DEATH OF AIDS CO-ORDINATOR

Hundreds of people from around the East Midlands, attended the funeral of Leicestershire's Aids Co-ordinator, Warren Wiesner, who died peacefully at his home, aged 38, of an HIV related illness. His partner of ten years, Anthony Blundell, was at his side along with friends and family members.

Best known for his AIDS work, and the driving force behind most of the County's nationally respected HIV and Sexual Health services, he was also a very public champion for Lesbian and Gay Equality sitting on various statutory and voluntary committees in the County. Warren was AIDS co-ordinator for Leicester City Council before becoming Leicestershire Health's AIDS Co-ordinator in 1990.

Over five hundred people from all sections of the communities, including civic dignitaries, attended Warren's funeral on the 4th June. His coffin was carried on a horse-drawn carriage from his home, decorated with pink balloons, through Leicester city centre to his funeral service at Leicester Place gay club where representatives from all spheres of his life paid tribute to his work and his personal qualities. Following the service, his coffin was carried aloft by six lesbian friends to the waiting carriage.

Over forty cars and a double-decker bus, all festooned with pink balloons, followed the horse-drawn carriage to Gilroes Cemetery Chapel, halting the traffic. Over 150 people silently filed passed his coffin, placing single roses on it, to the strains of "Stay With Me" and then the balloons were released.

KANDY KISSES

Several members of the all-women band, Atomic Kandy, were injured when their van collided with another vehicle on the way back to Nottingham from Pride, as we went to press. It is believed no one was seriously injured. Atomic Kandy had been performing on the main stage at Brockwell Park to a 'Pride audience of 160,000.

Meanwhile Outright has been besieged with letters of appreciation from panting women. They've certainly had a lot of offers, several of them unprintable!

Atomic Kandy's next public performances are at Cello's disco at the Old Vic on Saturday 30th July where their new record release, 'Don't Wanna Stop' will be available. So - Jayne, Sharon, Lianna, and all the other frustrated girlies who wrote to us - now you know!

EDWINA'S CHANCES SCRAMBLED

Edwina Currie, the Tory MP for South Derbyshire, who spearheaded the drive to equalize the gay age of consent earlier this year, has failed in her bid to become a member of the European Parliament. Standing in the Tory-held seat of Bedfordshire and Milton Keynes, Currie was defeated by over 33,000 votes as Labour's Eryl McNally romped to victory. Currie blamed her defeat on government tax policies.

Having made it clear she would not stand for re-election to the House of Commons if she won a Strasbourg seat, Currie is now likely to concentrate her efforts on holding her Derbyshire South seat.

LAST LESBIAN LONDON

The 25th issue of the magazine, Lesbian London is its last. It was launched in January 1992 and was the first free lesbian magazine to be distributed in London. It showed that such a publication could be successful. Now with three lesbian titles available nationally (Lip, Shebang and Diva), it was increasingly difficult to secure advertising revenue, essential to the paper's survival. Two of its competitors Shebang and Diva are backed by the resources of the Pink Paper and Gay Times. Lip struggles womanfully on as the only independent lesbian magazine, but has a cover price. Lesbian London demonstrated clearly that there is a market for a free lesbian magazine in London, particularly one that is not tied editorially to another paper.

HELPING STUDENTS LEARN

Many groups have helped students learn about the Voluntary Sector over the past year. Now the Nottingham Council for Voluntary Service would like to talk about how to make it even better! The Open Meeting is a chance for those who have been involved to recognise their achievements and for new people to join them, say NCVS. They believe the University of Nottingham are the only university in the country to offer social work students the opportunity to understand the huge contribution the Voluntary Sector makes. This is a good opportunity for you and your organisation to influence future social workers which will help your work in the future!

The meeting takes place on the 5th July at 1.30pm at the Indian Community Centre, Rawson Street, New Basford, (near Shipstones Brewery). Car parking. Buses 81, 82, 83, 84, 85 from bus stops in Market Square by Lloyds cashpoint. Ring for a map. There is wheelchair access, adapted toilets and a hearing loop system. ## OBITUARY - WARREN WIESNER 1955 - 1994

Warren Wiesner was perhaps best known for his HIV work. He began working as a Volunteer in 1980 with Leicester Lesbian and Gayline, collecting information about the virus and holding free training sessions for health workers and anyone else who would listen!

