CONSPIRACY?

Suspicions are growing that a high level conspiracy is behind a wave of recent raids and attacks on the lesbian and gay community in a bid to discredit the campaign to change the gay male age of consent.

At the end of January, sixty-seven police swooped on the Warehouse Sauna in Darlaston and arrested twelve users. There have been similar raids in Manchester and other cities.

On the 1st February the Metropolitan Police's 'Operation Framework' went public with their dawn raids on homes throughout the country, described by the BBC both as 'searching for child pornographers' and 'the uncovering of a paedophile ring', both totally different things, but in the minds of large sections of the public, synonymous with gay men.

'Family Values'

Law reform campaigners are beginning to wonder whether the timing is mere coincidence, or whether they are part of a conspiracy. A conspiracy between Chief Constables, initiated by dissident Officers in the Met aiming to undermine moves being made to eliminate homophobia in the force. A conspiracy with right wing Tories demanding 'family values' and 'back to basics' morality. A conspiracy to thwart a piece of legislation which aims to advance personal freedom and turn that tide of repressive legislation which has succeeded in reversing so many of the gains of the 1960's and '70s.

Conspiracy or not, the decision to change the age of consent law will be made by MPs, and, at the time of going to press, there was still time to influence the way they vote.

How They'll Vote

OUTRIGHT wrote to all forty six MP's in our distribution area, urging them to support 16, and asking how they will vote. Supporting 16 were: Robert Ainsworth (Lab, Coventry NE), Harry Barnes (Lab, Derbys NE), Margaret Beckett (Lab, Derby S), Clive Betts (Lab, Sheffield Attercliffe), Jim Cunningham (Lab, Coventry SE), John Heppell (Lab, Nott'm E), Helen Jackson (Lab, Sheffield Hillsborough), Alan Simpson (Lab, Nott'm S), Paddy Tipping (Lab, Sherwood). Backing 18 were: Richard Alexander (Con, Newark), Richard Body (Con, Boston) and James Lester (Con, Broxtowe). Joe Ashton (Lab, Bassetlaw) and Alan Meale (Lab, Mansfield) sat on the fence and declined to commit themselves. Replies are still coming in.

BOOKSHOP RAID

Mushroom Bookshop, Nottingham, was attacked by a group of fascists on the afternoon of Saturday 15th January. They rampaged through the shop, damaging equipment and wrecking bookshelves, injuring a worker and a customer.

The group responsible are known as 'Blood and Honour', a fascist group closely allied to the British National Party. The incident happened within the space of four minutes. The police later arrested 30 people heading south out of the city.

An eye-witness to the attack told OUTRIGHT "I was standing outside a clothes shop with my daughter, when a member of staff shouted for someone to dial 999. We saw some people dressed like skinheads rushing out of the shop and throwing things back into the shop window."

Mushroom Bookshop has long been a supporter of the lesbian and gay community and this was reflected in the messages of support Mushroom has received from the lesbians and gays. Messages have come from as far afield as New Zealand and Canada.

A demonstration, "Nottingham United against Racism and Fascism" takes place on Saturday, 26th February and includes several local MP's, Trade Unionists, women's and lesbian/gay speakers (see Noticeboard page 4 for details).

PEER SUPPORT

Leicestershire now has the services of a Peer Support Development Worker with the appointment of Geoff Lilley.

Following the dissolution of Leicester Body Positive in 1992 there's been a gap in the co-ordination of HIV peer-support activities.

Geoff, a Geordie, was for many years a health promotion advisor working mainly in sexual health and drug use. His voluntary contributions have included working for Manchester Gay Switchboard, Manchester AIDSline and founding and working for Body Positive North-West.

His role as HIV Peer-Support Development Worker is to liaise with people living with HIV Disease and Service Providers. He also acts as an advocate and broker for the needs and wants of people living with HIV. He hopes to retain un unbiased approach. Throughout his time working and living with the HIV disease he has experienced the isolating effect of having an HIV or AIDS diagnosis, and seen the value of self-help. He's also aware that everyone with the virus has something to offer others in the way of shared experiences.

Geoff welcomes calls from people in Leicestershire who are HIV positive. He can be contacted on 0533-559995 or by letter at 53 Regent Rd, Leicester LE1 6YF.

