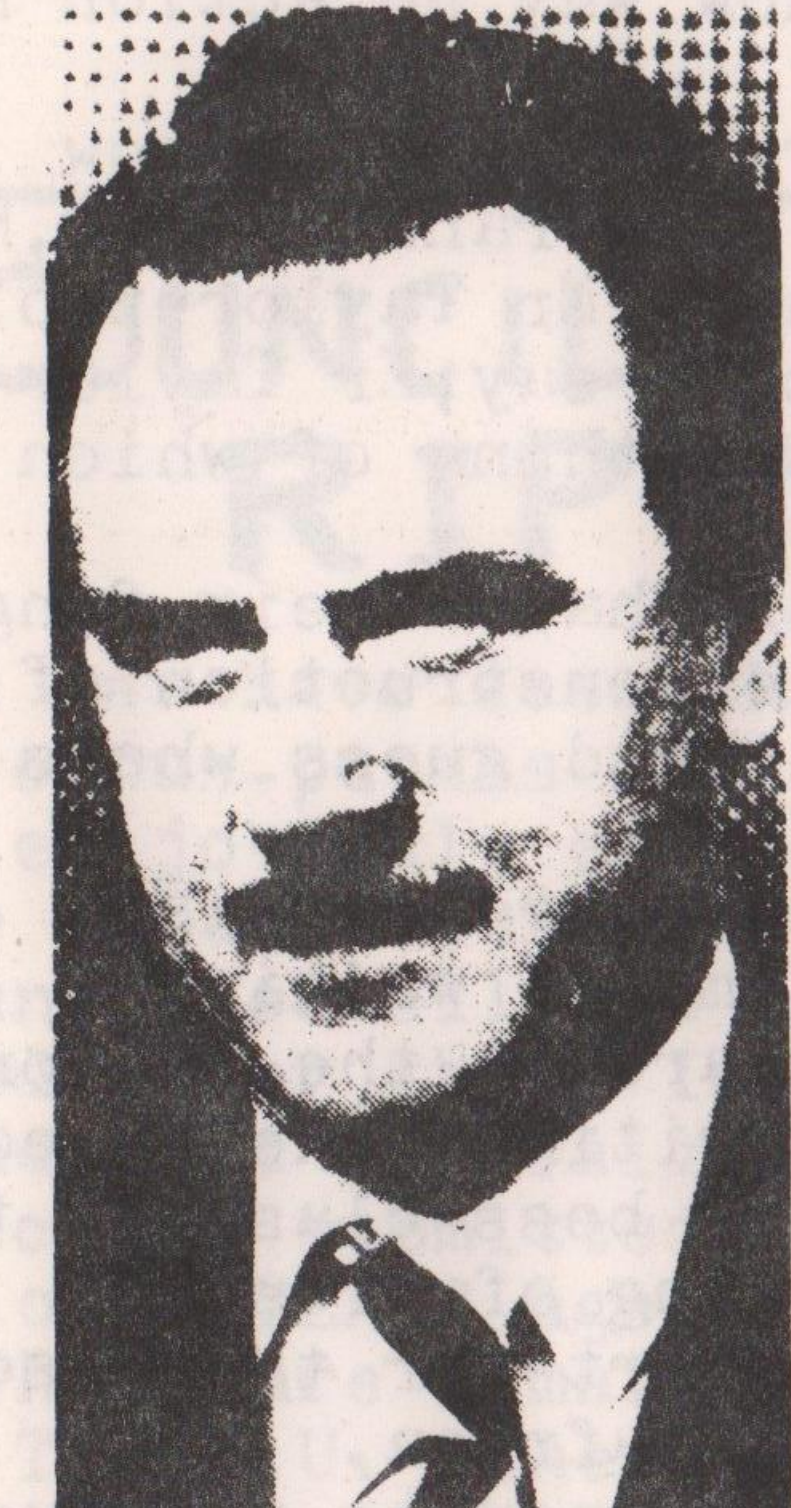

by KEITH RENSHAW

MRS. THATCHER has made a powerful personal intervention to reassure a top Yorkshire Tory whose life has been threatened by terrorists following an arson attack on his home.

The victim is Mr. Royston Moore, who is 65, chairman of Bradford Health Authority.

The Prime Minister—now away in the Far East—was deeply shocked. She knows Mr. Moore and is sure that police are doing all they can to stop what she regards as disgraceful criminal behaviour.

She has informed Mr. Norman Fowler, Secretary of State for Health and Social Services, and his Ministers of her personal interest in putting down such terrorist methods of intimidating people involved in the National Health Service.

Royston Moore: "Appalled" at hospital occupation
Letter threatens to "get him next time"

Mr. Moore wrote to Mrs. Thatcher at 10, Downing Street about militancy from the extreme Left and personal attacks in Bradford, and explained: "I have been pressing forward with the Minister of Health's request for a more efficient Health Service, including the closure of an 80-bedded geriatric hospital, Thornton View, which was completely superfluous to requirements."

"This generated considerable Left-wing activity, including unlawful occupation. Last year at the height of the controversy my house was sprayed with slogans, on the side of the house. Two months later my car was attacked in my garage, next to the house, and £500 worth of damage done to it."

"The hospital is now closed, but at 12.45 a.m. last Saturday morning my garage, with my Ford Granada car inside, was set alight, completely destroying both the garage and the car and partially damaging the side of the house."

SURE

The death threat came in a letter signed "Hansel and Gretel" and sent to a local newspaper. Mr. Moore is convinced it is genuine.

It reads in part: "R. Moore got it tonight. We could've blown the bastard away. But we couldn't decide... he's only a symbol... he's a waste of life—a nothing."

Fox - HE'S AT IT AGAIN!

Marcus Fox

With the present Tory trend of privatising everything in sight, moves to the privatisation of the mining industry have already begun with Shipley Tory MP Marcus Fox (of KDIS fame) involved at an early stage.

The privatisation of open-cast mining is becoming very popular. Last year one such firm involved, the Taylor Woodrow building company, made a profit of £211,000,000 on open-cast mining alone.

Such firms operate on two different systems. A lot are under contract to the NCB but where reserves are less than 50,000 tonnes private licences are issued by the NCB. The firm then pays £16 per tonne of coal royalties which, as an average, costs £27.15 a tonne to extract compared with £46.31 for the deep mined coal.

With such profits readily available, Tory MP Marcus Fox, personally sent letters to Coal Board chairman, Ian MacGregor, and Energy Under-Secretary, Giles Shaw, asking for expansion within the private sector. No doubt Mr Fox will receive a hefty backhander from the bosses of such private companies for acting in their interests.

Last year (83/84) the Monopolies Commission recommended that licences should be extended to include mines of up to 100,000 tonnes, doubling the current limit. This would create more work for the private companies and through that, increase profits. Mr Fox is anxious to know why no action has been taken on this recommendation.

Concerning the aforementioned open-cast mining firm "Taylor Woodrow Building Company" it's director (at time of writing), a Sir Frank Taylor, has acted as one of the key fund raisers for the scab miners. Mr Taylor proudly boasts of funding the "back to work" movements. Needless to say, Mr Taylor has large financial interests in the mining industry, something of which he has done very little boasting.

As well as all this "Taylor Woodrow Building Company" have their finger in yet another pie. Readers may already be aware of the construction of a bunker at "Headquarters Strike Command" based at Naphill, and guess who's the site contractors - "Taylor Woodrow".

Along with Sir Taylor, another key backer of the scab movement is a Sir Hector Laing, Chairman of United Biscuits (at the time of writing). Both are involved in anti-union organisations and both are on the National Committee of the "Freedom Association" (at the time of writing). The Freedom Association has been involved in various attacks by the boss class on the workers. To name a few such activities include; the backing of Grunwick management against its striking employees in 1977, support for the fascist dictatorship in Chile and the apartheid regime in South Africa.

Such organisations and their members are our natural enemies and must be dealt with.

SHIPLEY MP Marcus Fox, who supports the privatisation of NHS ancillary services, is a director of a cleaning company told to quit a hospital for not keeping standards.

The shock news comes as health service unions make allegations about the competence of private domestic services in another hospital - Woodlands Orthopaedic.

Tory Mr. Fox is a boss of Shipley-based Care Services Group and a subsidiary of the company, Hospital Hygiene Services, which won a three-year contract to clean Orpington Hospital, Kent.

The firm was employed from September to clean the whole building, including the operating theatres where standards have to be high.