He was the sole founder member of Leicester Body Positive, a founder of the Black HIV and AIDS Forum, and a founder of Leicestershire AIDS Support Services (LASS). His role in the early development of HIV services in Leicestershire was pivotal. Renowned for his intelligence, warmth and charm he forged strong partnerships between diverse communities and the impact of his vision, dedication and methods of work can be seen in the many agencies he was involved with across the county.

As a proud Gay Man he was one of Leicester Lesbian and Gay Resource Centre's most active volunteers, transforming it from 'Gayline,' the relatively small organisation in a private house, to having City Centre premises, a coffee-bar, over 20 Volunteers, and over 4,000 calls a year. A born communicator, he made many media appearances including the first ever Community Service Announcement in this country for a Lesbian and Gay organisation in 1982.

For three years (1984-1987) he was Fundraising and Publicity Officer for International Voluntary Service (IVS), and took part in numerous activities including helping to maintain the museum at Auschwitz and building an air raid shelter in a mixed Arab/Jewish village in Palestine/Israel.

With his humour, honesty and charisma he inspired many hundreds of people. Tributes to his style, his sense of humour, his joie de vivre, his honesty, sensitivity, passion, vision and unceasing dedication and hard work have been flooding in to LASS since the news of his death. His legacy, including networks of diverse people working in partnerships towards common aims, is a testament to his life's work.

The GAI Column

Gay and Bisexual AIDS and Health Initiative

The most important message of safer sex is: use condoms and lube when you fuck. The second message is: use strong condoms (Durex Ultra and Extra Strong, Mates Superstrong and H.T. Specials) and a water-based lube because oil rots rubber. Men getting condoms free from the Health Shop or the GAI Project leaflets on the scene will get the right ones, but many men buy their condoms (strange but true) from chemists. The GAI Project went undercover to find out how informed Nottingham's rubber retailers are about gay sex.

All the chemists we visited had a suitable brand of condoms on display and all (bar one) had lubricant near them. Boots in the Victoria Centre had bumper twelve packs of Mates Superstrong right next to tubes of K.Y. It could almost have been done on purpose.

The problem arose when we said we were gay and asked which brand we were to use. Most staff were friendly (though some very surprised) but didn't really have any answers. In Glasshouse Street Chemist, the manager suggested helpfully: "One of your gay helplines could tell you that." At the Co-op on Upper Parliament Street, the pharmacist recommended the ribbed Arousers because they're "strongest" (which they're not). The Arouser is the one with a red sports car on the front - like a tacky Kay's Catalogue duvet cover for boys. So far not one mention of lube.

The clear winner was Nero's local chemist in Market Square on the corner of St. James Street. The assistant didn't know but went to ask. She returned to tell us that we wanted Durex Extra Strong. At this point a man in a suit scurried out of the back, deposited a tube of KY on the till and muttered: "They want this as well"... Ten out of ten for content but no marks for style, I'm afraid.

Our favourite responses came from Boots in the Broadmarsh and Victoria Centres. At both places the assistants didn't know. At the Vicky Centre, she was very helpful, asking three other staff until a pharmacist came to talk to us. At Broadmarsh the assistant also fetched the pharmacist but then went into a fit of giggles before teetering away to cling to her pal and have another laugh. However, at both places the pharmacists did themselves out of business by suggesting the Health Shop -well, what do you know?

The GAI Project is based at the Health Shop, Broad Street, Nottingham, NG1 3AL. (0602) 475414.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Lesbian, Gay and Bisexual people have been working on a Training course for heterosexual community workers over 2 years. This group needs volunteers to join them to help plan, develop and fund a 2 days course for Lesbian, Gay and Bisexual workers. It is hoped that the information from the initial series can be fed into these two days. They will pay appropriate travel expenses to low and unwaged workers, as well as care costs. All LGB's welcome - please contact Chris Pereira or Irene Nottingham Community Work Training Group - (0602) 476714.