STEREOTYPES

The Workers' Educational Association are sponsoring a one-day course on 'Sexual Stereotypes and Scapegoats: HIV & AIDS, Syphilis and Sexuality', and a course running over ten consecutive Thursdays on 'Constructing Homosexuality: Beyond the Nature vs Nurture Dead End'. The one-day course is on 26th February, 10.00am to 5pm and the ten-Thursdays' course began on 20th January, 7.30pm-9pm each week. Further details from Kevin Crowe, WEA, 101 Hinckley Road, Leicester (0533) 556614.

STAFFORDSHIRE BI'S

Staffordshire Bisexual Group is being relaunched in February. Founded in the summer of '92, the group welcomes bisexuals and bi-friendly people of other sexualities too. "We have decided to stop meeting in pubs" said Helen "and to meet instead in members' homes. This will distribute meetings more widely instead of being limited to Stoke on Trent and will also make it easier for parents to attend the group: they are welcome to bring their children with them."

Meetings are held on the first Tuesday of every month and discussions will include Coming Out, Monogamy and Non-monogamy, and Parenting. There will also be club outings and trips to Pride, and to the annual Bisexual Conference.

For more information about the group phone South Staffs Friends or North Staffs Lesbian & Gay Switchboard (see Helplines page 8) or write to Staffs Bisexual Group at Box 15, 2b Hope Street, Hanley, Stoke on Trent.

BE OUR VALENTINE

A Valentine Ball at Curzons in Derby on Monday 14th February aims to raise funds to support people affected or infected by HIV/AIDS.

The event is organised by Derby and District HIV/AIDS Support Services. A spokesperson said "Over the past six years this fund has helped several of our members, improving their quality of life. Without the support of the general public at these events, grants of this kind would not be possible."

Admission is £2.50 and the night begins at 8pm and includes disco, karaoke, tombola, bingo and surprises!

LESBIAN APPEAL

Trustees of a bequest from a close lesbian friend who died in 1992 are appealing for information on the support available in the community for aging lesbians. The Trust aims to provide help in this field and wants to know what resources already exist in the way of accommodation, research, bereavement counselling and advice services. Women working in any of these areas or are concerned with the care and support of older lesbians are asked to contact Andrea at PO Box 12, South PDO, Nottingham NG2 1LH.

LIFE IS MOE THE SAME IF YOU'RE GAY

The laws surrounding pensions make it difficult for unmarried couples to plan for retirement. When you are gay, it is not only the law that makes it difficult. It is the misconceptions surrounding intestacy and trusts. In other words, if you think you may ever want a partner to benefit from your pension plan in the event of your death you cannot leave it to chance.

Your independent financial adviser should not only inform you of the costs involved of any particular pension policy, but the size, strength and past performance of the pension office. Financial advice, however, does not stop there.

To us, getting it right seems surprisingly simple. We do not charge and our service is confidential.

LEMONAID SPARKLES

LemonAid raised £3,600, reports Nottingham AIDS Information Project. The week's events for World AIDS Day culminated in a benefit at the city's Old Vic Tavern for which all 400 tickets were already sold out before the night. NAIP has thanked everyone who contributed to LemonAid in one way or another, and has put the money into the Captain's Fund, which assists people with HIV-/AIDS. Plans are already underway for an even fizzier event in '94.

LESBIANS UNCLOTHED

The Beeb begins a new series of Without Walls on 2 on Tuesdays from 15th February. The series includes an examination by American academic Camille Paglia of sexual symbols by tracing the history of lesbian status and identity.

Camille Paglia takes a dim view of lesbians, believing them driven by a nesting instinct, sexually unadventurous, devoid of humour and intellectually inert. Yet lesbianism is now making its way into the fashionable mainstream of drama, sport, and Country and Western. Paglia explains her own seemingly contradictory views and traces the cultural history of lesbianism from Sappho to the present day.

GIMME SHELTER!

A song by Ralph McTell made the pop charts one mid-winter back in the late 70's, called 'The Streets of London', which briefly raised the issue of homelessness around Xmas time in the Capital.

But these days you need travel no further than your own main street to witness the grim reality for some people. OUT-RIGHT visited Shelter in Nottingham recently and spoke to Tim Lunn and Tracy Smith, Joint coordinators, (pictured), about the importance of homelessness as an issue facing more and more lesbians, gay men and bisexual people living in Central England.