But five months into the contract, Bromley Health Authority was fed up with telling the company to pull its socks up and the contract was terminated.

Hospital Hygiene Services was given five days to leave the hospital and clinics where it was working.

A statement by hospital administrator Alan Jones said: "There were problems with the service given and in the opinion of the authority the contractor has not provided the standards of service specified."

Benefit

NHS staff have now been told to start cleaning the building again while other private contractors submit tenders for the contract.

Hospital Hygiene Services has 24 other NHS contracts and is likely to be one of the firms to benefit from the Government's drive to privatise ancillary hospital services.

Mr. Fox has reaffirmed his support for the selling-off of cleaning services, saying it released money to be spent on patient care. Although he is a director of the company, he is not involved in its day-to-day running.

He added, "I know the Care Services Group and they would not fail to carry out what they had undertaken to do in the contract."

The firm's lawyers are currently locked in talks with health chiefs in Bromley about the loss of the contract and Mr. Fox says the whole philosophy of privatisation in the NHS is being undermined.

Mr. Fox added: "The Government must watch very carefully what is happening where private contractors have won tenders. I believe there are plans afoot by the unions to undermine this policy."

A spokesman for Hospital Hygiene Services said Orpington Hospital was never left in such a state that it was unhealthy.

He said the group monitoring the work of the firm had complained about scuff marks and areas that had not been dusted. He added that conditions had been set that were not in the original specifications.

... over the past has revealed a gross amount of information about Mr. Fox. His 5 directorships & 5 consultantships, his personnel interest of the privatisation of industry, his neglect of staff and his blatant lies.

K.D.I.S. can now reveal yet another Fox set-up. As shown on the other page, Fox has been going to great lengths to push the case for privatisation of the mining industry - not bloody surprising as the "Foxy" fellow himself is a consultant to a private mining company, H.J. Banks. With such profits available in the private mining industry it's no surprise that the Fox has his snout deep into the shit. Needless to say, this was one consultantship that

New contract jobs boost

SHIPLEY based Care Security Services has been awarded an annual contract for night and weekend security by a South Yorkshire firm. It will mean three new jobs for the company, which is part of the Care Services Group.

The contract has been awarded by Padley & Venables of Dronfield - manufacturers of specialised drill tools for the mining industry.

Meanwhile Care Security Services has also had its first ever contract renewed. This involves 30 staff on security at the Aberdeen Service Company and at the South Bay oil service bay in Peterhead.

Marcus Fox ...
"a lying scumbag"

he kept quiet about. Fox DID NOT declare this interest. This man is a lying scumbag and cannot be trusted.

One of Fox's directorships is for a company named "Care Services Group". One of the subsidiaries of this company is "Hospital Hygiene Services", recently kicked out of a Kent hospital for low standards. Another is "Care Security Services" who offer their services as a security firm. At the height of the miners strike the firm were awarded an annual contract by a company with vast interest in the mining industry, Padley & Venables. One wonders if the boss was wined and dined by Marcus and if it was the old boys handshake that secured the deal.

HINDLE GEARS STRIKE COMMITTEE

TO: THE WORKING PEOPLE OF ENGLAND.

DEAR BROTHER & SISTERS,

We the men involved in a long and very bitter legal dispute with the Hindle management, since March 11th 1983, who's only crime was to ask for a pay rise, whatever the company could afford. The companies only offer was 35 redundancies, half of our workforce and no payrise. With the company refusing to negotiate, it left us with no alternative what so ever than to take strike action, the very thing we tried to avoid, after all, it's not a decision you take lightly.

We have obeyed the rule book and the law of the land, even when it has been a very bitter pill to swallow. We occupied the factory, we were secondary picketing and trespassing, with advice from our officials we came out of occupation, came away from secondary picketing and stopped trespassing.

We have seen support go one by one. We've seen our strike pay stopped after 12 months and still we did not kick up a fuss. Then to find out on the 9th of January 1985 that a letter was received on the 24th of December 1984 informing us that the so called caring union the A.U.E.W. EXECUTIVE COUNCIL was not going to appeal on our behalf against the verdict given in the Hindle managements favour in the Employment Appeal Tribunal in London back in October. We never for one moment wanted to fight this dispute in a court of law, but this was the position we found ourselves in and there was nothing we could do about it, especially when the management wouldn't negotiate at all with us, or any one else. We realised from the start that to win this in a court of law would be, and still is of the utmost importance to the trade union movement, not to mention the working people. We still can not believe that in this day and age you can be sacked for taking strike action (exercising our basic rights as trade union members,) the very same rights our fore fathers fought for all those yers ago. Just like them when they first started to fight against the system we have stood completely on our own, the progress that has been made, we have made on our own. If there has been any blacking on the company, we have had to go and get it ourselves from the rank and file, for the EXECUTIVE COUNCIL told us that blacking is illegal, and so should being sacked, while's't taking strike action. It could be true to say that after nearly two years of strike action we are feeling a little bitter towards the executive council, for the LACK of support they have shown us since the dispute began. If the EXECUTIVE COUNCIL and some of it's paid officials spent as much time in fighting for the rights and principles of the membership as they do in working towards a KNIGHTHOOD perhaps we would not be looking defeat in the face so often. It is high time that the rank and file of the trade union movement were made to realise just what the A.U.E.W. EXECUTIVE COUNCIL is prepared to do to save face with this anti-union government. It seems that the two combined are waving the stick with which to break the backs of the working people.

There is nothing wrong with the trade union movement that a few changes in the leadership won't put right, then some of them can take there rightful place in society with the TORY PARTY.

This club has done a lot to help local bands make it eg. New Model Army, Southern Death Cult, 3 Johns, Skeletal Family etc. Will any of tonight's bands make it? Well, I tip the Fleshpuppets for indie stardom. The turnout wasn't bad considering that it was snowing outside. Anyway first on were Retaliation, who had only arrived 5 minutes before. They were mainly boring, playing at 100 mph and singing about nuclear war etc. at least they passed the time. There was no gap between retaliation and silent community, who acted like they were the best band in the world. They were another punk band, nothing to go crazy about, but at least their mates enjoyed themselves dancing at the front of the stage. Last on stage, and well worth waiting for, were the Fleshpuppets. They had a touch of the Killing Joke about them. All their numbers were good, even to dance too. Well worth going to see.

9.30 a.m. Tuesday, March 5th, exactly one year since the strike began in Yorkshire, and we gather outside the Kellingley miners welfare club in Knottingley. Thousands of miners, wives and children gather to march back to work together. We have been invited to march with all the friends we've made and to show our continuing solidarity. There are mixed feelings, but no trace of defeat amongst the men and women who have stood solid against the full might of the state: the police attacks; the media lies; the vindictiveness of the judiciary and social security; and, to their eternal shame, the betrayal of the TUC and the labour party hierarchy.

A cheer goes up as the women of Knottingley Miners Wives Self-help Group and Leeds Women Against Pit Closures march in from the nearby council estate to join the mass.

The march starts, 3 miles to "Big K", the biggest pit in Europe. All through the town people leave their homes and workers come out from factories to cheer the miners along. The women burst into song; home-penned tunes like "Knottingley Women" and "We're gonna get 'em".

At the pit gates the NACODs men are waiting. As the NUM return, NACODs have come out on strike. All but a handful had refused to cross NUM picket lines throughout the strike, and the management had used scab labour in breach of the very rules used to justify the sacking of Kent miners.

The column march into the pit to be met by management. After shouts of defiance to the scabs cowering out of sight, the entire column turns round and marches straight back out. Then its back to the club to draw £5 each from branch funds for a well-earned pint. Along the way, incredibly, scab lorries still drive passed to move coal. Inevitably, they get what they deserve - windscreens are smashed.

Down at the club, the sun is shining and the beer is flowing. Y.T.V. are busy all day setting up a studio for a debate to be shown on "First Tuesday" that night. They have ignored warnings not to bother.

A roving Channel-4 crew try to do interviews but everyone is taking the piss.