LIFE IS NOT THE SAME IF YOU'RE GAY

The laws surrounding pensions make it difficult for unmarried couples to plan for retirement. When you are gay, it is not only the law that makes it difficult. It is the misconceptions surrounding intestacy and trusts. In other words, if you think you may ever want a partner to benefit from your pension plan in the event of your death you cannot leave it to chance.

Your independent financial adviser should not only inform you of the costs involved of any particular pension policy, but the size, strength and past performance of the pension office. Financial advice, however, does not stop there.

To us, getting it right seems surprisingly simple. We do not charge and our service is confidential.

150 YEARS OF CO-OPERATION - 1994

1994 marks the 150th anniversary of the founding of the Rochdale Pioneers, from which a worldwide movement began. Today there are co-operatives of many kinds in most countries of the world with a membership of hundreds of millions. Outright joins the celebrations with articles about a few co-ops in central England.

THE BIG BREAK

Best known for organising coaches to 'Pride, Nottingham's OUT HOUSE Project has been raising funds for a community centre for gays, lesbians and bisexuals since 1985. Slowly the fund began to grow until there was £15,000 in the bank, but still the goal seemed as far away as ever. Then, in April this year, they had their big break. An anonymous donor gave them £40,000.

Now The OUT HOUSE, as the centre will be known, is clearly on the horizon. A business plan has been drawn up, premises have been inspected, and plans are under way to recruit workers for a full-time coffee shop. 1995 marks their 10th anniversary and hopes are high that this will be the year The OUT HOUSE finally opens. The OUT HOUSE will contain a full-time coffee shop, space for performances, meetings and social events, creche and library, and permanent space for the city's gay and lesbian helplines.

The OUT HOUSE Project is a co-operative society with open membership. Anyone can join for a minimum payment of £3 plus a purchase of at least one £1 Loan Unit. Like all co-ops it operates on democratic principles: one member one vote, regular meetings, committee elected by the membership. The OUT HOUSE Project was set up with the help of the Notts Co-operative Development Agency and its rules have been approved by the Registrar of Friendly Societies.

Sid Navid - handling the business plan

The OUT HOUSE Project welcomes new members. To register as a member and receive your member's pack send a cheque/postal order for at least £4 to The OUT HOUSE Project, Box 11, 118 Mansfield Road, Nottingham, NG1 3HL.

FIRST OUT!

When London's First Out coffee shop opened in 1986 it broke new ground. Here was a coffee shop and restaurant run by and for gays and lesbians, and run co-operatively too. With funding from individuals, local authority and co-op sources, it was the first successful lesbian and gay co-op to open up in Britain.

First Out is still going strong at St Giles Street, at the foot of Centre Point. It hasn't all been easy, but it's been exciting and fulfilling as Liz Gorden told Outright.

"We knew there was a need for a coffee-shop run by and for

The Rainbow Flag

This year's 'Pride' was ablaze with the colours of the rainbow flag, chosen to represent diversity and unity, and rapidly becoming the international symbol of the lesbian and gay movement.

For much the same reason the rainbow flag was adopted as the symbol of the International Co-operative Alliance, founded in 1895 as the international organisation of Co-operators.

Every year the Co-operative movement through the world celebrates International Co-operative Day on the first Saturday in July.

NAFF CO-OP

Outright is published by a worker co-op called Naff Co-op Ltd. Why the name? Your guess is as good as ours!

Set up in 1990, Outright begins its second half century with this edition. Run on an unwaged and non-profit basis we aim to provide a community service to our readers. We thank all our advertisers for their financial support over the years, and all our readers. We currently distribute 4,000 copies a month throughout the central England region.

lesbians and gays and there was nothing like it in London at the time. Amsterdam had its popular coffee shops, so why shouldn't we? A group of people got together and set up The First Out Coffee Shop Project and got it registered as a worker co-op. That was in 1986."

Today 'First Out' is busy as ever. Liz stops for a moment to speak to another member of the co-op serving behind the bar, the bar itself being quite a recent development.

How else has 'First Out' developed since 1986 we asked. "We now have a balanced membership of two men and two women working full time and ten working part time. Working co-operatively was not always easy and decision making was sometimes difficult. Unlike a conventional business there is no-one 'in charge' to give orders. We had to discover how to make decisions and carry them out effectively. That was a challenge and I think we've met it very well."