In 1992/3 Shelter/Notts Homeless Action dealt with 7,331 homelessness and housing problems from their housing aid centres in Nottingham and Mansfield and through their outreach advice sessions.

Currently, potentially homeless families, who often include undeclared lesbian parents, and single people have some legal rights, qualifying under present homelessness legislation for rehousing by the local council. Nottingham City Council has proved willing to look at applications from young single people, in extreme circumstances, where someone might for example be black and gay, and accepted their housing need as a priority.

"Housing is a critical issue for everyone but for lesbians, gay men and bisexual people there are particular needs and issues which are often ignored. Home has traditionally been seen as somewhere that should be safe and secure; somewhere that helps give meaning and purpose to life generally, where chosen roots can be established. Even if you are unwaged it is possible to have some quality of life if your living situation is reasonably secure".

But if new proposals become law under this Conservative government, all this will change. Homeless families and single people will have to literally demonstrate that they are homeless by sleeping on the steps of town halls up and down the land, before any action can even be considered by local councils. Even before the ink is dry, entitlement to permanent housing as of right, would be removed.

Both Tim and Tracy see this piece of new legislation as a major reversal of social policy, and although presented as an issue about 'homeless families', has serious implications for the lesbian, gay and bisexual communities.

"We are very keen that lesbians and gay men in Notts. should feel comfortable and free to use the services we provide. That last row with an ultimatum to leave or a fear of remaining at home, is an experience that most lesbians and gay men would have had when first leaving the parental home under a cloud. So when someone comes in and says to Tracy and Tim, 'You don't know what it's like...', they may just have some idea as they are both 'out' as a lesbian and a gay man in their workplace.

You can contact SHELTER/NOTTS HOMELESS ACTION on (0602) 480479 at Nottingham Housing Aid Centre, 38 Heathcote St, Nottingham and in Mansfield at Mansfield Housing Aid.

Ghettoblaster

Admittedly, released a while now but still worth bringing to attention is 'Guerilla In Dub' - a nine track mash-up of previous releases on Guerilla Records, one of the prime movers of the dance scene. It's an exhilarating exploration of the fusion of '90s techno know-how and the advancement of dance music with '70s and '80s dub vendors such as Scientist, King Tubby & Princes Far-I & Jammy. This selection surpasses mere cop-out remixes, cutting up and cutting out excesses until each one undergoes a transfusion and transformation where the bass kicks in through the chest, grabs you by the spine and shakes you till your tabs rattle just as the treble jabs in like hot needles being inserted into your scalp to totally finish you off. Not everyone's cuppa, but truly Dub House Disco.

Sandra) laid over the same plinky plunky chugging backbeat. The brains (or lack of 'em) behind Enigma obviously thinks the world is ready for another dose of anaesthetic Enya-esque excursions (Oooh, Vicar!) but no, no, no! Once bitten, twice shy. It hardly inspires you to don an old grey blanket, firmly grasp an eight inch altar candle and troll moaning round a churchyard at midnight (though on a hot August night I can be tempted). Well, it's alright, I s'pose, but I'd hate to be trapped in a lift with it playing!

Torch & Twang

Traditionally, Country & Western has had a straaaange existence, half being big, sweaty diesel-on-the-rocks drinkin' he men (calm down, gal) whilst t'other is a kinda mumsy-but-glitzy Cinderella figure. Amply fitting into the latter category & strutting into town comes good ol' Dolly Parton and her down home ladies Loretta Lynn & Tammy Wy-nette, dishing up a slice of home-made pie called 'Honky Tonk Angels'. A companion album to 1987's 'Trio', this is a rootin' tootin' spur-janglin' chap-covered thigh slappin' rhinestone encrusted harmonious treat. Although not as deliciously light as the Parton/Ronstadt/Harris threesome, it appears played more for laughs, almost parodying the kitsch S&M, sorry, C&W genre which spawned this. The choice of material could've been better, but the sheer tackiness of grafting 'Special Guest Star' Patsy Cline onto 'Lovesick Blues' and the outrageous rollcall of dead C&W stars on 'Last Night I Dreamed of a Hillbilly Heaven' makes up for the rest.