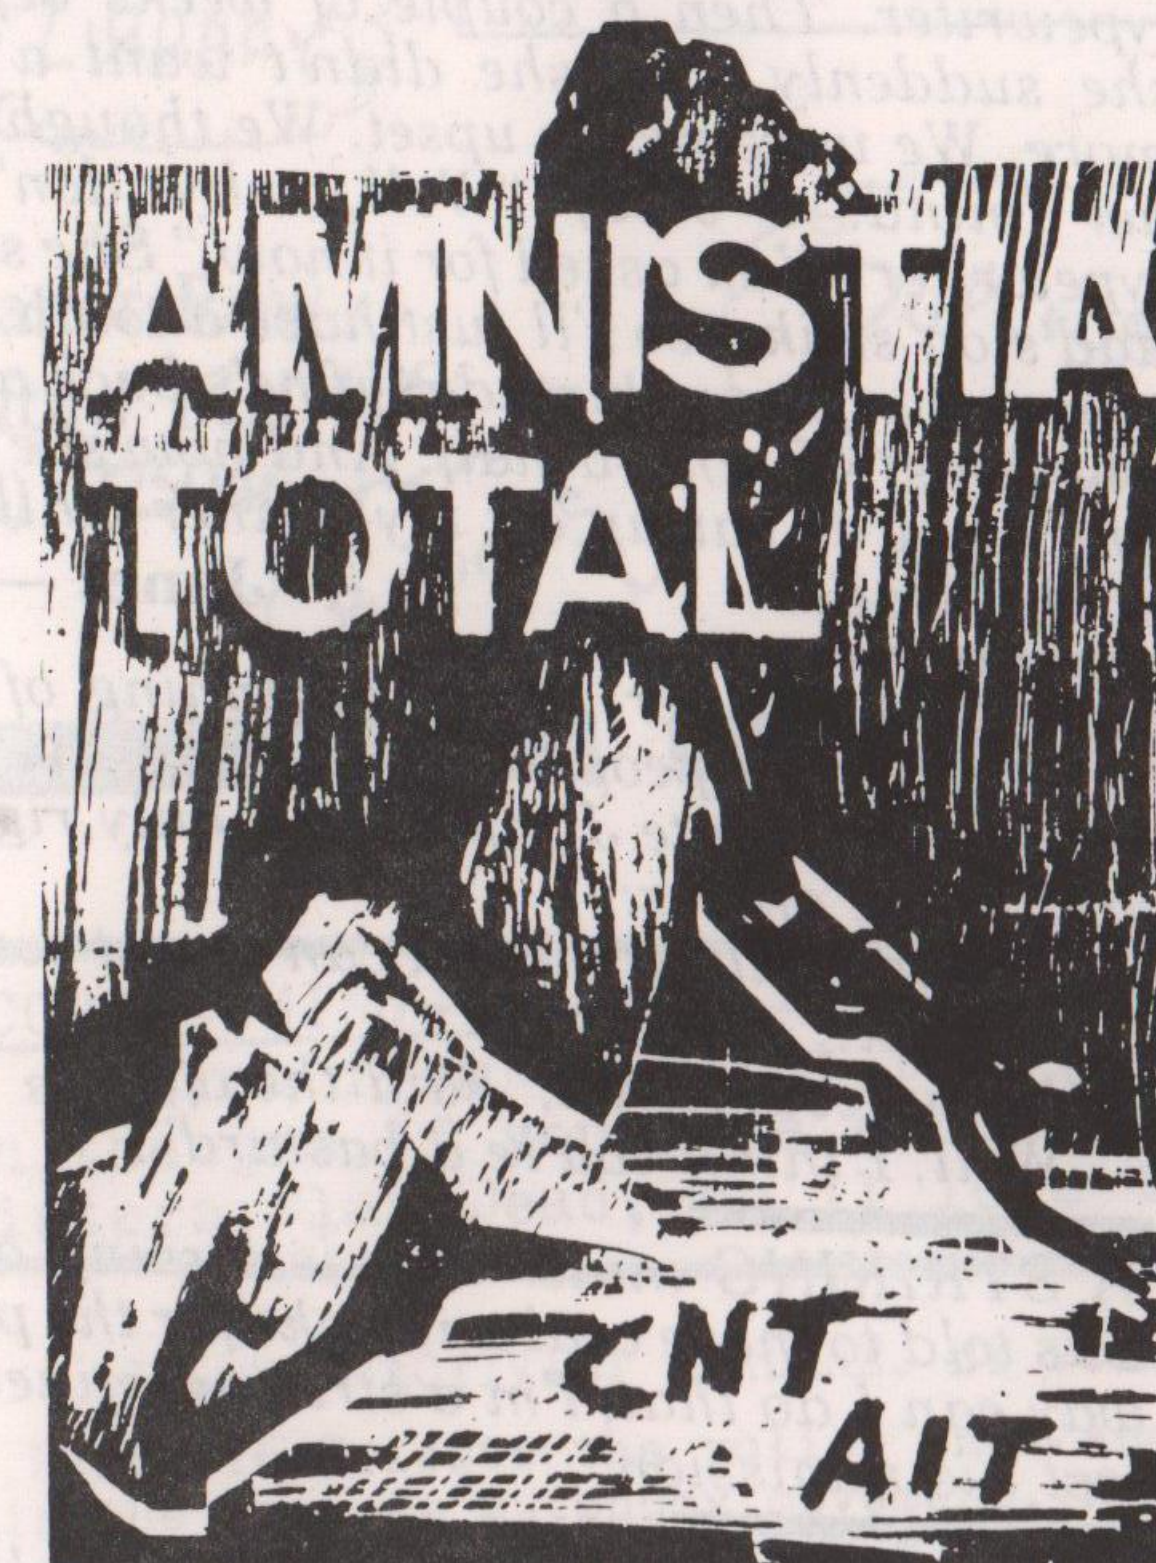

We go up to the "Wallbottle" pub where the wives group is having a party. Today we aren't allowed to spend a penny. Dorothy, Dot, Doreen, Margeret, Winnie, Barbara and all the lasses are celebrating with mixed emotions; happy that the hardship is coming to an end but fed up with the way it ended. The strike has changed all their lives - the state has only succeeded in uniting whole communities in resistance.

The c-4 crew arrive to a welcome. So relieved are they that it is easy to relieve them of £40. They try to do some interviews but the cheers and shouts leave the sound recordist tearing of his earphones in pain.

When the pub shuts, those of us that can still walk go off to someone's house to continue supping.

Meanwhile, at the welfare club, Jonathon Dimbleby arrives to chair the debate. The miners, by now well pissed, start fighting. Dimbleby makes a hurried escape and the 'debate' is cancelled. A whole and very expensive day for the media is ruined. Serves the bastards right. Everyone has a good laugh.

TOTAL AMNESTY!

On July 9th, 1984, a mining village in West Yorks, Fitzwilliam, found itself under police attack. Over 50 riot police entered the local pub and started beating anyone within truncheon distance. However, despite some very serious injuries to the residents of Fitzwilliam, the filth had bit off more than they could chew, with the whole community turning on the offensive. The filth were soon faced with a riot. As one miner put it; "We had barricades the lads in Derry'd be proud of." The filth were driven out and well over £100,000 worth of NCB property had been damaged.

THE PRISONERS AID COMMITTEE

Unfortunately, this event brought about 9 arrests, 7 of which resulted in convictions in December at Pontefract magistrates. The Fitzwilliam Prisoners Aid Committee was set up to give the victims of the class struggle solidarity and support. This group is still continuing and will do so until every miner is out of prison and their fines are paid. They can be contacted at: 4 ROCKINGHAM ST. FITZWILLIAM, W. YORKS.

One of the more interesting points about the court case was the way the magistrate found 7 guilty despite an overwhelming amount of evidence to prove all 9 were innocent, and furthermore to show that the police were responsible and guilty of extensive brutality. However, a closer look at the magistrate in question, or as they say in Fitzwilliam - the executioner - will reveal the reasons for 7 being found guilty.

Francis David Lindley Loy is the son of Archibald and Sarah Eleanor Loy (both dead, thank god!). He was educated at Repton school, Corpus Christi College and Cambridge where he got a B.A. Honours in law. In 1974 he became a stipendiary magistrate at Leeds - which basically means the bastard's so rich that he doesn't get paid weekly, not even monthly, but annually! In 1983 he became a recorder of the crown court. He's also the honorary secretary of the society of Provincial Stipendiary magistrates. There is no doubt that this corrupt pig is a Freemason. Probably the only interesting thing about this disgusting creature is his address: 4 WEDGEWOOD DR., ROUNDHAY, LEEDS LS8 1EF. If he's not in you might try his "little" cottage. The address is easier to remember; THE RED HOUSE, THE TURNING, SHERRINGHAM, NORFOLK. We understand he appreciates surprises, which is probably just as well.