"We also started without any capital of our own. We had to borrow from friends and relatives, and take out commercial loans. The interests payments have been a big burden, but now that we're coming to the end of repayments we can see the way ahead. When you think how many conventional businesses with no capital problems have gone down in the past decade, our success has been even more remarkable. When some of our loans are repaid in 1995 we intend to make major improvements to the building to make 'First Out' even more attractive for our customers."

'First Out' can be found near Tottenham Court and Holborn tube stations, in St Giles Street. It is open seven days a week, Monday-Saturday 10am-11pm and Sunday 12-10.30pm. Upstairs there's a cafe and downstairs there is a bar. Next time you're in London why not try it out for yourself.

FOR POSITIVE CHANGE

So let's rejoice that, against the odds of the bleak 1990's, some have survived and flourished, not by killing off rivals, but by meeting the needs of us fringe people who yearn to be exposed to the vast literature that isn't plugged in the weekend papers.

Unlike your local branch of the multiples, busily generating income for far-away shareholders, alternative bookshops are outposts of our kind of civilisation.

150 YEARS OF CO-OPERATION - 1994

Co-operation is about ways of relating to other people as much as about legal structures. Co-operation is good practice and good business.

There are many different kinds of co-ops - consumer, worker, housing, agricultural and credit unions. All the advertisers on pages 6 & 7 and Anvil Press on page 8 are co-ops of one kind or another. Here's to the next 150 years!

Colin and John of Anvil Press

ANVIL PRESS

Co-operatives have long been popular among printers. Skilled workers with the opportunity to talk and discuss in the workplace were among the earliest supporters of the rights to free expression, the abolition of taxes on newsprint designed to prevent popular access to reading material. Many of them went to prison to defend the right to publish, print and read what the ruling class of the time considered subversive. Printers were naturally among the pioneers of co-operative print workshops in the late nineteenth century.

Today there are about one hundred printing and publishing co-ops in the UK. Anvil Press in Derby is one of them. Created by two mine workers made redundant in 1987, they set up a print shop in an old blacksmith's shop in Walton-on-Trent, hence the name Anvil. With the expansion of the business they moved to larger premises in Nottingham Road, Derby where they can be found today. Anvil Press are the printers of both Outright and Leicester's Pink Voice.

THE VOLUNTARY SECTOR AND STUDENT TRAINING

Are you interested in helping students learn about the Voluntary Sector?

Students on the University of Nottingham Social Work course need you.

They will learn best if a wide range of people in the Voluntary Sector take part. To reflect the diversity and strength of the Voluntary Sector, we are particularly encouraging people from the following groups to apply, as they have been under-represented so far: Black groups, Lesbian, gay and bisexual groups, women's groups, groups for people with disabilities, rural groups, people from under funded organisations or those who do not employ a worker.

We need: In total 7 people to be facilitators to join with a co-ordinator to help a small group of second year social work students learn about the Voluntary Sector between October '94 and February '95.

1 Person to do the introductory session in October over a month.

1 person to do each of the following headings over 2 weeks:

- Values and anti-oppressive practice
- Understanding the nature of the Voluntary Sector
- Management issues
- Personal skills and motivation
- Empowerment
- Relationships with other organisations

It involves:

- * Choosing one of the topics which you have particular experience in.
- * To act as a facilitator on this topic you would introduce the topic at the beginning, act as a consultant to be contacted as necessary during the fortnight or a month and help pull the learning together at the end.

You do not need previous experience as a facilitator in this area. You may be a worker or user of services. You could do it on your own or with another person. You will also be working with a co-ordinator throughout.

There will be a planning and preparation day to help you and 2 meetings of all facilitators.

Money

You will be paid for up to 14 hours work at £14 an hour, including the planning day and 2 facilitators' meetings. The money must be paid to your organisation not to an individual unless that person is self-employed

For more information on how to apply or to talk this over please contact:

Pauline Dorey or Christine Cutland, NCVS, 33 Mansfield Road, Nottingham, NG1 3FB Telephone: 0602 413 279.

Bill Badham, The Family Play Centre, 8 Steadfold Close, Crabtree, Nottingham, NG6 8AX Telephone: 0602 277992.

Applications by letter or tape need to be in by Thursday July 14th 1994.