HOUNDED FROM HOME

Tim Blades was just 17 when his world fell apart, following a prosecution under the Sexual Offences Act, after consenting sex with an 18 year old man. Now 21, Tim talks to OUTRIGHT about the upheaval it caused in his life, living in a small town and coming from a strict Christian family.

"I knew I was gay when I was 14; at around 15 I remember a discussion about Aids in the chemistry lab at school. The teacher made it plain that people should be locked up for being gay. This teacher was talking about me!

"My first sexual experience was at 17, when I had sex with an 18 year old man, but unknown to me, between our first and second meeting his parents had found out and the police were waiting and arrested me on a gross indecency charge.

"I was doing 'A' levels at time and had aspirations to be a Chartered Surveyor. I wanted to fight the prosecution but was advised against doing so by the Solicitor who turned out to be homophobic. He soon made it clear he was not really interested in my case at all.

"When I refused to see a psychiatrist the court went for a Conditional Discharge, pleasing my parents who thought I had got off lightly, but leaving me with a criminal record. Somehow the other lad, who was a year older than me, managed to persuade the Court that he had been 'coerced' into having sex against his will.

"My sole support throughout this awful time were a couple of local gay activists in my home town and people from a disco run by Lincoln Gay Switchboard.

"Home became unliveable for me as my parents believed being gay was sinful. I found a caravan to live in for a time. Short of money, I answered a personal ad in the Pink Paper. This man offered accommodation with strings and I ended up

STONEWALL BREAKS -GAY MEN TOGETHER

Spend a residential weekend with a difference, in Derbyshire Peak District with twenty-seven other gay men.

We don't often have the opportunity to spend time together with other gay men of all ages and be ourselves in pleasant gay-safe surroundings. For many people, making new friends can be difficult and whilst gay 'package' holidays may offer a bit of escapism they are less likely to provide continuing, supportive friendships. We never thought that our weekend break would be so popular. We had to put on a second to cope with the overflow, and that soon filled. The Weekend breaks are 11th-13th February and 4th-6th March, sliding scale from £33 to £55. However, there are often last-minute cancellations so it is worth phoning to see the state of play (0602) 780124. If you prefer, write to: PO Box 4, West PDO, Nottingham, NG7 2DJ.

living with him for several months and through an escort agency I became involved in renting for several months, before deciding to move back to the Midlands.

"Back in Nottingham eventually, following a period sleeping rough, I ended up in one of the Macedon Trust houses. The staff were very good and helped me to get on my feet again. I stayed there for three months until I was hassled by an anti-gay resident, so I left. Eventually, I ended up in Nottingham where I met my present partner. During the last two years I have gradually built up new friendships and begun to regain my confidence but it was a blot on my teenage years.

"Britain's Age of Consent laws are the most backward in Europe. Its absurd that a 16 year old can put his life on the line in the armed forces, be responsible for his debts, can work and live independently, and be free to have a sexual relationship with someone of the opposite sex, but not with someone of the same sex. Change is long overdue."

ACCENTS

Most Outright readers live in cities, no more than a mile or two from a gay pub and club, and it sometimes comes as a surprise to city dwellers to discover a thriving social scene in smaller towns and villages.

This month we hear from Brian and the 'Accents' gay men's group in Chesterfield.

"In the lead up to Christmas about six nice dinner parties developed when pals phoned, and I steered them to a favourite moorland pub for a bar meal. Marsden's Bar was popular too, with its usual welcoming atmosphere.

"The snow quietened the few days after Christmas, with our village nearly cut off. I cancelled the group 'Open House' on 28th December but by the evening the snow had cleared and we had about a dozen turn out for a pleasant evening.

"The Group New Year Party was again a success, with much fun and frolics and a professional stripper 'Mystery 1' for good measure. The event started at 6pm on New Years's Eve - there were ten still present for breakfast - and finished some twenty four hours later when a somewhat shattered 'Mystery 1" left for his next appointment in Derby!

"We continue to meet on Tuesday evenings and extend a warm welcome to gay men from far and wide. I never fail to get pleasure from a smiling face when a new guy finds his feet through our group. You just never know how much you may be changing the world for someone."

The group meets weekly on Tuesdays at 8.30pm at Marsden's Bar, Marsden Street, Chesterfield. For more details phone Brian on 0773-833142.