A POLICE inspector is blaming the Devil for violence on miners' picket lines. He believes Satan has "raised up Arthur Scargill to wreak havoc."

Insp. Malcolm Biggin said he and other Christian policemen had seen pickets who were "demons possessed."

He cited an occasion outside the Or-greave coking works when 90 terrified policemen were trapped by 1,500 pickets. He said he walked away from the front line and prayed for God to intervene. After "prayers went up the mood changed."

Five police officers were hurt during the attack at West Yorks.

Pitmen's air strike

STRIKING miners hijacked the air waves yesterday, blocking transmissions from BBC Radio Sheffield by using a VHF transmitter.

Instead of the usual news followed by a chat show, listeners in the Creswell and Worksop areas heard strike propaganda and verbal attacks on working miners.

You ask me 'will we lose?' Well I can't answer, friend,
The state has turned against us all its might.
But when the cause is just, no matter what the end,
We have no choice, we simply have to fight.

Which side are YOU on?

Although the miners strike is officially over with the NUM suffering a defeat, the struggle has not finished. Firstly there are those in prison and those sacked. The sackings continue, and as we go to press many pits in S. Yorks are back out on strike - and its spreading. The mood is one of anger. A survey taken by Channel-4's "UNION WORLD" on March 9th showed 70% of miners ready to come out again. The victimisation continues; everyone saw on T.V. the miner being ruthlessly beaten by a cop at Orgreave. The cops had an enquiry: Result- no action against the cop, the miner was charged with "rioting".

Your continued support is vital; both by fundraising and by action. Monies to your nearest pit, support group or direct to; MINERS SOLIDARITY FUND, ST. JAMES HOUSE, VICAR LANE, SHEFFIELD.

Our voices

It would take a heart of stone buried in permafrost not to warm to a slim little volume* produced by the women of North Yorkshire.

Stripped off all pretence and gimmickry, it is a straightforward collection of quotes from miners and families involved in the strike, sprinkled with pictures and verse.

It should, though, carry a health warning, inflicting, as it does, a mighty assault on the emotions. Laughter one moment, tears the next. A few examples, some attributed, some not:

'OUR eldest girl wanted a typewriter and a torch for Christmas. So it wasn't easy, but we got her this typewriter. Then a couple of weeks before Christmas, she suddenly said she didn't want a typewriter any more. We were really upset. We thought she'd changed her mind. I said, "Well, why don't you want a typewriter? You asked for it now." She said, "I know my dad's on strike, so I'll just have a torch. And I'll have a typewriter for my birthday if he's back at work by then." She's just six-and-a-half. And now she's started saying I'm going to eat up all my dinner while ever you're on strike, Dad.'

Janet — Featherstone

'IF you remember, at the beginning of the strike, they were arresting people for shouting "SCAB!" Well, they arrested my mate Jimmy. He's only right little, and he said to the officer:

"Are you telling me you can arrest somebody for what they think?"

"No, of course not," said the officer.

"Well, I think you're a bastard".

'A STRIKING miner who is serving a prison sentence was told to move coal and coke for the prison boiler. "No way can I do that, I'm a striking miner." He didn't. He lost his remission.'

'ONE thing this strike's learnt me — it's learnt me he's not too knackered to make love on a night.'

"No, but I am".

'THERE was about twenty of us arrested down at Babbington, and when they got us down to the police cells, there was that much confusion, the police didn't know who was who. When they called out one lad's name, for him to come forward, somebody shouted out "I'm Spartacus." And then all the other lads shouted "I'm Spartacus." Every time they tried to find out who was who, we all shouted "I'm Spartacus."

The police didn't know if they were coming or going.'

Mark — Stillingfleet

And, yes, there are plenty more like that. North Yorkshire Women Against Pit Closures, who produced the book, are to be heartily congratulated. By the simple device of using our own experiences in our own setting and in our own language they have succeeded where so many experts fail.

ITALIAN ACTIVIST MURDERED BY POLICE ON 9/3/85.

On 9th of March in Trieste the police shot and murdered Pietro Greco, an activist in the workers autonomy movement. The vicious Italian state repression had forced Pietro to go on the run. He was accused of "subversive association" and participation in an armed band (vague charges that made no reference to a specific crime) and of possessing weapons (NO weapons were ever found). These charges were laid as part of the mass arrests of 25/2/82-if Pietro had not fled then, he would probably have faced years of "preventative detention" before trial.

When Pietro returned to his flat in Via Giulia, Trieste shortly after 11am on Saturday March 9, the police were waiting for him on the landing. They fired at him on sight. Probably already hit, Pietro ran out into the street, shouting "Help, they want to kill me". Three policemen were lying in wait. They fired around 20 shots at Pietro as he tried to hide behind a parked car. He collapsed on the pavement. One policeman walked towards him and fired another shot into the back of his neck. The policeman then searched Pietro and handcuffed his hands behind his back, before calling an ambulance. Pietro died shortly after arriving at the hospital. It was announced that he had been struck by 7 bullets, one in the back of the neck. Both the police and newspapers confirmed that Pietro WAS NOT ARMED. There was an immediate reaction to Pietro's murder. School students in Favoda, where he had been active in many struggles, took strike action. Through leafletting and the autonomist Radio Sherwood, Pietro's comrades denounced this "premeditated assassination" by the state. The judges, politicians and police are condemned for being responsible for Pietro's murder, and for upholding the whole repressive political and social system in Italy. These exploiters are denounced thus:

"You are death, you are the people responsible for the Emergency, the torture, the millions of unemployed, the 110,000 arrests every year, the "special units of death" in the prisons, the massacres, the military adventure in Lebanon, the support for NATO, the redundancies, the deaths in the street" from a leaflet published the day after Pietro's murder. After the mass struggles of 77/78 the Italian state hit back with a series of repressive measures, the "Emergency" laws. These include "prevention detention", whereby people could be detained for up to 12 years before trial (recently reduced to 6 years). The "special units of death" are used in the prisons to impose an exceptionally repressive regime on political activists. Waves of arrests have put activists behind bars. Activity which attempts to go beyond the accepted constitutional channels is often met with fierce repression, eg the vicious police attacks on people trying to blockade military bases at Comiso and Vicenza. Despite the clamp-down in Italy and the great weakening of the movement of opposition to the system the state has not succeeded in crushing all opposition. Pietro's comrades assert that they will continue to struggle against the system of exploitation and for a better quality of life, as Pietro himself always did.

Yorkshire Water

IT'S A CON!

Readers may already be aware of the increase in water rates as from April 1 1985. However something they may not be aware of is the implication of the increase. Knee Deep In Shit has been informed by a "Yorkshire Water Authority" employee of the effects of the increase.

For a normal domestic house/flat, water charges are based on the "rateable value" of the property. The "R.V." is assessed by the "Valuation Officer" who works for the Inland Revenue. Water charges are calculated by using poundages in an equation along with the "R.V." At 84/85 rates the charges would be calculated as below (for example we use three different R.V.'s. The greater the R.V. the bigger/better the property.)

R.V.		TOTAL POUNDAGE (made up of a water poundage of .245 and a sewerage poundage of .256)		WATER STANDING CHARGE		TOTAL BILL
50	x	.501	+	£5	=	£30.05
200	x	.501	+	£5	=	£105.20
400	x	.501	+	£5	=	£205.40

Raid on chief

A police chief who recently reported increasing crime levels in his area is one of the latest victims. Durham County Police said today that the home of their Chief Constable, Mr. Eldred Boothby, at Satley, near Towham, had been broken into at the weekend and jewellery and personal items worth more than £500 stolen.