ANOTHER TIME, ANOTHER PLACE

Is it dissatisfaction with life in the '90's which prompts record companies to rewind to preceding decades, glamorise those years and dress them up in a squeaky clean, memory-friendly parcel? Alongside other recent retro compilations stands 'The Ultimate '80's Album', which could be done under the Trade Description Act as it lands far short of the mark. It gathers together those songs which are the aural equivalent of certain smells evoking certain memories (y'know, fish & chips, cowslips, fresh lard, amyl nitrate, sweat-covered leather pulling tightly..oh, sorry) as you travel life's oft unpredictable road through fun, despair, love and death. To recall those good times/bad times are the big, big hits (Queen & Bowie, Culture Club), the not-so big, big (The Jam, Dexy's), the sublime (Soft Cell), the ridiculous (Meatloaf) and the downright crap (Foreigner, Dire Straits). So what do these shrink-wrapped memory banks achieve apart from £££'s to the record company band accounts? Is it like 'Carwash' disco revival nights where you can bop till yer drawers drop, ooh-ing and aah-ing with misty-eyed nostalgia, does it provoke optimistic thoughts that, despite whatever, things - as the song says - can only get better, or was music really better then? Who cares?! Despite the lack of Kajagoo-goo, Bros., Madonna, Acid House, Adam Ant, Shakin' Stevens

& other '80's icons, this set will whisk you back pronto. Programme in the faves, press play and troll down Memory Lane. Ten years can seem a long time!

UNEASY LISTENING

When the chips are down, spikey five-leaved echomaniacs The Orb are always guaranteed to chuck a spam fritter in the works. The mini-album 'Pomme Fritz' (their spelling) should bridge the gap and satiate their grooving tribe of mind expansion devotees who eagerly await their next full course set. It's not an easy albumette to get into, this six-track whirling excursion beyond the realms of sub-sonic bass awareness and will disappoint and re-alienate the nouveau chart-style Orb R Us kids with its (big breath) uncompromising schizophrenic cacophony of neo-experimentalist soundclashes (what's she on?). Well, I think so, anyway. The dastardly duo dip, rip & slip, crash, splash & smash their way through cut ups and cut outs, beginning quite delicately with the Durutti Columesque title track but...blam! Listening to the rest could seriously unhinge your mind...if you're lucky. With this Nightmare On Bad Trip Street, Th' Orb prove again that they are the loop guru meat & two veg in the hallucinogenic crockpot.

ROTHERGAYS

A new support and social group for gays and lesbians in the Rotherham area has just got off the ground. The group aims to forge links between other local and national groups and organisations as well as to make straights aware of the organisation.

Rothergays are contactable on (0709) 820304 (Mondays & Wednesdays, 7-10pm), or by writing to 'Rothergays', c/o CVS, 5 Moorgate Road, Rotherham, South Yorkshire, S60 2EN.

SHEFFIELD WOMEN CELEBRATE

Women across Sheffield celebrated the opening of a unique club in the City Centre last month when Helen Jackson MP officially opened Sheffield Women's Cultural Club, the first non-profit making women's club in the country. Following the opening, two women abseiled down the outside of the building.

Open to all women to come and enjoy a chat, a drink and something to eat in a safe environment, the Club, which is in the city's Cultural Industries Quarter, already boasts over 1,000 members. The Club was opened after three years of fund raising by a dedicated band of supporters who raised over £30,000 putting on events ranging from tea dances to auctions. The cash, boosted by money from Sheffield City Council, paid for conversion work.

The Club is open seven days a week from 11am to 11pm. Regular entertainment is organised, including bingo and quiz nights. Children are welcome until 8pm. The Club can be contacted on (0742) 721866

NOTTS OPEN DAY

Following on from the success of last November's young Lesbian, Gay and Bisexual events day at Base 51, The Nottinghamshire Lesbian, Bisexual and Gay Youth Coalition were equally successful with their second event, again at Base 51 last month.

Participants enjoyed a range of workshop activities including abseiling, self-defence, sexual health, Bisexuality awareness, relaxation and meditation etc., as well as two free meals and free refreshments throughout the day. Many thanks to the Creche workers and Counsellors. Watch Outright for details of future events.