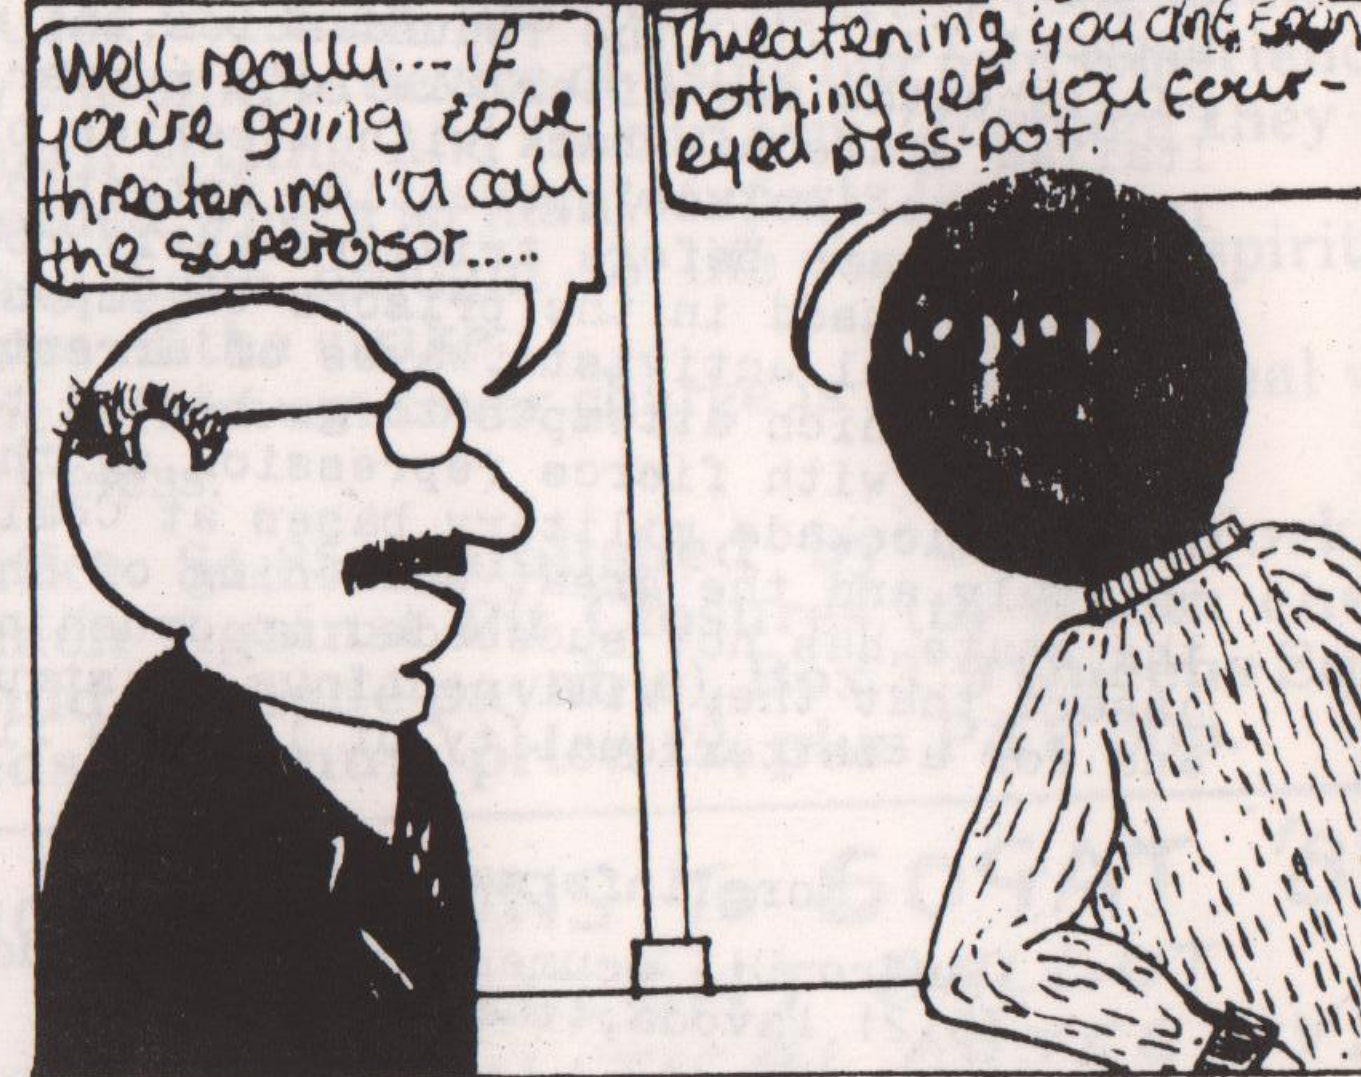

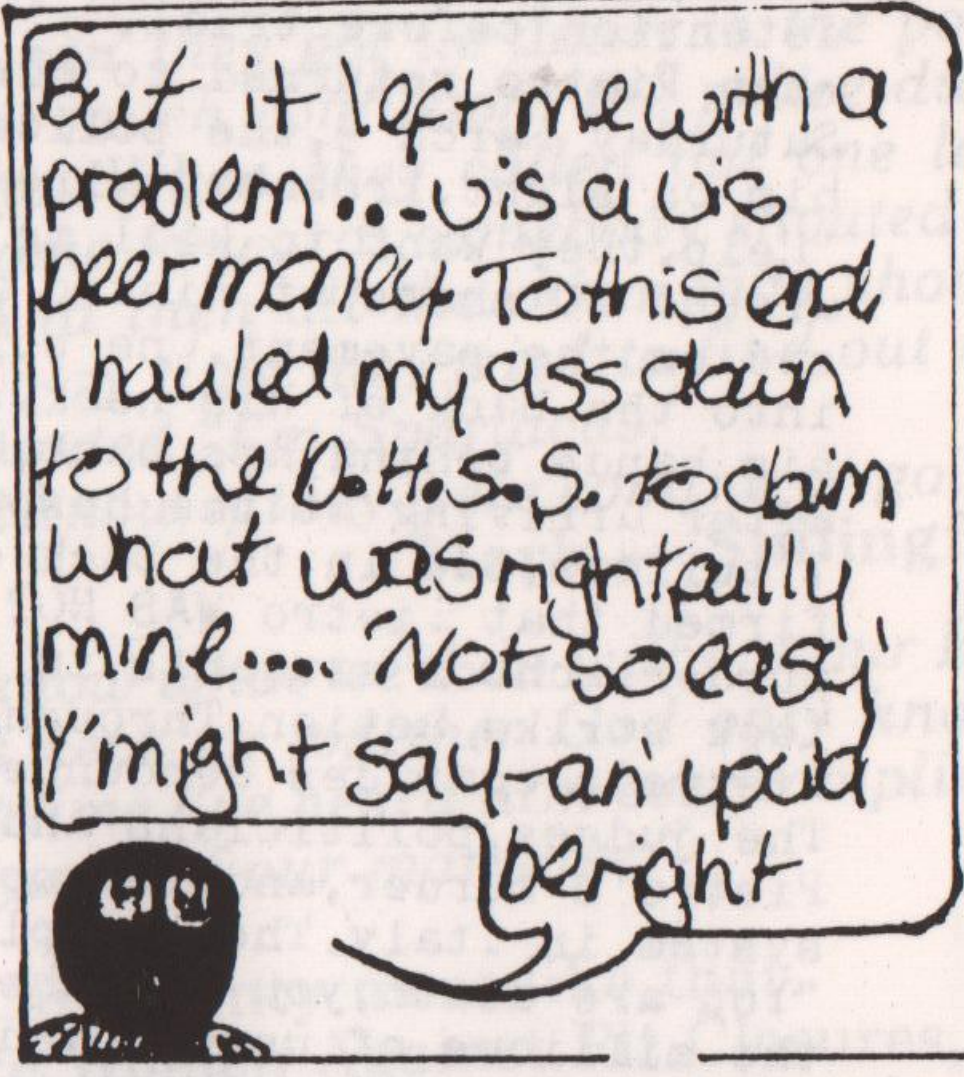

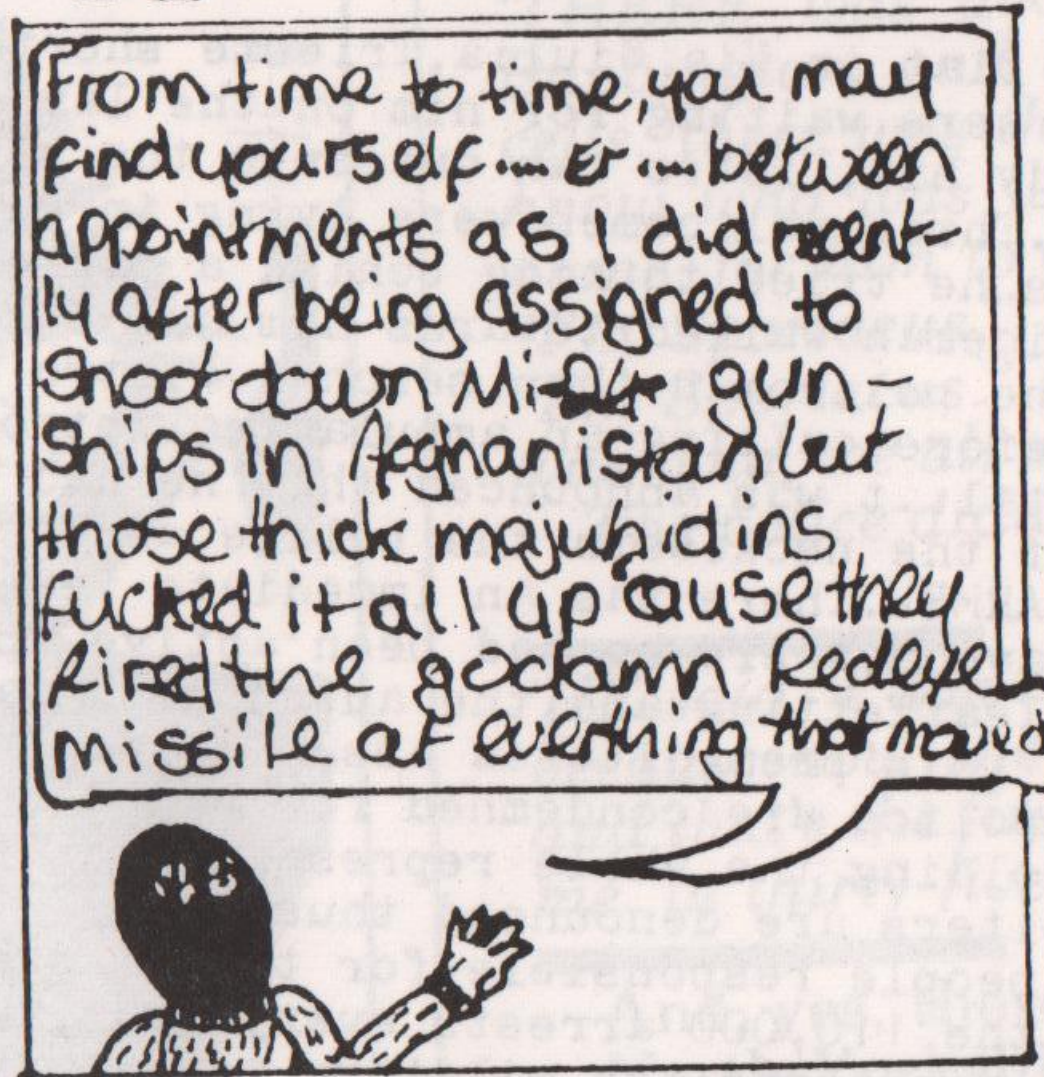

PRIME Minister Maggie Thatcher revealed at a Downing Street drinks party that she could not stand beards and would not tolerate any of her ministers sporting one.

Hello Bishop!

BISHOP of Birmingham Dr. Hugh Montefiore says that he and his chaplain were propositioned by three prostitutes in a red-light district. He has asked West Midlands police for action to "protect God-fearing, law-abiding citizens" in the Balsall Heath district of Birmingham.

A VERY TRUE STORY - HONEST!

THE WORLD'S BEST AGAINST THE WORLD'S SHITTYIST

Race-row head mystery

Ray Honeyford has become a media star. They love him and they're falling over each other to paint him as the martyred and misunderstood intellectual. "T.V. Eye" supposedly the heart and soul of screen bound investigative journalism just regurgitated more of the same carrots.

Four years teaching in a multi-racial has apparently turned Honeyford into an expert. None of the super hacks have questioned his background. It's doubtful if some of them have even read his articles. You can hardly blame them for this, they make depressing reading. Wild generalisations about black cultures, both offensive and racist, lead him to equally offensive and racist conclusions. They aren't so much 'arguments' as the mumblings of a confused man telling you his life story at a bus stop. It's as though Mein Kampf had been re-written in the language of the S.D.P..

His mumblings are loudest in the 'Salsbury Review'. Again none of the super hacks have questioned its background.

'NEW RIGHT'

The 'S.R.' is repeatedly presented as a respectable academic magazine. In fact it is the 'theoretical' journal of the 'New Right'. It wheels out Oxbridge dons, retired army big-wigs and amongst others Enoch Powell to argue politely for policies that branded the National Front as fascists. Needless to say the fascists frequently quote from the magazine to justify their own policies.

If the 'New Right' isn't a party it is a tendency within the Conservative Party, especially that section of it which has been stealing the fascists thunder. The 'S.R.' is the mouthpiece of its political wing, its military wing is of course the Federation of Conservative Students.

If there are disagreements among the 'New Right' about economics there are none about race. There is a remarkable consensus here, understand it and you understand not merely what Honeyford is saying but what he is trying to do.

First they argue that 'racism' is the belief that blacks are racially inferior to whites. Then they go on to explain that they can't be racist because they believe that blacks are only culturally inferior. But on this basis they then try to justify policies which deny Black rights like Russing and repatriation.

FRANK THE DONKEY

Their problem was that until they got their hands on Honeyford they only had 'intellectual' credibility. His writings gave them street credibility.

But again none of the so-called investigative journalists have seriously challenged him about his past. He therefore remains a man without a past, yet take away his 'expert' status and there is simply a pathetic bigot like his self-appointed champion Frank 'the donkey' Kelly.

Surely it must be suspicious that a man who uses his present position to get on in the world is deliberately vague about his past. What has he got to hide?

'Stay away from school' men told

Heads to punish protest pupils

PUPILS who attended protest rally in Bradford City Centre face detention for truancy.

At Buttershaw Upper Road West head, told the T & A. The pupils, who were actually sent to school, did not attend the rally. I didn't know and my child to go, we deal with it, then we will.

Arson theory

POLICE are treating as arson a school blaze which caused £20,000 worth of damage. They are investigating the fire which gutted a boilerhouse and cut off heating to Tonge Upper School, Westgate Hill Street Bradford, on Friday.

BNP VOWS : WE WILL BE BACK AND WE'LL BE WAITING FOR THE BASTARDS !!

British National Party boss John Tyndall

Bradford has prided itself on not giving fascists a chance to organise. However every so often they try to gain a foothold by standing a candidate in an election and holding a rally under police protection.

On Saturday, April 13 they tried again, The British National Party headed by ex-N.F. fuhrer John Tyndall put up another candidate in Eccleshill. This time there were promises that the meeting would be properly 'public', on a 'first come first served basis. Since there were more than enough anti-fascists queueing (!) outside to ensure the hall would be full before the B.N.P. arrived. We looked like having a peaceful success.

As on previous occasions the fascists were, however, escorted in before us. Details of what happened in the meeting will come out at the trial, lets just say that a lot of chairs were flung about and the meeting lasted 5 mins. 6 anti-fascists were arrested inside the hall and 6 outside. Only one fascist was arrested.

If fascism ever got any degree of control it would be a catastrophe for us all. It would mean racism and racist attacks on a scale unprecedented in Britain. It would make Thatcher's Britain seem like paradise. If we don't make a stand now and defend ourselves by denying fascists a platform they will grow by feeding on misinformed prejudice and it will be too late to complain.

We understand that most of the arrested were charged under the 1936 public order act, a law brought in to curb Oswald Mosley's fascists. Irony? No, dangerous. Obviously we can't rely on the law, the council or government and police - we have to defend ourselves and our rights. April 13 was our victory yet the B.N.P. still polled over 400 votes in the election. They are growing and we have to be ready. Where were you on April 13?

Direct action by pupils worries schools chief

BRADFORD education boss Alan Jones is disturbed at the number of pupils prepared to take direct action against the effects of the teachers dispute.

He told councillors there had been three marches on City Hall plus two school demonstrations.

Explosives theft theory

A military inquiry was ordered today into how a box of highly dangerous explosives was stolen from a Royal Marine training area.

OUTSIDE agitators were responsible for whipping up a rampage by children at a Bradford school, says the headmaster.

Mr Mervyn Flecknoe said: "A fringe group" had been handing out leaflets to pupils at Carlton Bolling Upper School, Undercliffe.

Yesterday about 500 youngsters brought to the city centre as they marched on Provincial House to protest at education cuts.

set up

HUNDREDS of pupils at Drummond Middle School, Bradford, could be educated permanently at a rebel school unless headmaster Ray Honeyford is sacked.

A parents' action committee set up an alternative school for 250 Drummond pupils in the Pakistani Community Centre, White Abbey Road yesterday.

The school will open until the end of the week. Parents would contribute towards the running of the school. Mr Honeyford said he would not remove the education committee.

Protesters rebel school

The row surrounding him started a year ago after he wrote an article in the right-wing Salisbury Review criticising Bradford Council's multicultural education policy. He claimed the policy harmed the minority in schools. Jenny Woodward said: "The school in the community centre is being started by professional teachers who volunteered for the work because they felt so strongly about our campaign. Some are retired and unemployed but others are not."

Masons Update

The revelations in the last iss. caused a right furore at City Hall. A speedy re-organisation was rushed through to try and clean up the image of the place, and a lot of "mole-hunting" was done (without success). Also, a desperate search for anyone connected with KDIS was undertaken.

Also, the article upset labour councillor BOB SOWMAN. Somebody had nicked his briefcase which had details of his links with the company RIVERFIELD (Halifax) Ltd, and he thought it was down to us (as if we'd do such a thing!)

Anyway, the upshot is, we made an error. Bobs RIVERFIELD company was not the same one in the article.

But before we offer any groveling apologies, we found out that one of the jobs he undertook for RIVERFIELD was to negotiate the purchase of Baildon town hall so that it could be turned into a private geriatric rest home. How the old git reconciles this with his public support of the occupation of Thornton View Geriatric Hospital against closure, is anyone's guess. No wonder Bob failed to make his financial connections with this company clear in the councils register of interests, as he's legally required to do.

More bad news for Barratts (see last two issues.) The employees who were sacked for their cock-ups appealed against unfair dismissal at an Industrial tribunal, and won. Eighteen claims were upheld unanimously, and compensation payments are expected to cost Barratts in the region of £100,000. But, ofcourse, tight-fisted Barratts appealed against the decision - not because they have any chance of changing it, but to delay payment.

Meanwhile, loony chairman of Barratt (Northern) Ltd, Mr. Theodore Van Ree, had the gall to claim that redundancies were down to the miners, and said "more job losses in the company could be blamed on Arthur Scargill."

We always knew freemasons were a bunch of fruitcakes, but that takes the biscuit.

ANTIEN CHARGES.

4.—BEHAVIOUR IN PRESENCE OF STRANGERS, NOT MASONS.

You shall be cautious in your words and carriage, that the most penetrating stranger shall not be able to discover or find out what is not proper to be intimated; and sometimes you shall divert a discourse, and manage it prudently for the honour of the worshipful fraternity.

6.—BEHAVIOUR TOWARDS A STRANGE BROTHER.

You are cautiously to examine him in such a method as prudence shall direct you, that you may not be imposed upon by an ignorant, false pretender, whom you are to reject with contempt and derision, and beware of giving him any hints of knowledge.

But if you discover him to be a true and genuine brother, you are to respect him accordingly; and if he is in want you must relieve him if you can, or else direct him how he may be relieved. You must employ him some days, or else recommend him to be employed. But you are not charged to do beyond your ability; only to prefer a poor brother that is a good man and true before any other poor people in the same circumstances.

Amien, so mote it be.

From the "ANTIEN CHARGES" - yes, masons cant even spell right.

Rich layabout Princess Michael of Kent has been in the news a bit recently, re her dads Nazi S.S. membership. Not the only dodgy link, I'm afraid. Her husband, Prince Michael, the queens cousin, is no less than The Grand Master Mason of the United Grand Lodge of England - the top man!

BRIGHTON IRA bomb blast victims included former Leeds Tory councillor Stephen Day and his wife, Frances.

Mr. Day, a salesman with an Otley firm, said from his hospital bed: "I'll remember it always. It was like a vivid, blinding, blue flash - and then suddenly masonry was falling on me."

At the height of the local mason row, a local radio journalist was given a tip off about a special "Emergency Chapter Convocation" to be held at the Connaught Rooms on the 5th September at 6.00 p.m. last year (called by the Ionic Chapter no. 3210). The meeting was attended by master masons, all members of "The Royal Arch", from lodges within the locality. The evening included a meal at £6.50 a shot.

Anyway, back to the point; said journalist did a "Robin Cook" and stuck her mike before the startled loonies and asked if they were masons and if the meeting had been called to discuss the row over the KDIS revelations. She didn't get any intelligent answers.

Shortly afterwards, we hear, the Lord Mayor, councillor Mrs Olive Messer, phoned the boss of the radio station to complain and to insist journalists left the masons alone.

Ofcourse, as a woman, Olive cant be a brother, if you get my meaning. Had her fellow Torys put pressure on her? Or could it be anything to do with the fact that one of the dark suited loonies observed hurrying to the meeting bore an uncanny resemblance to her husband, Dr. Basil Messer?

COUNCIL RIP-OFF!

You may have seen the new half fare bus-passes for those on the dole, jokingly called "Jobseekers". The labour councillors at the county council are claiming full credit for them. In fact the entire scheme is a straight rip-off of a scheme submitted by the Claimants Union 4 YEARS ago.

There are 2 main differences;
a) The C.U. scheme applied to ALL claimants.
b) The C.U. scheme insisted that a freeze on fares should be introduced, leading to FREE public transport for all.

From Leeds Other Paper;

And just to keep you up to date on the rising career of ex-leader of the Tory group and egotistical freemason, Dr. Kevin Hawkins. He went on in '82 to become Regional director of the C.B.I. (West Midlands) - the bosses organisation. And from there, to director for public affairs at Lucas Industries P.I.C.

Meanwhile, poor old Reg Atkinson, director of development services for the council, and exposed as a freemason in the last iss., found the strain a bit too much to bear, and went and had a heart attack. Fortunately the old codger survived (we aren't vindictive).

And Mr. Ian Page, co-ordinator of economic development for the council, and ofcourse fellow "brother" has been causing some concern to his political masters.

Page, known affectionately as "Mr. Fix-it" with good reason, is the councils man behind the Lister-hills deal, amongst others. Unfortunately, whilst writing letters on behalf of his councillor-bosses, he cant seem to resist the temptation to throw in the odd, semi-hidden masonic phrase, especially if he thinks he's communicating with a "brother". This gives much an amusement to mason-watchers, but can lead to false accusations of membership.

Cut bus fares for jobless

Claimants union scheme

UNLIMITED cheap bus rides could be the latest move to make life more tolerable for the unemployed and other hard-up groups.

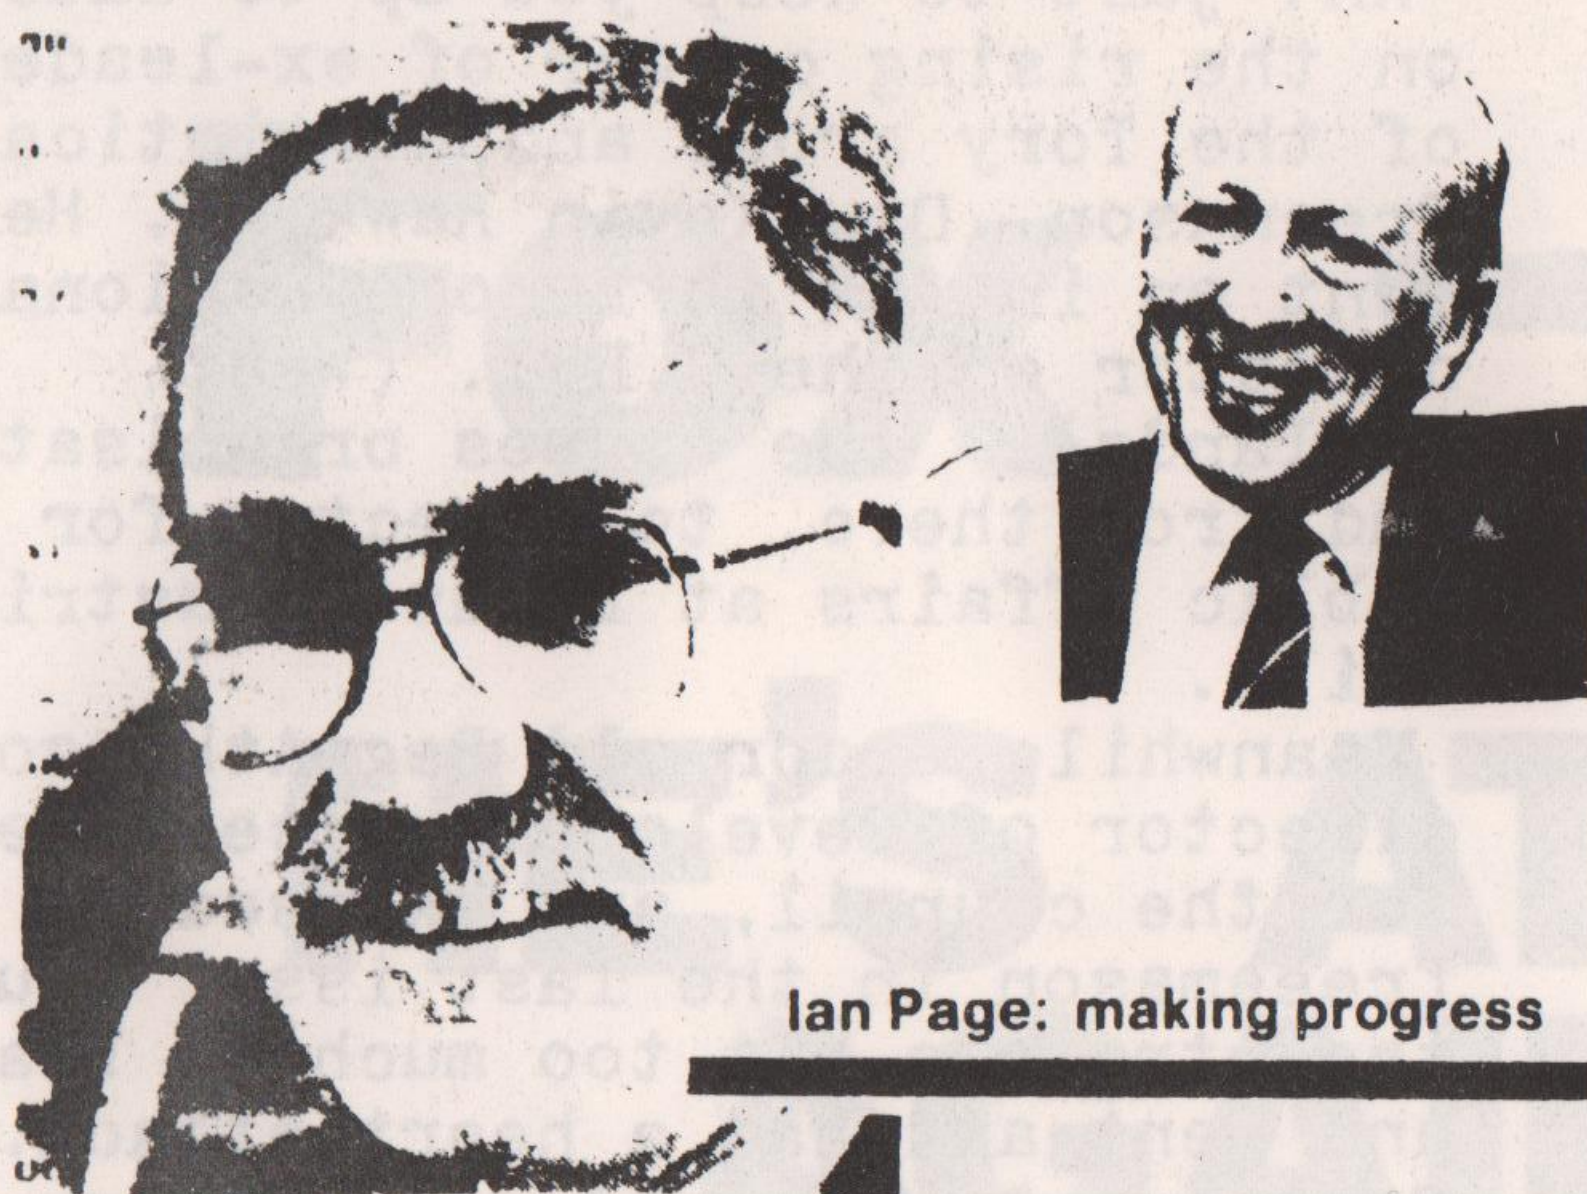

Thanks to the Bradford Claimants Union proposals have been set before the County Council calling for a "comprehensive concessionary fares scheme".

NO RESTRICTIONS

Under the interesting scheme, low-income groups would get bus and train travel at next to nothing prices. Spurred on by the introduction of the new 'Off-Peak' fares in Leeds the Claimants Union are asking for no restriction on card issued by the DHSS), would simply go along to a Metrobus office and apply for a Concessionary Fares Card, (a CFC), in exactly the same way as they would buy a Metrolink. They would then be entitled to travel at reduced rates. Pension books, benefit order books or a letter from the DHSS would all qualify as proof of eligibility. In this way, say the Claimants Union, the scheme would be neither costly nor complicated to administer. As for how cheap the fares would be, no suggested rate of concession has yet been proposed. In theory it could be anything from a 5-100% reduction! Ideally it would mean free fares for all claimants.

Ian Page: making progress

Basil Messer — "Some people think it very funny to address me as the Lady Mayoress."

CHIEF Inspector Brian Woollard is not having much luck in his wish that the conduct of the inquiry set up to look into his allegations about freemasonry in the Metropolitan Police and the effect it has had both on his career and certain criminal investigations should itself be free of masonry. He has just discovered that one of the Police Federation officials helping him with his case is himself not only a mason, but Master of his Lodge.

Alan Rusbridger

Council won't be told to confess

BRADFORD Council's officers and members won't have to confess to belonging to masonic lodges.

A proposal by Labour to have a report drawn up on how best to compel members to make such a declaration of interest was defeated by the casting vote of chairman Coun. Ronnie Farley.

One of the problems with the proposal was that apart from masonic lodges it included "all other organisations."

Labour's Coun. John Senior said he had misgivings about influence wielded by Masons, but the second part of the proposal was too wide-ranging and needed rethinking.

Reassure

His colleague, Coun. Alan Rye, said the aim of the proposal was to reassure the public that no member's interest was adversely affecting the performance of public duties.

Coun. Farley said members already were obliged to declare their interest which had a connection with council work. Any others were a matter of individual conscience. The proposal would be an infringement of personal liberty.

Yes folks, the council decided not to force disclosure of masonic membership. So it looks like it's down to us. In each issue of KDIS we will publish an up to date list of the active members in a local lodge. In the last iss. we showed a copy of a lodge agenda from Keighley, so moving in a bit, we come to Bingley, and the Bingley Masonic Hall on Charles st., where meets: The Priory lodge; St. Hiev Mark lodge; Shirley lodge and the Binglea chapter (Royal Arch). The assorted nutters have just been granted a drinks licence by friendly magistrates. Below we reproduce the membership list of one of the older lodges (no. 439).

FREEDOM OF SPEECH.....

'Goon's' insult costs man £250

Calling two policemen "a pair of unproductive Fascist goons" cost a Cononley man £250 at Keighley court on Friday. Brian Smith, 30, unemployed, of Cragg View, admitted using abusive or insulting words or behaviour likely to cause a breach of the peace and was fined £50.

He was ordered to pay £200 for a breach of a binding-over order imposed in July for a similar offence.

Insp. Peter Evans, prosecuting, said two policemen on patrol in Jawkholme Crescent, Keighley, were subjected to disgraceful abuse. It was clear Smith harboured some grudge or hatred against the police and authority, said Insp. Evans.

He tried to engage the two officers in a political argument about the miners' strike. He mentioned Thatcherism and the crushing of the working class and began shouting obscenities.

Insp. Evans said Smith was arrested but refused to co-operate in any way. At the police station he accused police officers of being parasites and said: "The IRA are doing a fine job killing you bastards off. I've sent them a fiver."

Smith told the court that one of the officers said they did not want to see him in Keighley and he should stay in Cononley. The officers were laughing, he said.

"Is there a law that says I cannot walk through Keighley without being accused by the police?" he asked the bench.

He described the allegations as "spurious garbage."

Heads roll - the country rocks to the rhythm of the English Revolution. It's all ancient history - the puritan Army, the New Model Army fucks off the gender bending monarchists and claims the King's road as their own, switching to the Government Label. Yeah! - nothing changes - the same ol' shit hits the fans left high and dry on the Cromwell road; levellers, diggers, seekers, quakers and of course the ranters. Abiezer Coppers preaching equality, promiscuity and drug abuse from pulpits and in pubs.
